I Am
The Tree
Of Love
I am the light
That Christmas-tide
Brings. I am ever green
My limbs are yearning to Bear the burden of gifts of Noel. I live in the high, open Spaces where God smiles brightest on the world, where his light
Keeps the memory of Christ's birth
Refreshed. Years ago men fought and Knew no time to think of the Gentle
One who spoke of Love. And then one
Night a star beamed in the east and filled
Me with a sweet grace. My soul quivered,
And I was born again. And now I come
With the Christmas time to remind you of Love—Love, that fades, but lives again. I am
But a dream unless you know me. I wish
To ache under the burden of love gifts.
Yes, I am ever green; I live forever, but
You do not know me always. I ask
You to remember the little ones
Whom Love has passed when some Forget me. I pray the light that Never dies shall flame out again
In your heart. For this I live.
For this I ask. I wish,
To live and serve.
I am
Love
Hope
Life
I am the Tree of Love.

The Bishop's Christmas Message

Many families will be separated this Christmas and in many homes there will be vacant places that cannot be filled. It is better that we make this sacrifice now in order that we may enjoy our future Christmases together.

We are shaping a new world. Whether that world will be a better one than we have known, lies in the future. It is our hope that it will be.

Every sincere Christian knows the great difficulties that are in the way because it will be a world shaped by the instruments of war. Yet in this world being born the Christian must live and share the light of the Christian message. Our attitude today will have a part in the shaping of tomorrow.

"Peace on Earth" did not come first in the Angels song; what came first was "Glory to God". We must first acknowledge Him not with perfunctory acquiescence, but with a deliberate and sincere submission to Him of our thoughts, desires, ambitions, hopes, purposes, and policies—in short, with all our worship.

The Christmas Message for nineteen centuries has been "ON EARTH PEACE". But we ask, "Where shall we find peace today?"

There was little peace in Bethlehem 1900 years ago. Multitudes could see no hope for the world in the Infant that reposed in lowly state; only angels knew the meaning of that event and that peace that came with His birth. Today only those who remember the significance of Christ's birth, can have assurance of Peace amidst the turmoil of the world.

When men of good will are more numerous than men of ill will, then those things that make for wars will vanish and peace will cover the earth. When good will is lacking even God cannot establish a just peace.

As we kneel this Christmas in silence before God's Altar, may we ask God to reveal to us all more clearly the meaning of human brotherhood, and bestow upon the world a just and durable peace.

If we pray for peace, we need not expect God's answer to take the form of a gift of more power to subdue aggressors, nor more cleverness in negotiating peace terms. What we can expect is that God will send into our hearts the spirit of Christ the Prince of Peace.

God bless you all this Holy Season and may His Peace which came into the world with our Saviour's birth fill your hearts to overflowing.

Archbishop Dies

It is impossible to exaggerate the loss sustained by the Church and the world by the death of William Temple, the Archbishop of Canterbury. More than any man in Christendom he stood for international collaboration based upon economic justice for the masses of the people throughout the world. He supported his contentions as one of the world's foremost scholars, not alone in the field of theology where he was a recognized expert, but also in the fields of sociology and economics where he was equally eminent... a rare combination. Add to this the fact that he held the highest position the Anglican Church has to offer, as well as being the leader of the unity movement as the president of the World Council of Churches, and one may begin to sense the tremendous loss that is felt by all those who counted upon his leadership in the troublesome days that lie ahead. He was indeed an indispensable man.

Midnight Christmas Services Assured

General Richardson has assured the Bishop that the islands will be able to observe Christmas Eve midnight services this year. We know this will gladden the hearts of many, for our midnight services always mean much to us. We hope all churches throughout the diocese will plan Holy Communion services for Christmas eve.

Diocese 100%

By November 20th every parish, mission and institution in the District of Honolulu had paid their Mission Quota and Diocesan Assessment in full for 1944.

The Bishop wishes to commend our laity and clergy, and especially the treasurers, for making this possible. It demonstrates the spirit of the District and with a united determination to "Press on the Kingdom."

Mark This Date on Your Calendar

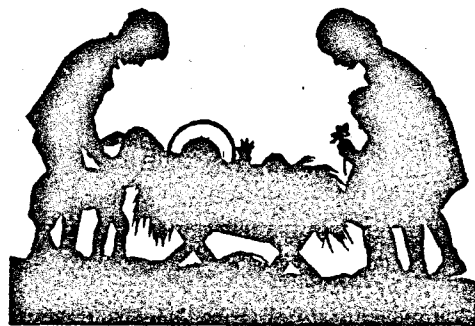

A little early to remind you of this, with Christmas not even over, but January 21st is the day scheduled for our Convocation. It comes early this year, so we want you to be making plans for it. Parochial reports for 1944 should be sent to the Diocesan Office by January 15th so that they may be in readiness for this.

New Army and Navy Commission Worker

The Reverend Gordon Reese, who for the past three years has been Executive Secretary of the Army and Navy work in the Diocese of Texas, is being loaned to the District of Honolulu for six months. He brings with him a great wealth of experience, having ministered to our men and women in the service in many army camps and naval stations. He will be available to assist all our clergy and congregations in the District with their work and programs for service personnel. We are happy to welcome the Reverend Mr. Reese to Hawaii and will give him our united support in his work. We are grateful to our Army and Navy Commission for making it possible to have Mr. Reese with us.

Hawaii Today

Mr. Alfred Dupont, with the Navy in Honolulu, has made a most artistic cover for our folder "Hawaii Today". This will be sent to National Council to be used in the literature they will circulate throughout the Church in regard to our work in Hawaii. Mr. Dupont made the posters for the Community Chest drive and is an artist with unusual ability. His work for our diocese is not only extremely artistic, but tells by means of the brush what the challenge is that presents itself to the churches in Hawaii. He would accept no remuneration for his time and work, but we want him to know that we are extremely grateful for this lovely contribution.

Gifts

By E. S. Martin

The Imperial Child to whom the wise men brought

Their gifts and worshiped in His lowly nest,

Gave no gift back. It was Himself they sought,

And finding Him were sated in their quest.

Their gifts, not expectations, but their joy expressed.

Now was the world's long yearning satisfied!

Now was the prize long waited for possessed!

Their gifts meant love, unmarred by lust or pride.

Be it so with ours: our aim, not debts to pay,

Nor any recompense save love to win.

Nor any grosser feeling to convey Than brought the wise men's gifts to Bethlehem's inn.

Those rate we best that no return afford

Save the pure sense of having found our Lord.

The Reverend Edmund L. Souder to Come to Honolulu

It is with a feeling of rejoicing that the Sisters of the St. Andrew's Priory have received the news that The Rev. Mr. Souder will come to them as their Chaplain after the first of the year, for they knew him in China, when serving there.

The Rev. Mr. Souder, now rector of St. Michael and All Angels Church, Avondale, Cincinnati, Ohio, will also become priest in charge of St. Mary's and St. Mark's Church, Honolulu.

He spent 25 years in missionary work in China and the Philippines and returned to the mainland in 1937. While in China he served as priest at St. Michael and All Angels, Wuchang, St. John's Church in Hankow, at St. Paul's Divinity School, Central China College and Chapel of the Resurrection, Wuchang. While in the Philippines he served in the Missionary District of Baguio and Sagada. In 1930 he returned to China, serving four years at St. John the Baptist Church in Hankow and then went to Ichang, China for one year before going to the mainland.

He graduated from Harvard in 1910, receiving his BA at that time. He received his MA from Columbia University in 1913. He was ordained priest in 1913 by The Rt. Rev. Philip Rhinelander. He was married to Martha Redwood Waddill of Norfolk, Virginia, in 1916. They have a son, Edmund, who is a Blue network correspondent in Chungking, another son, Cabell W. Souder, is a quartermaster second class, U. S. Coast Guard at Treasure Island, and a daughter, Mrs. T. S. Jones of Bucyrus, Ohio. Mr. and Mrs. Souder will come alone to their new post. We shall eagerly await their arrival.

Iolani School Pays Tribute To Pearl Harbor Heroes

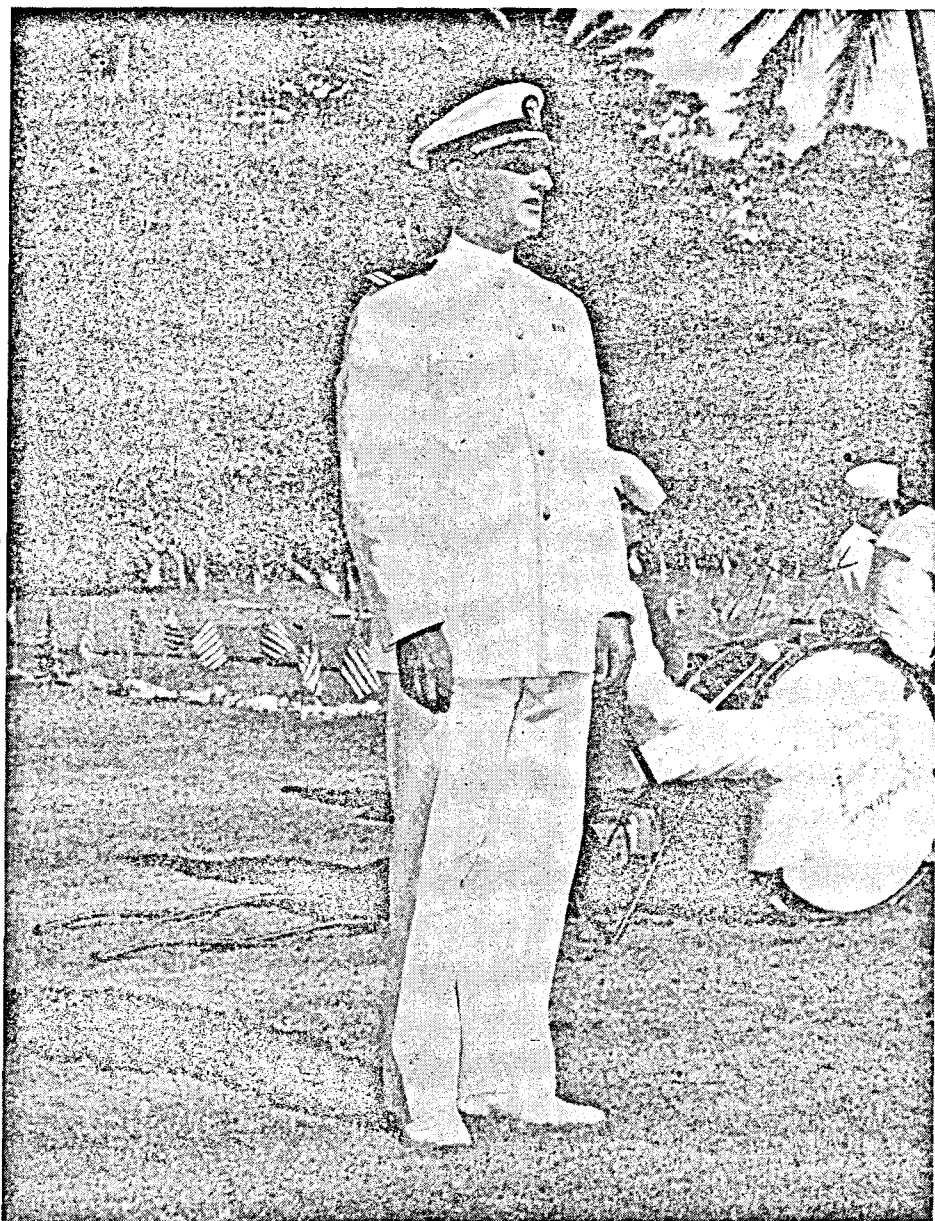

Iolani School observed Navy Day, October 27th, with special memorial services at Nuuanu cemetery, honoring the memory of the service men who lost their lives in the attack on Pearl Harbor.

The speaker for the occasion was Lt. D. B. Aldrich (ChC) USNR.

The program began at 10:00 a. m. with the student body and members of the Episcopal clergy forming a procession in the school grounds and marching across the street to the Nuuanu cemetery. Music was furnished by a navy band. The invocation was offered by Bishop Kennedy. A navy color guard passed in review after which the Chaplain addressed the assembly, calling to mind "that these honored shall not have died in vain". Following the program, the students marched in single file around the graves, decorating each with leis. The singing of the National Anthem concluded the program.

An Appeal from Saipan

Chaplain Chester G. Minton sent an appealing note to the Bishop, asking for altar equipment. Since there have been several such requests, the Bishop's stock of such things seemed rather depleted. An appeal was made to Sister Deborah of the Priory and Hawaiian congregation and they have furnished him with an altar cross, candle sticks, fair linen and amice.

Installed as Pastor of Central Union Church

We join in expressing our heartfelt Aloha to the Reverend Allan Hackett and the Central Union Church on the occasion of his installation as pastor, Sunday, November 19th, at 7:30 p.m. The Bishop assisted with the service, which was most impressive. The Rev. Mr. Hackett and his charming wife are a great asset to Honolulu and we welcome them in their new life of service.

USO Conference Held

The Bishop was the speaker at the USO Institute at Kona Inn when all the island workers attended. He was also one of the leaders on a panel discussion with Father Kennedy of the Roman Catholic Church and Chaplain Gittelshon of the Jewish faith. It was a great experience to frankly discuss what the USO might do to contribute to the religious life of the men in service.

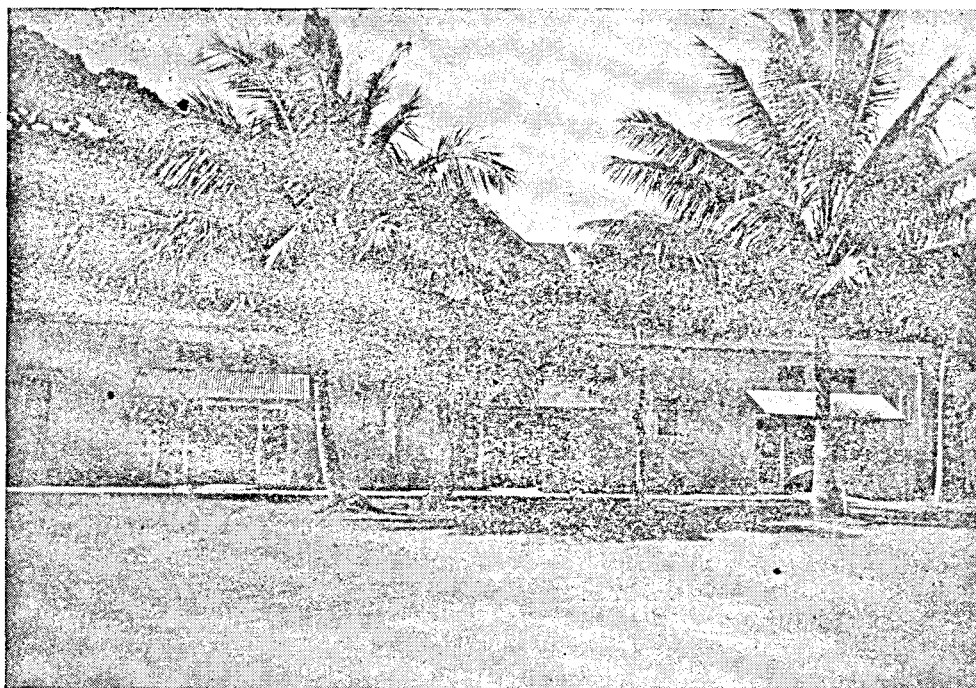

Nurses' Capping Service

The nurses of Queen's Hospital will have their capping service at the Cathedral on January 12th. It seems most appropriate that they should come to the Cathedral for this service, when Queen Emma played such an important part in the building of the hospital and Cathedral. The Bishop will preside at the service.

New Format of Chronicle

The January issue of the Hawaiian Church Chronicle will find itself with new attire. The appearance will be quite different so far as size and make-up are concerned. We believe the change will not only improve its appearance, but will make it more readable.

It is a great blessing to enjoy happiness, but it is still greater to be able to impart it to others.—Bacon

The Bishop's Office

The Secretary's Office

The Treasurer's Office

It is with pride we introduce these offices to you. They are Mauka the Rector's Office and Waikiki the Bishop's House facing Washington Place, the Governor's home. Many improvements have been made in these offices, since they were used as Iolani School classrooms.

The Wisdom of Christmas

History called them wise men, those three kings from the Orient who brought gifts to the cradle of Christ. Wise they were, yet judged by the logic by which we live they were the veriest of fools.

Who, today, would commend such a foolhardy pilgrimage? They left their books of learning to follow a star. They left their wealth to be guarded by others as they sought a child. As they stopped at the hostleries along the sandy roads men must have laughed at their plans and purposes. Their entire quest was an ethereal one, founded in sentiment and executed through faith.

The Christmas spirit which sent these wise men on their way likewise transforms our spirits as we near the birthday of the Christ. Christmas loosened the purse strings of old Scrooge when practice dictated that they should be tied. It lightens our hearts. Even the doors of memory are opened and we find ourselves singing Christmas carols which were learned years before. Charity is easy at Christmas. Brotherhood is a little more real when the star shines.

History is right in judging these wise men. It will judge us in the same way. When we yield to those impelling motives which produce in us a spirit of worship we are a little nearer divine wisdom than before. When Christmas comes we do well to forget the logic of selfishness and yield to the music of angels.

If we are wise to seek the Christ spirit at Christmas how foolish to discard it as the old year passes. The greater wisdom would commend us to carry the Christmas unselfishness and joy throughout the year to come. This may be the way in which Christ will become most real to the world.

The Twenty-Third Psalm

In the last issue of the Chronicle we published the first of a series of versions of this most beloved of Psalms, from a collection by John McDougall, Grace Church, Colorado Springs, Colorado. The following one is from Dusoy (Roman Catholic)

Dominus Regit Me.

The Lord ruleth me; and I shall want nothing.
He hath set me in a place of pasture,
He hath brought me up on the water of refreshment.

He hath converted my soul,
He hath led me on the paths of justice.
For His own Name's sake.

For though I should walk in the midst of the shadow
Of Death, I will fear no evils,
For Thou art with me, Thy rod
And Thy staff, they have comforted me.

Thou hast prepared a table before me
Against them that afflict me.
Thou hast annointed my head with oil,
And Thy chalice which inebriateth me,
How goodly is it.

And Thy mercy will follow me all the days
Of my life,
And that I may dwell in the house of the Lord
Unto length of days.

Tribute Where Tribute Is Due

When a man reaches his eightieth birthday and is as beloved as our former Diocesan Treasurer, Mr. John T. Hollander, it is a shining example of what an inward spiritual grace can do for one. Though he is retired from what we term "active duty" he is still doing anything within his power to help at the Diocesan offices.

Knowing so well the selflessness of Mr. Hollander, Miss Blanche Myers started a little ball rolling in regard to his birthday. Mr. Hollander's great love is the little mission, St. John's-by-the-Sea. We all know the history of his labor of love there. He is anxious that the loan of $2000.00 to build the cottage for the rector should be paid back. It has worried him because he played such a great part in seeing that this cottage was built. At the suggestion of Miss Myers several friends contributed a sum toward reducing this debt. On his birthday he was given $170.00 toward this amount. It marked a happy beginning for another year of his life. We only hope that his birthday celebration will continue until the debt is erased from the books. How very happy it would make him! With one gift came this little note to Mr. Hollander:

How Old Are You?

Age is a quality of mind—
If you have left your dreams behind,
If hope is lost,
If you no longer look ahead,
If your ambition's fires are dead,
Then you are old.
But if from life you take the best,
And if in life you take the jest, if love you hold—
No matter how the years go by,
No matter how the birthdays fly,
You are not old!

He is not old—but he is a living example of good for all privileged to know him. His influence if felt in all the lives he touches and the community in which he lives.

Two To Make a Gift

It takes two to make a gift—the giver and the receiver. No matter how much you may want to give something to someone, you cannot do it unless that person is willing to receive the gift.

This principle holds good in spiritual as well as physical matters. At confirmation we go forward to receive the gift of the Holy Spirit. Only those whose hearts are readily open receive it effectively.

We go forward to Holy Communion, but unless our hearts have been prepared, it becomes a barren custom.

In Advent, we look forward to the coming of Christ at Christmas, but unless in addition to all the secular and material preparations we make, we also make room for spiritual preparation, Christ may come and find no room in our hearts—any more than He found room at Bethlehem.

It is only to those who are humble and hungry for His coming, that He finds watching and waiting for Him to whom He comes in all His glory and fullness.

—By The Rt. Rev. W. Appleton Lawrence, D.D., Bishop of Western Massachusetts.

News from St. Mary's Children's Home

At long last St. Mary's Children's Home has acquired the long sought worker for the culinary department. About the middle of October, Mrs. Robert Paget arrived from the mainland to take over that particular duty. Mr. Paget is here at St. Mary's with her and he, too, has found his niche and is chief of the now flourishing Victory Garden. He has already acquired thirty grandchildren as he was immediately adopted as "Grandpa". The Pagets have fitted themselves into the household with surprising speed and aptitude and have already proved themselves of great value to the running of the Home. We were indeed fortunate to get such a grand pair of true missionary spirited workers with the additional ability of knowing how to handle and live with children. It will be recalled by many who formerly knew the Pagets that they lived for several years in Hilo and were always interested in the welfare of our church.

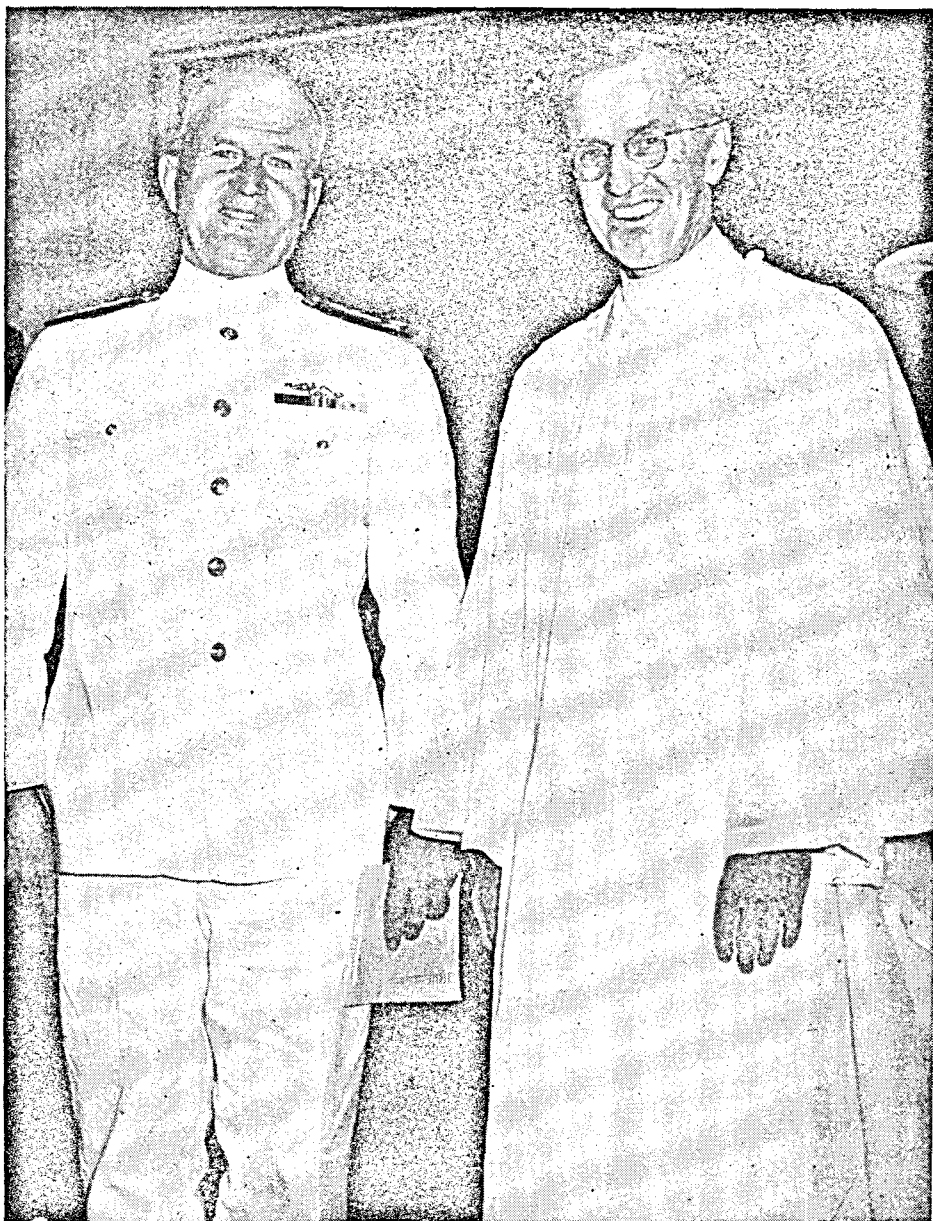

St. Mary's received many Thanksgiving donations of canned goods, fresh fruit and vegetables, besides candy and nuts. We wish to thank St. Clement's Sunday School and Parish, Epiphany Sunday School and Parish, St. Andrew's Priory Auxiliary, The Margaret Deitz Commercial School, Capt. Henry Putman and Mrs. Harry Sheldon for their kindness in remembering us at this time.

We also wish to share with all our friends the good news we received the other day concerning one of our former St. Mary's boys. - Henry Nobuo Nakamura, Private, Infantry, U. S. Army was awarded the Silver Star for "gallantry in action on June 26, 1944, in the vicinity of Belvedere, Italy. Although wounded by an enemy hand grenade, Pvt. Nakamura, with sheer determination and courage held his squad's attacking position and killed four of a group of counter-attacking Germans through the skillful use of his BAR. Pvt. Nakamura's courage and dogged determination to resolutely hold his ground in spite of being wounded served as an inspiration to his fellow comrades and was a distinct credit to the Armed Forces of the United States." Pvt. Nakamura came to St. Mary's at the age of two, at which time his mother came to take over the position as cook. Up until the time of his induction in March 1943, at the age of nineteen, he lived with his mother on the St. Mary's compound. He was graduated from Mid-Pacific Institute in 1942.

Address of Admiral Calhoun Given at St. Clement's Church on the Occasion of Navy Day Celebrations in Our Churches, October 22nd

There is one particular thing very few sailors do well, and that one is to ride a horse. This morning I am on horseback, thanks to Doctor Brown. However, with Admiral Nimitz's kind permission, I am honored to bring you his greetings, and to thank you for your participation in our Navy Day Celebration. Admiral Nimitz sends you his best Aloha and also the same message that he gave to us all from the steps of the Submarine Base Administration Building in Pearl Harbor on December 31, 1941, when he took command of the Pacific Fleet and Pacific

ADMIRAL CALHOUN GIVES ADDRESS

Admiral Calhoun and The Rev. E. Tanner Brown

St. Clement's Church enjoyed an address by Admiral William L. Calhoun, Vice-Admiral of the United States Navy, on the occasion of the observance of Navy Day, October 22nd, in our churches.

Ocean Areas: To you all "Hoo Manawa Nui," which to us (kamaainas) means:

- Be steadfast in difficulty
- Be patient in emergency
- Be persevering always
- Be alert and active at all times

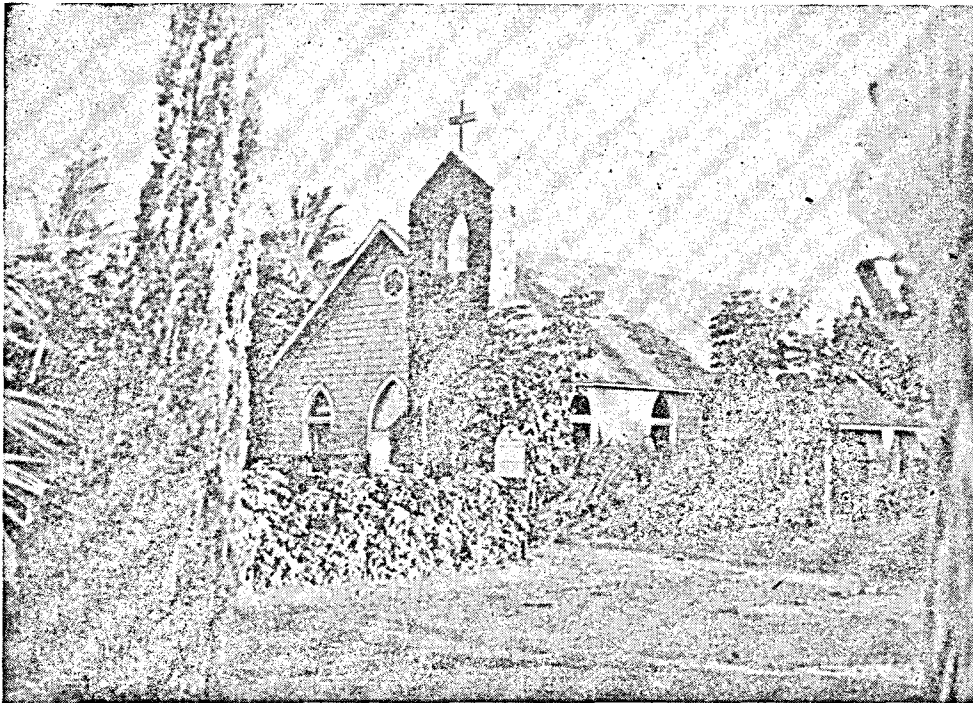

Or, keep your chin up, abide your time, success will be yours, a very fitting motto for Navy Day.

The celebration of Navy Day this coming week will see the greatest navy in existence which the world or history has ever known. I firmly believe this great force has been created for the benefit and welfare of all mankind—to promote, protect and preserve, what we believe to be the most cherished of all gifts—freedom, in its broadest sense, right, as interpreted for the good of all men, and happiness, which derives from freedom and right. Because our Navy was created to preserve these principles, and because they are the basic principles of Christianity, I am proud and honored to be here in a church of God as the representation of the Navy, today.

In days of crisis and issues of great importance, when good and evil forces are in combat and the fate of nations hangs in the balance, one must naturally beware of the watchwords and trademarks born of superficial thinking. Hence, the great words—Freedom and Right—so glibly used by politicians, orators and educators, can be worn so smooth from overuse as to be commonplace and no longer striking. Men who are actually fighting in the field and performing their duty at sea, and in the air, are hardly complimented by easy words and phrases; and yet there is such a thing as right with a big "R" and freedom with a capital "F", to be identified, I believe, with the total scheme of things as God runs them, and with the destinies of peoples and nations.

There is within man an innate and God-given sense of right and wrong, as well as a healthy revolt against injustice and oppression which is just the reverse of freedom. It is a dangerous thing to bend God to our will and to affirm that God is on our side, but so surely as the navigator plots a true course by the aid of the sun or the stars, so one's God-given moral sense can follow as trustfully the fundamental moral laws of life. This may lead you into a contest with evil or to the haven where you would be, but it is an answer to something of which Christ is the expression; and because the impulse comes from such universal principles, one may in all humility, believe himself to be on the side of God.

Among the many blessings for which the Navy is most grateful, our splendid reserves stand out like a bright beacon on a dark and stormy night.

May I be privileged here today to acknowledge to our reserves, officers and men—men and women—the Navy's lasting debt of gratitude. Well done. Thank you all.

Some years ago the Royal Navy was described as the friendly policeman of all the world's oceans and waterways. Today Our Navy and the Royal Navy are engaged in a titanic struggle to restore all the oceans to the safe passage of peaceful citizens to and from all the countries of the earth. When this has been done, and God grant that it shall be soon, the immediate work of our wartime Navy will be largely finished.

Just as there are no atheists in a fox hole—so surely does a good sailor turn to God in moments of great distress. Recently in Midway one of our large tenders was dragging her anchor all over the lagoon under the influence of a fifty-knot gale. Nothing the Captain could do seemed effective in changing the situation. Finally the Captain got over in a corner of the bridge and had a few quiet words with God. He said, in effect—"Dear God, I do not bother you with my little troubles; I take care of them myself. But, God, I have big troubles now, and I do not seem to be able to handle them. If you will just make this wind stop blowing, or something, I will not bother you again for quite a spell." Just then the anchor caught on a coral head and held, right in the middle of the lagoon, with room to swing safely on all sides.—In reporting this incident to the Commander of his force, this Captain thus remarked about his problems in the far Pacific:—"If we call on you for help, we will expect from you the same prompt action that God gave us"—a rather large order for the service force. However, God willing, we will carry on.

No reference to the gratitude of the Pacific Fleet may be complete until we give thanks to God for sending Admiral Nimitz to command us in this vast ocean. Our intelligence makes us believe that God does not "take sides," but surely this was an act of providence and a blessing to America!

Quietness at Bethlehem

That first Christmas night, at Bethlehem, was one of peace and calmness. No military pageant, with clanking arms, announced the birth of humanity's King. Instead humble folk, with mellowed voices entered the stable to kneel before the newly born Babe.

There was the quietness of expectation.

Mary, Joseph, the wise men, the shepherds, children, neighbors, all these gathered at the manger, moved by a common longing and love. Our artist has waved aside the matter of time to bring them together in a unity of expectations. All hoped that God had given to the world one who would become the Saviour of mankind.

There was the quietness of adoration.

Adoration is heart praise. Such praise does not fill the air of streets and houses. But it is faithfully recorded at the throne of God. There must have been many sincere and wonderful tributes. Mary had many sayings to keep for after years. Rightly, she pondered them in her heart.

There was the quietness of prophesied peace.

Wars roll in with the noise of cannon; peace rides quietly on the waves of brotherhood and love. The angel's sang that Christmas night could not reconcile a Christian world with wholesale destruction. Their prophecy was one of peace.

Glory to God in the highest

Peace on earth

Good will toward men.

The Needed Christmas

Two things made the shepherds men of history.

First, they heard the angels; secondly, having heard, they went to find the Christ Child.

These two qualities are needed today. We must seek to catch the inspiration of Christmas, to hear the song from realms of glory. Then having heard we must pass on, in word and life, the message of good will. In this way His Kingdom will come, His will be done, and Christmas becomes Christian indeed.

Keep a Novena

Sister Helen Veronica, C.T., Sister-Superior of St. Andrew's Priory, has announced that a Novena will be kept from November 30th, St. Andrew's Day, to December 8th for vocations to the Religious Life and especially for vocations to the Community of the Transfiguration. This is in compliance with a request from The Rev. Mother Olivia Mary. It is desired that all Associates, Priest Associates and all friends and co-workers join in these nine days of prayer.

Welcome New Son

The Reverend and Mrs. Lawrence Ozaki, of Holy Trinity Mission, announce the birth of a son, John Hitoshi, November 13th.

A Job Was Lost

To some good carpenter when he couldn't get around to putting on the roof of the Holy Trinity Mission. He had appraised the work to be done for at least $650.00. That everlasting "someday I'll be there" that is so prevalent in these war days, met a challenge from the young people of this parish. No "sweet bye and bye" for them. They spent one day putting on the roof of the parish house, thus saving the Church $650.00 or more. What is more important—the work was beautifully done and emphatically demonstrates what enthusiasm of youth can do when tested.

Hold Joint Meeting

Members of the Young People's Fellowship met with the Bishop, Thursday, November 16th, to discuss plans for this group on the Island of Oahu. Officers for the group are: Yoshito Uchima, president; Michael Ikezawa, Vice-President; Gladys Tonaki, Secretary; Robert Richardson, Treasurer, and Nancy Higa, Corresponding Secretary. Under the direction of the Bishop and Mrs. Kennedy they will present the Christmas Pageant, "Christmas Around the World", the contribution of the young people in the District to the Church and Community. This is a beautiful interpretation of the story of Bethlehem, especially in an age of war-torn tragedies. This will be given at the Cathedral on the evening of December 17th. We are delighted with the enthusiasm of this young people's group, for they should do much to help sponsor the work with youth on the Island.

Accepts Appointment

Brigadier General Robert M. Perkins has accepted the appointment of the Vestry of St. Andrew's Cathedral Parish to fill the unexpired term of Colonel W. C. Farnum as a member of the Vestry. We welcome him to this important position in our Church life and know he will contribute much to the work in the parish.

Annual Bazaar Successful Venture

More preparation goes into the annual bazaar of St. Andrew's Cathedral than the average layman dreams of. Bees in a hive have nothing on the activity that stirs around the Cathedral as Fair time draws near. Much thought and effort goes into an undertaking like that. It means early hours in the morning and late hours at night. But the net results are so gratifying that the labors are soon forgotten and the weariness becomes the satisfying kind that follows a job well done.

Community Service Held at Cathedral

The Community Thanksgiving Service was held at the Cathedral this year. All churches in Honolulu joined in this occasion and the Cathedral was packed to capacity. The Bishop was preacher for the service.

Break into Print

St. Andrew's Priory sophomores are now editing a school newspaper. Their first edition came off the press November first. It is known as "The Priory Tribune" and is under the jurisdiction of eleven girls, who are most ably guided by Sister Katharine. They are to be congratulated upon their splendid first issue.

New Mission at Wahiawa

The beginning of a new work in Wahiawa is part of our Advance Program in the District. The Bishop met with 25 communicants at a tea given by Mrs. Abner T. Longley on October 20th. Plans were discussed for organizing a mission and arranging for regular services. The committee in charge is: Messrs: Abner T. Longley, Thomas Abel, Edward Wootten, George Helmick, and James MacKenzie.

Holy Trinity Bazaar

Another Church has realized excellent returns from their annual bazaar. Holy Trinity Church is some $350.00 richer for their efforts. They are grateful to all who assisted in making such returns possible.

KAUAI

Visit Honolulu

The Reverend and Mrs. Thurlow Baker visited Honolulu the latter part of November. While here, Mr. Baker presented Lt. Col. Hamilton Fish for confirmation, having prepared him for this rite while Colonel Fish was stationed in the service at Kauai.

A Carnival of Cheer

St. John's Church, Eleele, has cleared their debt by the efforts expended in a Carnival given recently. They have been struggling with a debt of over $1200.00 and decided to do something about it. On Armistice Day they erased that debt and had money in the treasury for other important matters that face an ever growing church with a rector who sees the work that needs to be accomplished. Mr. Douglas Sinclair was chairman, and a marvelous job he made of it. Assisting him were Messrs. Shalford Waterhouse, Jack Yoshikawa, Michie Sako, Teruko Oka, and Antone Cacatian. Mrs. John Sandison was chairman of the Auxiliary. Publicity was handled by Shurei Hirozawa. The Rev. Mr. Baker said that the Carnival would have been impossible had it not been for the McBryde Plantation, all merchants in Eleele and the community at large, who donated anything from the ridiculous to the sublime—chickens, rabbits, pigs, ducks, pies, cakes and anything that could have a sales tag posted on it with resulting effects. It is a splendid example of co-operative planning and "plugging".

New Windows Dedicated

The last three memorial windows in a series of eleven were installed in Christ Memorial Church recently. While the Bishop was in Kauai he had the service of dedication for the eleven windows. A new font was also blessed at the same time.

HAWAII

Hilo Rectory

The Vestry of Holy Apostles' Church is having extensive repairs made to the rectory that will add greatly to its attractiveness.

Bishop Littell is busy in the Eastern States filling speaking engagements in many dioceses. He is telling of the work of the Church in Hawaii and has interested two clergymen in coming to our islands. We all join in sending him, our Aloha and urge him to keep up the good work for the District.
