The Bishop's Message

EVANGELISM

Every member of the Church should take a whole hearted interest in the Program of Evangelism which our Presiding Bishop is calling upon the entire Church to carry forward during 1948.

Our Church for the first time in its history is endeavoring to use very specific means by which each one of us might share in doing the true work of the Church. This task to which we are called by our Lord is to fulfill his command to "Make Disciples."

We can fulfill our task in many ways. Obviously preaching of the Gospel is first. Faithful exercise of the pastoral ministry is another; Christian Education and Church School work are others; faithful attendance at services of worship, regular communions, reading and studying of the Bible and other usual tasks which Christians should perform.

However, there is another specific task which many clergy do not adequately perform and which extremely few of our lay people take upon themselves at all; this is the quite obvious and basic task of endeavoring to bring unchurched people within the life and influence of the Church.

The program of Evangelism proposes to emphasize all those means and methods, especially to bring the non-Churched people into the fold and to win back those who have drifted away from the Church and perhaps feel they have been neglected and not wanted.

The clergy must, by self examination, and by analysis of their own inner spiritual lives, carefully review the pastoral care we are giving our people, and carefully consider the example we set for those who are committed to our care. While we realize there should be no "double standard" for clergy and laity, it is nevertheless true that a priest is charged at the time of his ordination with the responsibility of being an example to the flock of Christ. We must also remember that a priest alone, even the hardest working priest, cannot evangelize the world or the neighborhood in which he lives. He needs the loyal and devoted service of all his congregation to do this task adequately.

Clergy and congregation together must accept this responsibility in order to perform Christ's mission in the world, as well as in the city, community and neighborhood where they live and where their church is located.

A Much Deserved Recognition

One of the happy moments of the Diocesan Banquet was when the Bishop presented one of our laymen with his Cross for Distinguished Service. Though retired from active service as a Diocesan officer—he was at one time Treasurer of the District—he still plays a great part in the life and work of the Church and is a happy addition to the Cathedral Close residents. Commending him in the greatest tribute that could be made to one who professes the Christian faith, in that he has so patterned his life after that of his Master in not only doing good for others, but in finding good in others, the Bishop asked, "Who is the greatest Christian we know?" Though Mr. T. J. Hollander, recipient of the award, humbly professed, "I am unworthy of this tribute," all in attendance rejoiced that he had received this honor. A man of another faith was at one time heard to remark about Mr. Hollander, "He is one of the living Apostles." Eighty-three years of age, he still takes an active part in the life and work of our church.

To Arrive February 16

The Reverend Richard Stillwell Corry, his wife and child, will arrive aboard the Matsonia on Monday, February 16, to take a post in the Hawaiian Islands. He had been scheduled to go to Hankow, China, as a missionary, but Bishop Craighill was forced to tell him not to go on to China because of the political unrest in that area. China's loss is our gain, we feel certain. His assignment has not yet been determined, since his coming to the Islands has been so sudden.

He has been assistant at the Church of the Good Shepherd, Jacksonville, Florida, since his graduation from the University of the South Theological School in 1944. His wife is a physician and should be most helpful to the Rev. Mr. Corry in his mission work. He comes to us highly recommended by those who know him. We shall welcome the Corrys with thankfulness and joy into our Diocesan Family.

To Make Mainland Trip

Mr. Ralph Monell, headmaster of Iolani School, will leave soon for the mainland where he will interview prospective teachers and do work that will further the interests of Iolani.

Our 46th Annual Convocation In Review

The "unusual" rains and wind storms of Hawaii cleared for the beginning of our Annual Convocation, and our business was transacted to the accompaniment of fair weather.

The reception at the Diocesan House, preceding the Opening service in the Cathedral, was one of the loveliest we have ever had. It was under the direction of Mrs. William Jarrett and the women of St. Elizabeth's Church, Honolulu. A most delicious buffet supper was served to the many who were in attendance.

The opening service in St. Andrew's Cathedral was most impressive, with the choirs of the churches on Oahu in procession, as well as the clergy, lay readers, and bishops. Reports of the Bishop and Council were made preceding the Annual Address of the Bishop.

In his address the Bishop said, "I am not pleading for salvaging a dying Church. We are making progress. But the other side of the picture gives us ground for concern, and calls us to prayerful, concentrated, and cooperative endeavor. What is happening in Hawaii in our own communion and in all others is duplicated throughout the land and we cannot be complacent about it. Since I became Bishop there have been 2226 persons confirmed. Where are they? Like many mainland dioceses we have sought them, trained them, and lost them. Obviously great multitudes are making no contribution of their interest and fellowship to the Christian forces in the world or receiving and manifesting what is their's for the asking, through the Church.

"Are the faltering progress and the limited usefulness and influence of the Christian forces today due to God's inadequacy or to our own lukewarmness?" I cannot imagine that a single one of us would venture to suggest that God is at fault because the establishment of His Kingdom on earth is so tardy in being attained.

"Religion faces the prospect of holding a small and declining place in American life unless existing trends are reversed. We must rediscover the divine possibilities of men and women, because only a new type of men can adequately cope with the kind of society that our scientists have created."

The Bishop emphasized the part we must play in strengthening our Church through the evangelistic program prescribed by our Presiding Bishop, the Most Rev. Henry Knox Sherrill. He said "The times are as a summons from Almighty God to mankind to develop spiritual power and strength great enough to dictate and control the use of potent forces as atomic energy and to direct them into life-saving instead of death-dealing channels."

A five-point program was presented by the Bishop for the Episcopal endeavor to be carried out by every parish and mission in the coming year:

1. Sharing in the Presiding Bishop's plan for evangelism.
2. Accepting more responsibility for self-support.
3. Giving generously to the World Relief Fund.
4. Extending the influence of the Church in each community.
5. Planning education programs—Churches, Church Schools, Auxiliaries, Guilds, Vestries, Clergy should make definite plans for quiet days, retreats, conferences, institutes, etc., so that groups might worship and study together. Our Mokuleia Conference Center will be available for this purpose. May we join in the program of "Knowing the Christ and Making Him Known."

Opening of the Youth Conference at St. Clement's Church, Honolulu

Guest of Convocation

The Rt. Rev. Fred Ingley, D.D., S.T.D., Bishop of Colorado, was an inspiring figure of our Convocation. A truly spiritual and humble man, his messages throughout Convocation were a source of stimulus and helpfulness. Commendation was accorded him on every occasion of his speaking. The young people were "in the palm of his hand" as he gave them the "A B Cs of religion;" the adults were thrilled with his dynamic address at the Diocesan Banquet; the women of our Diocesan Auxiliaries were stirred from complacency, if they were so inclined, and the clergy were stirred to action by his message to them. As guest of Convocation he had a trying schedule, but not once did he produce a message that lacked forcefulness and spiritual helpfulness.

At the Diocesan Banquet he emphasized the fact that we were suffering from an "over-dose of under-done psychology" and that contrary to the beliefs of many, we should feel a deep sense of gratitude for the many blessings that surround us, day in and day out, instead of feeling that the world owes us a living. It is up to us to see what contribution we can make to the home, Church, community and world, rather than what they contribute to us.

In all of his messages he stressed the "call to colors" of our Presiding Bishop and to revive interest and active participation in the Church. At the Women's Auxiliary Annual Meeting he said, "The Church is complacent, smug and self-satisfied," and suggested that the Church seek an example from the more evangelistic sects, whose "enthusiasm and zeal" he admired and commended. We should never underestimate the power of personal evangelism.

Diocesan Banquet

Our Chancellor, Mr. Arthur G. Smith, was the toastmaster for the Diocesan Banquet, and did a masterful job of it, too. The dinner was held at Central Union Church Parish Hall.

Special guests of the dinner were the Reverends: Allen Hackett, pastor of Central Union Church, William Fry, retired superintendent of the Methodist Church, Roy Ruth, superintendent of the Methodist Church, Edward Whittmore, secretary of the Honolulu Council of Churches, Leslie Dunstan, secretary of the Hawaiian Board of Missions, and their wives.

We are most grateful for the opportunity to have our banquet at Central Union Church and express appreciation for this favor. The hall was beautifully decorated by members of St. Andrew's Cathedral Parish and Guild, with Mrs. Harold Podmore as Chairman.

The Youth Conference

The Youth Conference this year can be reviewed with a sense of great satisfaction. The Conference opened at St. Clement's Church with a banquet, followed by a service of Preparation in the Church. St. Andrew's Cathedral Close was alive with activity at 6:00 a.m. Saturday morning, when the young people going to Mokuleia Youth Center arrived for the bus that had been chartered for the occasion. They were merrily on their way by 6:45 a.m., arriving in time for the Holy Communion service at 8:00 a.m. at which the Bishop was celebrant. There were 130 young people in attendance.

The conference was under the direction of the Rev. Richard M. Trelease, Jr., Diocesan Director of Youth Work. The Rev. Kenneth A. Bray, St. Andrew's Cathedral Hawaiian Congregation, gave the opening address of the Conference, "A Christian Belief About God." Following this the group was divided into four sections with the following clergy as leaders: "I Believe in the Holy Ghost," the Rev. Burton L. Linscott; "I Believe in God," the Rev. Harold Willmot Smith; "I Believe in Jesus Christ," the Rev. Lawrence Ozaki; and "I Believe in the Holy Catholic Church," the Rev. Edmund L. Souder.

Mrs. Ruth Wong, of St. Elizabeth's Church; Miss Mary Whitten, of Iolani School, and the Misses Shirley Scott, Phyllis Scott, and Ruth Rozier assisted with the meals for the group.

New Diocesan Officers are: President, Walton Shim; Vice President, Anna Mark; Recording Secretary, Sydney Shephardson; Corresponding Secretary, Norma Chow; and Treasurer, Robert Richardson.

Twelve delegates from Kauai and one from Hawaii were in attendance.

Spends Day in Honolulu

The Clergy were especially privileged at their Conference during Convocation to meet the Very Reverend Stephen H. S. Tsang, of St. Paul's Cathedral, Hankow, China, who passed through Honolulu aboard the President Cleveland, on his way for a tour of the mainland. He had the privilege of visiting with old friends, as well as new, when he saw the Rev. and Mrs. Edmund Souder, the Rev. and Mrs. Fletcher Howe, and Mr. T. J. Hollander, for they knew him when missionaries in China.

He was guest of Mrs. Kahiwa Lee, at Cluett House, for breakfast on the day of the Clergy Conference, and of Bishop and Mrs. Kennedy for the luncheon they gave for the clergy and their wives and Diocesan workers at the Oahu Country Club, following the Clergy Conference.

From St. James Hospital, Anking, China

We wish we might share with you the complete letter which came from Miss Blanche Myers, formerly the treasurer of our Missionary Diocese, who is now the treasurer and a worker at St. James Hospital, Anking, China. She sent her mimeographed letter unsealed in order to save postage. The stamp costs $2000.00. She mentions that the rate of exchange when she wrote on December 4 was $72,000.00 to U.S. $1.00, and adds, "Yes, it makes us dizzy too."

The hospital was returned to them at the end of 1945, and they are progressing in their work of repairing and refurbishing different parts of it, re-establishing services for the staff and for the patients in the wards. She writes that this past Christmas celebration was to be the first one since 1940. Deep appreciation is expressed by her, in the name of everyone there, for packages of food, clothing, baby things, etc., sent through the National Council's Buying Commission, the Woman's Auxiliaries—thru the Supply Dept. of the Nat'l Council and from CNRRA and UNRRA.

Enjoy Conference at Mokuleia

The University of Hawaii students had a two-day conference at Mokuleia Youth Center on Thursday and Friday, February 5 and 6. Miss Evelyn Pischell, of St. Clement's Church, was chairman of arrangements. Wallace Chang is president of the group.

The Rev. Hollis H. A. Corey and the Rev. Richard M. Trelease, Jr. led the discussions for the Conference: Vocations for Youth in the Church, The Church's Program for Youth—World-wide and Local, What We Believe, and Putting our Beliefs in Action.

Mrs. Edmund L. Souder took charge of the meals for the young people, assisted by Miss Winifred Mann, who is an adviser of the university group. Fifteen were in attendance. They reported a wonderful time and know that their next conference will bring forth more members. The Bishop also spent a day at the conference, helping them with plans for the future, etc.

The university students met at St. Clement's Church on January 11 for a Corporate Communion service, followed by breakfast in the parish hall.

Prayer for Evangelism

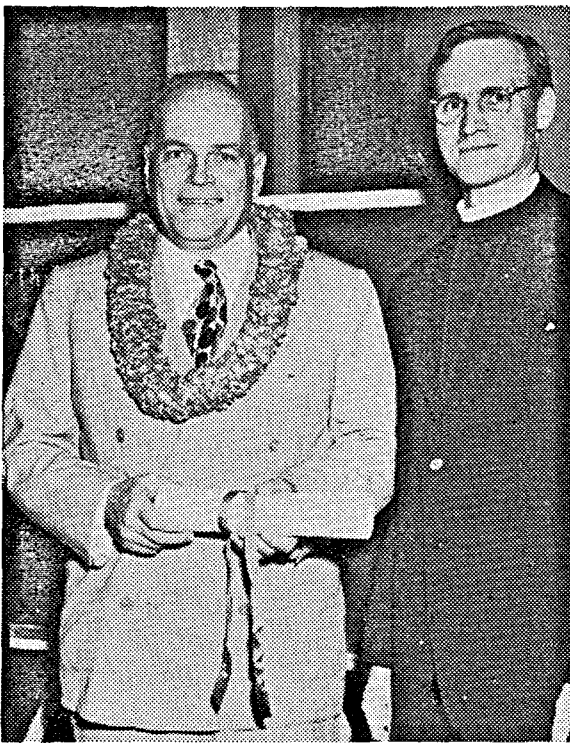

Heavenly Father, whose blessed Son didst issue to us the command, "Ye shall be witnesses unto Me," Cleanse us from the sin of unbelief and sloth. Fill us with such zeal for thee, that with glad minds and loving hearts we may dedicate ourselves to the task of sharing with others the good news which thou has entrusted to us for the salvation of the world. May we never be ashamed to confess the faith of Christ crucified. Enable us manfully to fight under his banner against sin, the world, and the devil, and to continue Christ's faithful soldiers and servants unto our life's end, through the same Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

—By Bishop Ingley.

Attend Clergy Conference

The Ven. Henry A. Willey, Kapaa, Kauai, and the Rev. Sydney H. Croft, Wahiawa, were the only two clergymen absent when this picture was taken.

Mr. Herman V. von Holt and Rev. Anson Phelps Stokes, Jr.

Herman V. Von Holt Honored

On January 21, The Reverend Anson Phelps Stokes, Jr., paid particular tribute to the retiring treasurer of St. Andrew's Cathedral Parish, Mr. Herman V. Von Holt on the occasion of their Annual Parish Meeting. He has loyally and effectively served the Parish for twenty-four years. It was with a sense of deep regret the parish accepted his resignation from this important post in the Church.

Mr. Von Holt gave a splendid report of the finances of the Parish, after which he was presented with a lei, and a resolution of appreciation from the Rector, Wardens and Vestry of the Cathedral Parish. Mr. Von Holt has contributed much to the parish and the diocese in his great help as treasurer of the parish and secretary of the Board of Directors. We heartily join in the expression of appreciation accorded him.

Taking Charge of Shingle Memorial Hospital

Mr. Kenneth Day, one of our outstanding laymen of the Church, has graciously accepted the invitation of the Shingle Memorial Hospital Board of Directors to go to Molokai to handle the affairs of the hospital. We feel grateful that business affairs are under his guidance and that he is representing the Church at the hospital.

If there be good in what I wrought,
Thy hand compelled it, Master, Thine;
Where I have failed to meet Thy thought,
I know through Thee, the blame is mine.

Kauai Young People in Honolulu

A long need for a "clearing house" for the Kauai Episcopal Young People in Honolulu was realized when a club for the Kauaians was organized and officers installed on December 14 at the youth Center in Mokuleia.

At the initial meeting, sometime in November, thirty-three young people were the guests of the Bishop and Mrs. Kennedy at the Diocesan House. This get-together was made possible through the combined efforts of William Sumida and Thomas Asao with the ever helpful guidance of Deaconess Swinburne. At this meeting, organization plans were made and of course, the evening ended in wholesome fellowship.

Chaperoned by Miss Katherine Morton and Mrs. Kahiwa Lee, another get-together started with Holy Communion service at 8 a.m. at Parke Memorial Chapel after which the young people immediately headed for the Youth Center in Mokuleia which was the scene for the second meeting for the Kauaians on December 14. Although the young people had some time to relax, most of the day was spent in making final plans to organize the group into a club. The day ended with election of officers and the installation of the following young people into the Kauai Young People's Fellowship of Honolulu: President, Helen Urabe; vice-president, William Sumida; recording secretary, Sawano Matsuo, corresponding secretary, Kikuye Shiraki; treasurer, Albert Kang; and sergeant-at-arms, Josephine Regala, Richard Shigemoto. Thirty-five young people attended this eventful get-together.

Composed of students in the university and business colleges and others in various occupations, this group has already offered its services for the coming Young People's Conference at Mokuleia on January 30. On Easter Day, they will be the guests of the Rev. Sydney Croft of St. Stephen's Church, Wahiawa, Oahu.

Its main object is to adjust "lost" Kauaians who go to Honolulu, and acquaint them to churches where it is most convenient for them to attend. This will eventually lead to not only a friendly relationship among the younger people, but will be a tremendous step forward in bringing about a closer relationship of the young people with the church.

The Kauai young people wish the Kauai Honoluluans every success in their new venture.

Lenten Reading

In addition to the Presiding Bishop's Book for Lent, Revive Thy Church, Beginning With Me, by the Rev. Samuel M. Shoemaker, the National Council has prepared a reading list keyed to the theme of Evangelism. Listed are Tomorrow is Here, by K. S. Latourette and W. Richey Hogg; The Bible and the Common Reader, by Mary Ellen Chase; The Story of the New Testament, by E. J. Goodspeed; A Plain Man's Life of Jesus, by A. D. Martin; The Religion of the Prayer Book, by Walden Pell and P. M. Dawley; The Divine Commission, by Frank E. Wilson; The Episcopal Church, Its Faith and Order, by George Hodges, and What Does the Episcopal Church Stand For? by Norman Pittenger.

Woman's Auxiliary Day at Convocation

The opening hymn on Woman's Auxiliary Day, "Rise Up, O Men of God," set the keynote for the day. The reports that followed showed vigorous activity on the part of all women's organizations in the Missionary District.

The District Altar Guild secretary, Mrs. Nash, reported that all requests for vestments and Altar linens had been filled; the UTO Secretary, Mrs. Kenneth O. Miller, reported that this last year more money had been collected than in any previous THREE-year period; and 100 boxes of clothing sent abroad by one branch alone was mentioned in the Corresponding Secretary's report as merely a random sample of the quantities of boxes sent out to every needy country from this Missionary District; and several branches reported large sums of money raised towards new church buildings.

Visitors from other churches were then introduced, and this was followed by the election of new members to the Executive Board of the Missionary District Woman's Auxiliary. The new members were welcomed by the retiring President, Mrs. William Fraser, and blessed by the Bishop. They are as follows:

President: Mrs. Henry Mattson

1st Vice President: Mrs. William Lin

Supply Secretary: Mrs. Henry Leong

Chairman of Personnel Committee: Deaconess Swinburne

Secretary of Christian Social Relations: Miss Adeline Babbitt

Secretary for Education: Mrs. Geoffrey Podmore.

Rousing appeals were made on behalf of the SPECIALS selected to receive money pledged during the day, Canon Stokes, speaking for the Presiding Bishop's Fund for World Relief; Mrs. C. Montague Cooke, Jr., for the Bishop's Discretionary Fund, and the Reverend Harold W. Smith and the Reverend George Pendergast for their respective missions on Kauai. The Reverend Harold Smith exhorted us to face the fact that wanton neglect and sordid living can only be changed by the church's work, and told us that there has been little religious life of late for any but Buddhists or Mormons in the Hanalei district, where he has been taking church services in a Buddhist temple, the only building available.

The following amounts were subscribed for the Specials:

	Received
World Relief	$456.00
Bishop's Discretionary Fund	555.00
Kauai: a) St. Paul's Kekaha	206.50
b) Hanalei	258.50

The Right Reverend Fred Ingley, Bishop of Colorado, in his special address, gave us a call to arms. He said that it is possible that the church today deserves the epithet "complacent" as applied by the Presiding Bishop. Bishop Ingley stated that in spite of flourishing church organizations the spiritual life of the church was at a stand-still, and numbers of former communicants had lapsed into spiritual apathy. He gave us a watchword for personal evangelism: "Each one win one."

To this we may well add the motto given us in the brief greetings from Mrs. Theodore Richards of the Women of the Episcopal Church played an important part in the 46th annual convocation of the church.

The Heart of Old Hawaii

"The Heart of Old Hawaii," a pageant rich in color, music, and the spirit of old Hawaii, will be presented by St. Andrew's Priory on February 21st and 23rd, at McKinley High School. It shows the changes in Hawaiian culture from the earliest mythical ages to the overthrow of the Monarchy in 1898.

St. Andrew's Priory is a school steeped in the traditions of ancient Hawaii, and presents this pageant under the direction of Mrs. Marguerite Joaquin and Mrs. Emily Taylor, who collaborated on the script.

Designed primarily as a project to raise funds for school purposes, the pageant should attract all who would like to see vividly portrayed the grandeur of Hawaii as it was in days gone by.

Legendary gods, priests, warriors, princes, Spanish mariners, dancers, queens: these are a few of the large cast which will take part in the tableaux, dances and singing.

The Rev. Y. Sang Mark presents the Bishop's official seal to Bishop Kennedy.

The Bishop was presented with his personal seal for official documents issued under his jurisdiction by the members of St. Peter's Church, Honolulu, on Sunday, January 4. On this day the members of the Vestry were installed at a special service in the Church, followed by a Holy Communion service, at which the Bishop was celebrant. A dinner was given honoring the vestry and the Bishop following this service, at which time the presentation was made by the rector, The Rev. Y. Sang Mark. The following was read in making the presentation:

The Rt. Rev. Harry S. Kennedy, D.D., S.T.D.
Bishop of Honolulu

Dear Reverend Father:

We, the undersigned, representing the members of St. Peter's Parish, wish to commemorate the occasion of our becoming a Parish in 1947, and also to acknowledge with gratitude the great work you are doing in these Islands among the various races, beg respectfully to offer for your acceptance the accompanying "Episcopal Seal" as a slight token of our great appreciation and esteem for all that you have done for us.

We do not hesitate, Reverend Father, to solicit your acceptance of so small a gift, feeling assured you will not regard its intrinsic value, but, rather, will rightly understand and duly appreciate the spirit in which it is offered.

We pray that God may grant you strength and courage, and that you may be spared for many more years to carry on the Divine Work in this place and that your labours will be blessed with a continual increase.

Very respectfully and faithfully yours,

Y. Sang Mark, Rector,
Albert C. Kong, Senior Warden,
Henry Akau Tyau, Junior Warden.

In accepting this gift, the Bishop expressed gratitude to the rector of St. Peter's Church, to the Wardens, Vestry and Congregation for their splendid support and thoughtful assistance in the work of our Church. He commended especially the leadership of the rector, and his wise counsel and splendid cooperation in matters pertaining to the Church.

Becomes a Novice

On the Holy Day, The Presentation of Christ and the Purification of the Blessed Virgin, February 2, Miss Lei Folk, a former resident of St. Mary's Children's Home, and Postulant under Sister Helen Veronica, of the Sisters of the Transfiguration at St. Andrew's Priory, became a Novice in the Chapel at the Mother House, Bethany Home, Glendale, Ohio. She has taken as her name Sister Leah Josephine. We pray God's blessing on her in her chosen work.

Honors Hawaii

A service leaflet from Washington Cathedral, The Cathedral Church of St. Peter and St. Paul, Mount Saint Alban, Washington, D.C., was recently received by the Bishop, with the following notation:

Today we are honoring the Territory of Hawaii by carrying its flag with the National Colors. The bringing forward of the flags and money to the Altar symbolizes the dedication of our national and personal life to Almighty God.

This was on the Fourth Sunday in Advent.

A Real Missionary Spirit

Miss Mary Whitten, teacher of music at Iolani School, has a real missionary spirit in her work as a teacher. In addition to her arduous duties as teacher, she finds time to be organist and choir director of St. Mark's Mission, to assist every Saturday night with the work at St. Mary's Children's Home, and to help with the undertakings of the Diocesan Youth Council. It is indeed true of Miss Whitten when one says, "It is the busiest people who do the most constructive work." Her work is done with an enthusiasm—never a "martyr complex."

Some men thank God for a day that is done;

I thank him rather for one begun,
For the chance to live as I feel I should,
And with his good grace, as I know I could.
I'm glad of the chance to do and say

A kindly thing in a kindly way;
And of bringing, if but for a little while,
To the face of another—a happy smile.

Ordination Service Held

The Second Sunday after Epiphany, January 18, was a day of high festival for the Archdeaconry of Kauai for on that day the Rev. Hugh L. S. Thompson, minister in charge of St. John's Church, Eleele, was ordained to the priesthood by the Rt. Rev. Harry S. Kennedy, D.D., S.T.D. The service of Ordination and Holy Communion began at 11 a.m. in St. John's Church. There was no mid-morning services at St. Paul's Kekaha, All Saints', Kapaa and Christ Memorial Church, Kilauea, since all our clergy and congregation took part in the ordination service at Eleele.

The service began with a sermon by Archdeacon Willey. The Preface to the service of Ordination was read by the Rev. George H. Prendergast, vicar of St. Paul's Church. The special litany was read by the Rev. Harold W. Smith, vicar of Christ Memorial Church. The Rev. Andrew N. Otani, vicar of the Kauai Japanese Mission, was the Presenter. The offertory solo—"How Beautiful Upon the Mountains,"—Harker, was sung by Mr. Clement I. Hügel accompanied by Mrs. Hügel. Mr. George Benson and Mr. Robert Kondo were in procession with the choir and clergy. Bishop Kennedy ordained Mr. Thompson and celebrated the Holy Communion. The clergy present joined with the Bishop in the laying on of hands.

While two other services of ordination have been held on Kauai in the past, this was the first such service to be held on West Kauai. The fellow churchmen and many friends of Mr. Thompson congratulate him on his ordination to the priesthood of our Church.

Mrs. Frank Thompson, the mother of the vicar of St. John's Church, whose home is in Welton, Connecticut, arrived on Kauai January 14 in order to be present at the ordination of her son. Mr. Thompson was most fortunate in having his mother with him for this glad occasion.

Church Children Plan Lenten Offering

New York—Starting on Ash Wednesday, February 11, and continuing through Lent to Easter, March 28, children in Episcopal Church schools all over the country will be working hard at a project to raise money for the advancement of missionary work in all parts of the world. The children's offerings come in small amounts, but reach amazing totals. Even in war years they gave in the neighborhood of $400,000, and since the war the total has been a half million. The children sell various things, do odd-time work as baby sitters, and in scores of other occupations, carefully putting their profits in little Offering boxes supplied by Church headquarters. Thus, Church officials explain, even very small children have a real part in the extension of Christianity in China, Japan, the Philippines, South America, the West Indies, Alaska and many other places in the United States as well.

Enthusiastic Parish Meeting

The capacity of the Parish House was taxed last Monday evening at the Annual Parish Meeting, which was preceded by an excellent dinner, 120 people being present. Several more people came in for the meeting.

There were so many developments during the year that it is quite impossible to draw attention to any one, save the addition of the children's buildings, which were completed and used during the year. It was noted that during the process of spending some $17,000, the revenue balance of the parish was increased by the amount of 26c. The balance, however, was very ample.

During the discussions following the dinner, the Rector reminded the meeting that the lighting fixtures needed in the church are being studied, and we have reached the point where a commercial house is presenting an estimate.

We are having the advice of our architect on this subject.

Mr. Nils C. Tavares was introduced and gave a very encouraging account of the essential legal aspects relative to the Chapel of Peace. These will be completed within a couple of weeks and the whole development presented to the congregation in detail.

The Rector also spoke of the visitations in the homes of our parishioners during the Lenten season, which are for the purpose of the spirit rather than finances. We are sure our Men's Club will endorse this enthusiastically.

Many suggestions were made as to the observance of the 50th Anniversary of the Parish, which occurs early in April of this year. The committee which will be called together soon to consider these suggestions, will include all the members of the Vestry and all previous vestrymen and vestry-women.

Bishop and Mrs. Kennedy were present at our dinner, much to our joy, and Bishop Kennedy gave one of his usual happy and inspiring addresses to the members present.

The benediction at the close of the meeting was given by our good friend the Rev. C. Fletcher Howe.

To Conduct Retreat

Bishop Kennedy will conduct the retreat for the Associates of the Community of the Transfiguration on Saturday, February 21, from 4 to 8 o'clock. Supper will be served in the Priory dining room by the Sisters. This provides an opportunity for a Lenten spiritual retreat.

With public sentiment, nothing can fail; without it, nothing can succeed. Consequently, he who molds public sentiment goes deeper than he who enacts statutes or pronounces decisions. He makes statutes and decisions possible or impossible to be executed.

To All Overseas Missionary Bishops
My dear Bishop:

The treasurer has just sent to us a statement of diocesan receipts for the year 1947. I want to call attention to that part of it which refers to our overseas districts.

Without exception, our overseas fields met their expectations in full and many of them overpaid their assigned quotas. The percentage paid by the whole Church was 101.5% of the expectations, while the percentage paid by our overseas missions was 106.92%.

This is a splendid record. I am happy and proud that our people in the overseas fields have had such vision, have met the challenge, and through their interest and prayers and gifts have played so large a part in the work of the Church throughout the whole world. The credit belongs to our bishops, clergy and lay people overseas. I congratulate you. Well done!

With my warmest good wishes and regards, I am

Faithfully yours,
Jno. B. Bentley (The Rt. Rev.)
Director.

Field	Expectation	Paid	Overpayment

Over a Million Dollars in One Day

"The only thing comparable to this is a Presidential broadcast," commented an official of the Mutual Broadcasting System on the arrangements for Presiding Bishop Sherrill's message to the Church on Sunday, February 29.

Appealing for a million dollars to be given by the Episcopal Church members during 1948 for the relief of suffering peoples in Europe and Asia, the Presiding Bishop will speak to congregations from coast to coast on Sunday morning, February 29th, at 11 o'clock. Churches will have radio speakers installed and adjusted to the Presiding Bishop's message.

Bishop Sherrill will tell the Church in a simple, direct and intensely earnest way, the needs of our fellow-Christians in Europe and Asia. Following his address, rectors everywhere will explain how every Church member may have a part in alleviating this suffering and need.

As Episcopal Church people gave more than a million dollars through the Presiding Bishop's Fund for World Relief in 1947, there is widespread determination to equal or surpass that achievement for 1948, and the special presentation of the whole program on February 29, at the regular 11 o'clock Sunday morning service will, many believe, assure the giving or pledging of the greater part of that million in one day.

This amount is to be in the hands of the Presiding Bishop before June 30, 1948.

The Challenge of Lent

Take unto you the whole armour of God.—Ephesians 6:13.

O Lord, from Whom all good things do come; Grant that by Thy Holy Inspiration we may think those things that are good, and by Thy merciful guiding may perform the same; Through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

He who gathers roses must not fear thorns.

Good Friday Offering

As the Good Friday Offering is being presented to Church people everywhere about this time, the following late information about the Jerusalem and the East Mission may prove useful:

The Rt. Rev. Weston Henry Stewart, D.D., is the Anglican Bishop in Jerusalem. His diocese is 140,000 square miles. There are 35 clergy; eleven Arab, 23 British, one American. There are two candidates for Orders and nine lay readers. Services are held regularly in 31 places, and in addition ministrations of various kinds are offered with as much regularity as resources permit, at 20 mission stations. Church buildings number 29. There are seven hospitals, with nine doctors and 35 nurses. Much of the hospital service is free or at merely nominal cost. In the Bishopric are 25 schools with 196 teachers. Christians, Moslems and Jews are admitted. The work of the diocese is divided among the Jerusalem and the East Mission, the Church Missionary Society, the Church Mission to Jews, and the Palestine Church Council (Arab).

The American Chaplain is the Rev. Walter C. Klein, S.T.D., formerly on the faculty of the Philadelphia Divinity School.

Tomorrow's New World

In a cold October dawn, in occupied Brussels, a firing squad executed one of the most patriotic women of all time—Nurse Edith Cavell, who gave her life in order to help British prisoners and Belgian resistance workers in 1915. But before she died, this supremely patriotic woman gave four magic words to the world:

"Patriotism is not enough."

What did she mean? She didn't mean that it is wrong for us to feel a special affection for the country in which we were born and whose traditions we have inherited. She didn't mean that we should meekly allow our liberties, our civilization, our ideals of justice to be trampled underfoot by the jackboot of a tyrannical aggressor. That wouldn't make sense to a woman whose life and death have become a symbol of the struggle of free peoples against tyranny.

No. Nurse Cavell was a patriot of the finest kind. But she had seen a vision: a vision of the brotherhood of man. She saw that patriotism alone could be a very dangerous thing. If you follow your national leaders blindly, on the principle of "My country, right or wrong," you are treading the path which led the Germans and the Japanese into such frightful actions. That path leads to Belsen and Buchenwald, to the horrors of the Japanese prison camps, to the final disaster of atomic war. There must be an alternative.

There must be, above the nations, a system of international law, and force to back that law. Until recently, there was no such law. The nations lived together like beasts in a jungle; the only way of settling an argument was to fight it out, and in that fight both antagonists often received mortal wounds. The great nations had not learned what the most primitive village in the world, perched on the edge of a tropical mangrove swamp, had learned thousands of years ago: that in any community there must be laws, and power to enforce those laws. In the greater community of the nations there were no laws, no policemen, no judges. Anarchy and bloodshed were the result.

—From the Canterbury Pilgrim Youth Magazine.

Give Us Men!

I.

Give us men!
Men from every rank,
Fresh, and free, and frank;
Men of thought and reading,
Men of light, and leading,
Men of loyal breeding,
The nation's welfare speeding:
Men of faith, and not of fiction,
Men of lofty aim in action:
Give us men, I say again,
Give us men!

II.

Strong and stalwart ones,
Men whom highest hope inspires,
Men whom purest honor fires,
Men who trample self beneath them,
Men who make their country wreath them
As her noble sons worthy of their sires:
Men who never shame their mothers,
Men who never fail their brothers,
True, however false are others:
Give us men, I say again,
Give us men!

III.

Give us men!
Men who, when the tempest gathers,
Grasp the standard of their fathers
In the thickest fight;
Men who strike for home and altar,
Let the coward cringe and falter,
God defend the right!
True as truth, though lorn and lonely,
Tender as the brave are only;
Men who tread where Saints have trod,
Men for Country, Home and God!
Give us men, I say again, again,
Give us such men!

—The Bishop of Exeter.

Christ's Presence Everywhere An Inspiration

It matters not how you may determine to observe this sacred season, so long as underneath your method there is a spirit that makes you better, nobler, holier, in your daily life.

A Lenten Occupation

Good Works—

That by abundant labors you may serve humanity, for the Master's sake, and use your influence to bring others into the fold of Christ.

Be not simply good—be good for something.

FOR THE NECESSITIES OF LIFE

An island community is necessarily much more dependent on its wholesalers for its vital needs than are mainland communities. And to do a first class job in bringing to the islands your food, clothing, drugs, hardware and other necessities requires an organization like AMERICAN FACTORS.

—strong enough financially to keep a large volume of goods streaming across 2100 miles of ocean

—with offices in New York and San Francisco to facilitate ordering and speed up shipping

—with spacious warehouses located at strategic points in Hawaii in which to keep reserve stocks always on hand —and with a large enough executive, clerical and accounting staff to keep this big volume of business moving smoothly.
