Review of Convocation

The Opening Service of Convocation was most impressive to all those in attendance. Aside from the 90th Anniversary Celebration, we had the largest attendance of any Convocation held in the Islands. Having the opening service at the new Iolani School Auditorium proved a successful venture. Everyone seemed enthusiastic and inspired by it all. The long procession of bishops, clergy, lay readers, and the choirs of our Oahu churches was very impressive.

The altar, arranged for the occasion by the Reverend Paul R. Savanack, Rector of St. Peter's Church, was a beautiful focal point for the service. A five foot cross, a replica of the Distinguished Service Cross of this District, was beautifully wrought for the service by Mr. Theodore Ho, a member of St. Peter's Parish. It was suspended above the altar in front of the gold dossal.

Arrangements for the service were in charge of Canon Richard M. Trelease, Jr., of St. Andrew's Cathedral.

Reception Honoring Guests

The Rt. Rev. Walter Henry Gray, Bishop of Connecticut, and his very charming wife were the guests of honor at the reception following the opening service. Also in the receiving line were the Rt. Rev. Thomas Jenkins, retired Missionary Bishop of Nevada, and Mrs. Jenkins, who are visiting sons in the Islands.

The reception was held on the lanai of the Iolani Lower Classroom building, and was arranged by the Auxiliary of the Hawaiian Congregation of St. Andrew's Cathedral. The women were beautifully dressed in colorful holokus. The arrangements of their tables were lovely.

Business of Convocation

Convocation elected the following members to the Board of Directors of this Missionary District: Mr. Arthur G. Smith, Mr. Herman V. von Holt, Mr. George Gray, Mr. Herbert Keppeler, Mr. Desmond Stanley, the Reverend Frederick A. McDonald, and the Reverend Wai On Shim. To the Cathedral Chapter, the following were elected: The Rev. Canon Frederick A. McDonald, the Rev. Canon Richard M. Trelease, Dr. Joseph Pekelo, Mr. K. L. Ching, and Mr. Reginald Carter.

The date for our next Convocation was set for February 14, 1954.

Bishop Gray addressed the Convocation, giving us some very fine thoughts for us to take away.

He said, "The Power of God becomes a most potent force by increasing our effectiveness in the Church; our greatest travesty lies in misunderstanding and in whole-hearted support of the Church.

"In this war against Communism and the suppression of Christianity we need more than to defend ourselves. We must take the offensive and seek to win the world for Christ. To do this will cost us something, but Christ won the world by the wounds in His hands and His feet.

"We have not even begun to utilize the true strength of the laity of the Church. The Lord had only 12 such, and one of these was unfaithful. Religion is the only thing which can guide our hearts into channels of selfless living. Today we are engaged in a struggle not simply for lands and factories, but for the soul of mankind to decide whether man shall belong to God, or the devil.

"One cannot be pessimistic and Christian at the same time. We can be on the winning side and not win, however. If we mean what we say, the primary objective in our lives must not be selfish, but in winning the world for Christ. The resources of every individual is needed in evangelism. It is our responsibility to bring others into the fold of the Church. The Church cannot grow as the result of work by the clergy alone—every confirmed person can be an evangelist. We must all accept responsibility.

"The Lord was a grand organizer. He stressed the importance of good preaching, teaching and healing. We must see our duty in sharing in the eternal duties of Christians. Let us move forward together, fearing God, and nothing else."

Diocesan Banquet

The Parish Hall of Central Union Church was an array of colorful flowers the night of our Diocesan Banquet. Mrs. Gordon Halstead, Mrs. Joseph Palma, and Mrs. Thomas Waddoups, and their committee of women, had done a magnificent piece of work in the arrangements of the flowers for this occasion. Mrs. Flora Hayes and some of the women from the Hawaiian Congregation, dressed in holokus, sang for the occasion, lending atmosphere that only Hawaiian music can.

The Reverend Paul R. Savanack, Rector of St. Peter's Church, delighted the 425 guests in attendance with his graciousness as Toastmaster. Using Biblical characters as a means for introducing the honored guests at the head table, he was able to add humor to the seriousness of the occasion. The following guests were at the head table: Bishop and Mrs. Gray of Connecticut, Admiral and Mrs. Arthur W. Radford, Lt. General and Mrs. John W. O'Daniel, Lt. General and Mrs. Franklin A. Hart, Rear Admiral and Mrs. Stuart S. Murray, Bishop and Mrs. Gerald Kennedy, Bishop of the Methodist Episcopal Church in the Pacific area, The Rev. and Mrs. J. Leslie Dunstan, head of the Hawaiian Board of Missions, The Rev. and Mrs. Leonard Oechsli, Superintendent of the Methodist Church in Hawaii, the Rev. and Mrs. Thomas L. Crosby, Pastor of Central Union Church, The Rev. and Mrs. Richard Isler, head of the Honolulu Council of Churches, The Rev. and Mrs. William Fry, retired Superintendent of the Methodist Church in Hawaii, Chancellor and Mrs. Arthur G. Smith, the Rev. and Mrs. C. Fletcher Howe, head of the Oahu Clericus, Mrs. William Lin, President of the Diocesan Woman's Auxiliary, The Rt. Rev. and Mrs. Thomas Jenkins, and Bishop and Mrs. Kennedy.

The beautiful orchid corsages at the head table were made by, and the gift of, Mrs. Harry Feikert, of St. Mark's Church.

Service Crosses Awarded

The Bishop awarded two Distinguished Service Crosses at the Banquet—one to Mr. Kim Loon Ching, a member of St. Elizabeth's Parish, and Mrs. Ada Clancy, a member of St. Andrew's Cathedral. They were awarded with the following citations:

Kim Loon Ching

A distinguished and devoted laymen of the Missionary District of Honolulu, who for the past four years has been Secretary of the Diocesan Laymen's League, has been a member of the Cathedral Chapter of the Diocese, a member of the Board of Governors of St. Andrew's Priory, and Chairman of many Diocesan Committees for the promotion of the welfare of our Church's work. He has been an outstanding Vestryman of St. Elizabeth's Parish and in that capacity has given of his time and talents to the Church.

His enthusiastic leadership has been an inspiration and example to the laymen of our Diocese as a faithful and devoted Churchman. His humble spirit has made him beloved by all who know him. It is with grateful hearts that we acknowledge his great contribution to the life and work of the Church in the Missionary District of Honolulu, and present to him the Distinguished Service Cross as token of our appreciation and esteem.

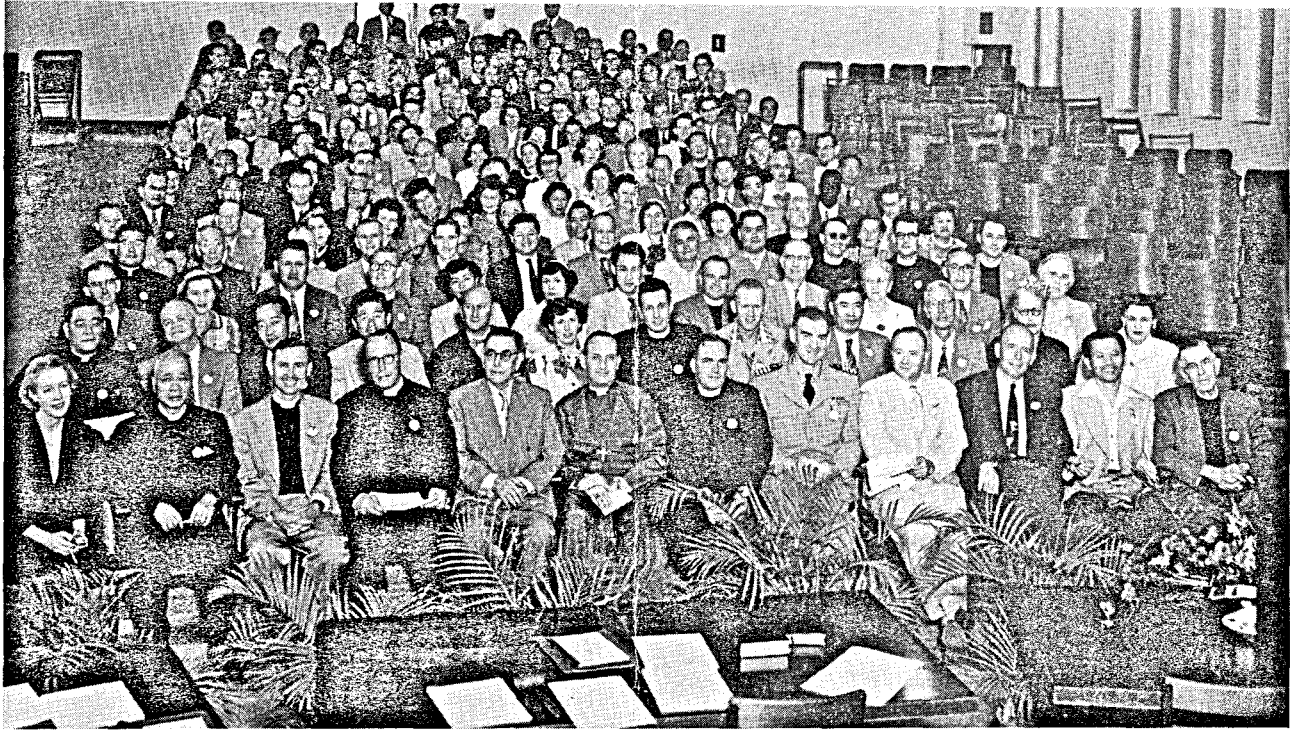

Ada Clancy

For faithful and devoted service in the Missionary District of Honolulu, we present to Mrs. Ada Clancy the Distinguished Service Cross of the Missionary District of Honolulu.

For many years she carried on the work of the Diocesan Altar Guild. Many women of our Church have been taught by her to do the expert needlework necessary to equip our altars and to make vestments for our clergy. Her beautiful and expert needlework can be found in all of our Churches.

It is with grateful hearts that we express to her in this way our gratitude for her humble devotion to our Lord, and the contribution she has made to the life and work of the Church in this Diocese.

stirring address. His wonderful contribution to our Convocation will long be remembered. He and Mrs. Gray endeared themselves to the people of Hawaii and left with the warm Aloha of us all. We felt privileged, indeed, to have them with us for this occasion.

An Expression of Appreciation

A Convocation never just happens! And it is a dangerous thing to try and express appreciation for the help given at such a time, for so many do so much and are never thanked, but we do wish to thank some who shared so graciously in its success. We wish to thank the Rev. Charles A. Parmiter, Jr., Headmaster of Iolani School, and his staff, who assisted in preparations for the opening service and the reception. Our gratitude is extended to the Vestry of St. Andrew's Cathedral and to Canon Trelease and his staff, for the many, many ways in which they helped with Convocation. The beautiful arrangement of Tenney Memorial Hall where meetings were held was done by Mrs. Kenneth Miller, Parish Secretary.

We wish to thank St. Peter's Vestry and the Rector for the use of their Parish Hall for the Convocation breakfast.

We are grateful, indeed, to Mrs. Kahiwa Lee and Cluett House for the delicious breakfast served the clergy the morning of their Conference.

To the Woman's Auxiliary of Holy Nativity Church we express our gratitude for the preparation and serving of the very fine breakfast served the delegates of Convocation, and to St. Andrew's Guild and Auxiliary for the luncheon served on Monday noon to the guests of Convocation.

Special commendation is given to Mrs. Raymond Hoefener, who gave of her services and time in the Bishop's Office prior to Convocation, and who acted as recording secretary during the business session of Convocation.

Youth Conference

The young clergy in our Diocese who guide the activities of youth deserve a special award for the masterful way in which they planned and conducted the Youth Conference. The Rev. Messrs: Richard M. Trelease, Jr., Diocesan Chairman of Youth, Robert Challinor, William Grosh, and Claude F. DuTeil did a fine work in preparation for the program at the Conference Center at Mokuleia and at the Banquet. Bishop Gray won the hearts of the young people with his talk to them. This was the largest attended conference, with thirty coming from the Islands of Hawaii, Maui, and Kauai. The following missions sent delegates to Convocation: St. James Church, Kamuela, Hawaii; Holy Innocents Church, Lahaina, Maui, St. John's Church, Kula, Maui; All Saints Church, Kapaa, St. John's Church, Eleele, St. Thomas' Church, Hanalei, and Christ Church, Kilauea, all of Kauai.

The Oahu YPF elected the following officers at the Conference.

President—Ruth Kim, St. Stephen's Church, Wahiawa; Vice-President, Anette Lum, St. Elizabeth's Church;

They visited in Honolulu three days before going on to the mainland. The Rev. Mr. Blanchard was guest speaker at the Annual Meeting of St. Clement's Church and also addressed the Canterbury Club.

Extend Sympathy

The entire Diocese joins in extending deep sympathy to the Reverend Richard U. Smith, rector of St. Christopher's Church, whose mother died February 21st. We also remember in our prayers Mrs. Samuel McCain, Christ Church, Kilauea, whose father, the Reverend Thayer Addison, at one time head of the Overseas Department of our National Council, died on February 12th, in Boston, Massachusetts.

News From Wake Island

Mr. Dudley Musson, our devout Layman on Wake Island, has written the following account of the typhoon that destroyed our chapel there, and the services held on Wake at Christmas:

"As you have probably heard, the typhoon here was an extremely severe one, and caught us with practically no warning, such storm advisories as we did have grossly underestimating the wind strength. We recorded 167 knots and since the force of the gale noticeably increased after the wind instruments had blown away, we feel that we received at least 180 knot winds. Duration of the "condition one" was longer than usual for such storms—from about 8:30 in the morning until after 4 in the afternoon. About 80 percent of all buildings on the island were destroyed. We were thankful, however, that there were no fatalities and actually only three or four injuries, none of them unduly serious. We evacuated all but the most essential personnel to Honolulu, however most of these, except for the dependents for whom we do not have housing, have now returned or have been replaced. We were back in "operational" status within a few days, but are now faced with a huge rehabilitation and rebuilding program, that is beginning to shape up pretty well.

"As you can imagine, our quonset chapel was an early casualty of the storm. Perhaps you saw the picture of its "remains" that was printed in the Honolulu papers and elsewhere. About all we could salvage was the wooden steeple which strangely enough dropped and remained in an upright position on what had once been the front porch and entry of the chapel. We also saved a few of the prayer books and hymnals, but the altar cross, candlesticks, organ, bible, Communion kit, etc. were all destroyed or blown completely away, presumably into the sea, since the greatest force of the wind was in that direction.

We of course missed the chapel greatly at Christmas time; we did have our regular—and for Wake I might say "traditional"—midnight carol service, holding it in the outdoors in our movie-showing location. We placed the chapel steeple in front of the seats, with its cross on top, and had the usual brief prayers, reading of the Christmas Gospel, and a large number of carols. For the latter, since we had no organ, and no piano on the island, I had arranged through my Dad (*) to have the organist at our church in Louisville record on tape the plain accompaniment to the hymns and carols desired; we then played this through the movie loudspeaker equipment to accompany the group singing.

Mr. Musson is now making plans to see if volunteer workers will assist in a temporary structure, where services of our Church may be held. We will, of course, have to erect a chapel in time, but just now the tremendous undertaking of rehabilitation of housing quarters is the first consideration of the people on Wake.

And This Happened To Tommy!

It is a pity that a story like this is true, but it is. It is a pity because it confuses you. You begin to wonder where missionaries are needed most—in far off China or in the heart of some of our mainland states.

This isn't the story of a boy from Hawaii who was sent to Korea and endured the hardships there. It is just the story of a Japanese boy from Hawaii who went to a camp on the mainland to do his duty for Uncle Sam and his army. He went along with 19 other young men from Hawaii. Some were Japanese and some were Hawaiian.

Ninety years ago the Anglican Church sent missionaries to Hawaii to teach the people of many races of our Lord Jesus Christ and His belief in the brotherhood of man. They learned a fairly good lesson in this, for they have learned to work, play, and pray together. They pretty well pattern their way of life after the teaching of the Prophet Malachi, when he said, "Have We Not All One Father; Hath Not One God Created Us?"

Tommy returned from Camp and his duty with the Army of the United States. He would have gone to Korea as willingly as he went to a camp not near a danger zone for further training. He had been a devout young man in one of our missions, doing anything he could to help the Church.

Tommy had been a Buddhist. His father was a Buddhist. His mother was dead. But he, his sisters and brothers loved the father who held them together with his devotion and care.

Tommy lived near an Episcopal Church on the Island of Kauai. He used to watch the Boy Scouts as they did things in the Church yard with their Japanese Scout Master. He was invited to join the troupe. He learned a lot from that Scout Master, a devout layman of the Church. He, too, had been converted to Christianity.

As he hiked, tied knots, and learned the ways of Scouting, Tommy learned of a Master the Scout Master loved and served. He heard from him that you could pray to this Master, if you were in trouble, and He would help you.

Gift Of Queen On Display

During Convocation we had on display the beautiful silver cup pictured here with some members of the Hawaiian Congregation, of which King Kamehameha IV and Queen Emma were members. It was loaned for the occasion by the Bishop Museum.

The cup was the gift of Her Majesty, Queen Victoria, to the little prince, son of King Kamehameha IV and Queen Emma, at the time of his baptism, August 27, 1862. She was Godmother of the Prince.

On the front of the cup is the crest of the British Empire; on the back the scene of a chariot race. At the neck of the cup, in the front, is engraved, "The Gift of Her Majesty, the Queen."

Pictured with the Bishop are: Mr. William Bishop Taylor, Mrs. William Williams, Mrs. Dick Chang, Mr. Byron Devonish, Mrs. George Kahikina, Dr. Joseph Peke-lo and Mrs. Pekelo.

One day Tommy's father became critically ill. This is his story, "I prayed to our god to help him get well. He became worse. So I decided to go into that Church and pray to my Scout Master's Saviour. He had told me Christ said, 'Ask in My Name and it shall be given unto you.' I was frantic. I didn't want my father to die, so I went into the Church. I had never been there before. It was dark, but there was a warmth there I could not explain. I prayed. I was sure that I knew Christ as I knelt there on my knees. I guess I stayed there almost all night. When I went home my father was better. I knew Christ had heard me." Simple as that. And he isn't ashamed to tell the story.

When he went to the mainland, his rector told him, "Now, when you go to the mainland, Tommy, you may get hurt. Sometimes people do that when they don't understand that we are all really children of God. But don't let it bother you, and don't forget your Church."

PRAYER BOOK PRESENTATION—Officers of the Puuloa group of the Episcopal Women's guild of St. Andrew's cathedral presented new prayer books to the Rev. David J. Coughlin at the Makalapa chapel where he conducts Episcopal services for residents of the Puuloa area. Funds to purchase the prayer books were raised by various projects conducted by women of the guild. Left to right: Mrs. J. F. Witherow, treasurer; Capt. J. P. Forsander, Fourteenth Naval District chaplain; Capt. G. A. Rosso, fleet chaplain; the Rev. Mr. Coughlin; Mrs. S. D. Simpson, president; and Mrs. E. R. Hill, Jr, secretary.

He returned to Hawaii. "Did you go to Church, Tommy?" his rector asked. "Well, no, Sir, I didn't. You see we went where some people didn't seem to understand us. The twenty of us from Hawaii went into a restaurant right after we got there. The manager asked us to leave. He wasn't too much of a gentleman about it, either. It hit a little 'beneath the belt' that first time. Our skin was dark and that was that. My buddies didn't understand as they had not been warned as you had warned me.

"I went back to camp and remembered what you had told me. So I got all the fellows out of their bunks and said to them, 'We mustn't feel this way. My rector once told me that we might get hurt this way because we aren't in Hawaii where color makes no difference and where we have not grown up on prejudices.' Oh, I was hurt a little when I tried to go to Church, and some of the people didn't seem to want me in the pew with them. Then I just decided God would understand, if I said my prayers in bed. Don't worry, because I'm coming back to my Church and I'm going to work harder than ever. I know what it means not to have your Church to worship and work in."

Sister Evelyn Improved

It is with a deep sense of thanksgiving to God that we note the improvement of Sister Evelyn Ancilla, Sister Superior of St. Andrew's Priory, who has been able to resume her classes after her recent illness.

Bishop's Objectives For 1953

Given to the 51st Annual Convocation in his Annual Address.

1. During Lent all parishes and missions to promote and encourage the reading of the Department of Christian Education's new book, THE WORSHIP OF THE CHURCH. Make it a Lenten study project for groups and individuals.
2. Every Vestry and Priest to promote and teach proportionate giving through tithing.
3. Every congregation to reach our young people with a well planned living program from the kindergarten up.
4. A subscription for the Hawaiian Church Chronicle for every pledge from every Church.
5. Re-vitalize our service of worship by more careful, and more thoughtful preparation and teaching.
6. Evangelize! There are thousands of non-Christians in our Islands who should be reached through well laid plans of Evangelism by clergy and laity in every community.
7. Every Mission's Bishop's Committee must accept a larger share of its priest's salary.
8. Establish prayer groups in each congregation where possible.
9. Study, Preach, and Teach so we may make more effective the world missionary program of our Church. Work, pray and Give for Missions.
10. Each one strive, through the Holy Scriptures and Sacraments of the Church, to "Know God better and Love Christ more!"

Gossip Town

Have you ever heard of Gossip Town

On the shores of Falsehood Bay,
Where old Dame Rumor with rustling gown
Is going the livelong day?

It isn't far to Gossip Town,

For people who want to go—
The idleness train will take you down
In just an hour or so.

The Thoughtless Road is a popular route
And most folks start that way,
It's steep down grade, if you don't look out
You'll land in Falsehood Bay.

You glide through the valley Vicious Town,
And into the Tunnel of Hate,
Then crossing the Add-to Bridge, you walk
Right into the city gate.

The principal street is called "They Say"
And "I've Heard" is the public well.
And breezes that blow from Falsehood Bay
Are laden with "Don't you Tell."

In the midst of the town is Tell-Tale Park,
You're never quite safe while there.
For its owner is Madame Suspicious Remark
Who lives in the street "Don't Care."

The curious thing to me appears
That nobody means to go!

But then "we couldn't stop our ears!
We listened!" . . . The rest you know

The safest way is to just refuse
To listen. If that should fail,
And if upon you they force their "news"
Then never repeat a tale!
