THE EPISCOPAL CHURCH IN HAWAII

OCTOBER, 1954

Statue of King Kamehameha I, first King of Hawaii, with Judiciary Building in background. It will be a welcoming mark to delegates for General Convention in September, 1955.

Mr. Arthur G. Smith

Appointed General Chairman of General Convention

The Right Rev. Harry S. Kennedy, Bishop of Honolulu, announces the appointment of Mr. Arthur G. Smith, Chancellor of the Missionary District of Honolulu, as Chairman for the 58th General Convention, which will convene in Honolulu September 4-16, 1955. He is perhaps one of the oldest in point of service of our Chancellors in the Church, having served in this capacity since 1914.

Mr. Smith is an outstanding lawyer in Honolulu, being associated with the firm Smith, Wild, Beebe and Cades. He was born at Tenant's Harbor, Maine. His preparatory education was at Coburn Classical Institute. He attended Colby College and received his A.B. and LL.D. degrees from Harvard.

After his admission to the Massachusetts Bar in 1908, he practiced in Boston for two years, where he met his present wife, Helen Chase Fessenden, daughter of William Pitt Fessenden. He moved to Honolulu and became associated briefly with the law firm of Kinney, Prosser and Anderson. In 1910 he was named Deputy Attorney General, Territory of Hawaii, in which capacity he continued eight years. In 1917-1918 he was Attorney General, but resigned after five months in order to enter private practice. In 1915 Mr. Smith became a member of the firm Smith and Wild, now the present firm in which he is a member.

He is a director of the Bishop National Bank of Hawaii, Bishop Trust Company, Hollister Drug Company, Honolulu Iron Works Company and the Hawaiian Printing Company. For twenty years he has served as a member of the Board of Regents of the University of Hawaii.

He is a member of the American Bar Association, Bar Association of Hawaii, University of Pennsylvania Museum, Social Science Association of Honolulu, Honolulu Art Society, Hawaiian Historical Society, Archaeological Institute of American, Zeta Psi, and the Pacific Club of Honolulu. From 1919-1933 he was attorney for the Hawaii Public Utilities Commission.

He is Senior Warden of St. Andrew's Cathedral and devout layman. In 1949 he was awarded the Bishop's Distinguished Service Cross for his outstanding devotion to the life and work of the Church in Hawaii.

General Convention Plans Go Forward

General Convention September 4-16, 1955, is something that every Episcopalian in Hawaii will soon be breathing and living many hours of every twenty-four until the time that it convenes. We venture to say that many who are not Episcopalians will soon join in the tremendous scope of preparations, and feel the impetus of the importance of this occasion.

Bishop Kennedy has made the announcement of the following Committee Heads. This will be multiplied many times as these Chairmen select their assistants. Clergy of our neighbor islands will be brought to Honolulu at least a month in advance to General Convention. Then they will be working on more than one committee, as tentatively outlined.

An office will soon be set up in one of the classrooms at St. Andrew's Priory — near our Diocesan Offices.

Interior of the new St. Alban's Chapel, Iolani School, at time of the Consecration Service.

Iolani Chapel Consecrated

Impressive, indeed, was the consecration of the new St. Alban Chapel, Iolani School, on Sunday, October 3rd, at 4 p.m. Clergy, members of the faculty, students of Iolani, and friends of Iolani joined in the glorious celebration of this consecration. A dream of long duration has been fulfilled in the completion of this beautiful new chapel. At long last our Iolani boys may worship in the atmosphere we have wished for them through the years.

The service started when Bishop Kennedy knocked on the Chapel door with his staff, asking entrance. The Board of Governors bade him entrance, and tracing the sign of the cross in the pavement with his staff, the Bishop blessed the Chapel entrance.

The Iolani Choirs, faculty and clergy of Oahu processed reciting the verses of the selected hymns, as the organ was not played until after the consecration had been completed. A special anthem, "Nun Danket" prepared by Mr. Frederick B. Rawson, was part of the service.

St. Alban's Chapel is a combination of modern and classical ideas. Mr. Edwin Bauer was the architect. Approximately 500 people can be seated in the chapel during a service, with an additional 400 comfortably accommodated on the lanais on either side of the church.

The Rev. Canon Frederick A. McDonald, new Headmaster and Rector, was installed by the Bishop at this service, making the occasion doubly impressive. He has announced that on Sundays a service of Holy Communion will be celebrated in the Chapel for members of the faculty, and the students of Iolani.

It is to be remembered that our Presiding Bishop and National Council made the final completion of this Chapel possible. Some years ago the Birthday Thank Offering of all children in our communion went toward this Chapel. In 1952 $35,000 was appropriated through the Presiding Bishop and National Council, making the building possible.

It was the vision of the Rt. Rev. S. Harrington Littell, retired Bishop of Honolulu, and the late Rev. Albert Stone then Headmaster of Iolani, that made possible the present site of Iolani. And it is upon the firm foundations of Bishops and laymen who have gone before — through the 92 years of Iolani's existence, that today we still give Christian leadership and training to our boys in this Church School. God grant that the young men who go forth from Iolani will cherish their heritage and exemplify the principles instilled in them in this school.

World Community Day is November 5

Let the Children Come Unto Me will be the theme of World Community Day, Friday, November 5. Sponsored annually by the General Department of United Church Women, World Community Day is the day set aside for study of methods of promoting world peace and as an expression of the concern of American Churchwomen for sharing material blessings with the needy of the world.

The Congregation Calvary Mission, Kaneohe, Oahu, worship in school cafeteria until they can get a chapel of their own. Recently 122 attended a service, showing the great need for this congregation to have a place of their own for worship. We are working hard toward this end.

United Thank Offering Ingathering

October 24th is the date designated by Mrs. Willard Buscher, Diocesan Chairman of the United Thank Offering, for the fall ingathering. All women of the Church in Hawaii will make their offering a generous one, we feel sure, especially with the General Convention coming to Hawaii in 1955.

Hawaii should have the largest offering ever presented by this District at the Triennial United Thank Offering service, to be held on Thursday, September 8, 1955, in the Civic Auditorium. We hope that our women will not have to wait to be impressed by this outstanding service of General Convention to know the full import of the United Thank Offering. To be sure, they can never fully appreciate the significance of this until they have seen such a service.

But let us, in Hawaii, remember what the Thank Offering has done for us. It has given toward the building funds of St. John's-by-the-Sea, St. Mark's, St. Elizabeth's, Calvary, St. Luke's; it has appropriated money toward the re-wiring of St. Andrew's Priory and the equipment of Epiphany Day School. In addition to this, it has given toward the salary of four women workers in this mission field, and has purchased a car for one of them. We have received over $50,000 from the UTO. How are we going to respond to this generous help?

*Be thankful! Give! Give because you are thankful!
Be thankful because you can give!*

Stop Briefly in Honolulu

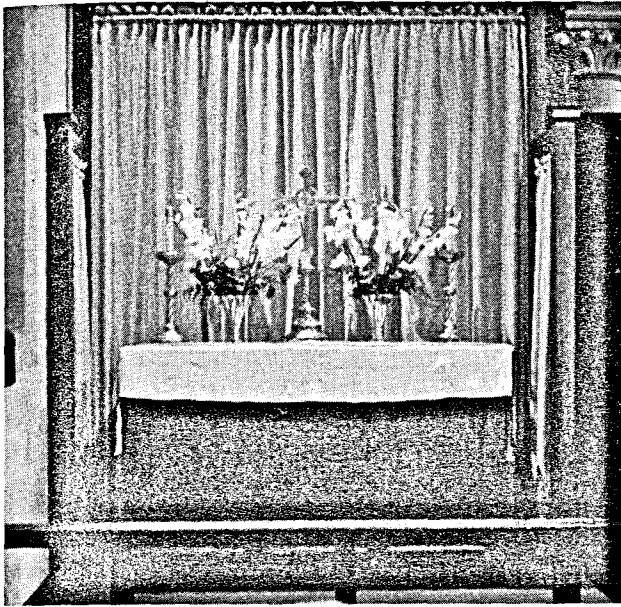

The Anglican Congress has afforded us the pleasure of greeting many of the Anglican Bishops on their way either to or from the Congress. Some who stopped briefly in Honolulu were: The Most Rev. Howard West Kilvington Mowll, D.D., Primate of the Church of England in Australia and Tasmania, and Archbishop of Sydney. He and Mrs. Mowll were with us both going and coming from the Congress. Archbishop Mowll has many friends in Hawaii who remember him with great affection.

The Rt. Rev. Philip Nigel Warrington Strong, Bishop of New Guinea, gave us great joy in seeing him again. We were delighted to meet the following bishops: The Rt. Rev. Ian Wotton Allnut Shevill, Bishop of North Queensland, the Rt. Rev. Cecil Emerson Barron Muschamp, Bishop of Kalgoorlie, and the Rt. Rev. and Mrs. Alwyn Keith Warren, Bishop of Christchurch, New Zealand.

The Rev. Manu Bennett, a close friend of Bishop Warren, arranged for a dinner at M's Ranch, Aina Haina, where the clergy, their wives, and friends could have the great privilege of hearing Bishop Warren speak. Both he and Mrs. Warren afforded a most delightful evening for those present, because they brought us first-hand information about the Anglican Congress. Their impressions of this were most fascinating.

Takes New Name

Our congregation on Molokai has chosen the name of Grace Episcopal Church, according to their Vicar, the Rev. W. Edwin Bonsey.

New altar in North Transcept of St. Andrew's Cathedral, given in memory of Annie K. Hart.

New Altar Dedicated

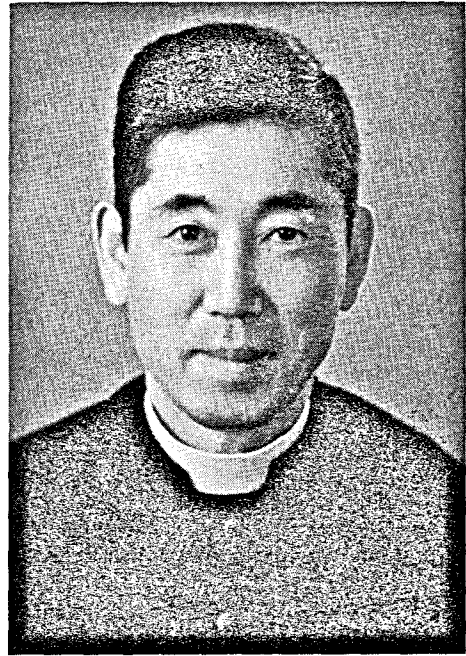

Sunday, September 9th, Bishop Kennedy consecrated the new altar in the north transept of the Cathedral. This altar is given to the Glory of God, and in loving memory of Annie K. Hart. Mrs. Hart was for many years a member of the Hawaiian congregation, as were members of the Hart Family. Her family and many friends sent memorials in the form of money to the Hawaiian Congregation of St. Andrew's Cathedral. Through this memorial fund the congregation was able to erect this lovely altar, platform, communion rail, credence table, missal and missal stand, carpet and kneeling cushions.

The altar has been placed here for the early Holy Communion services held each morning at seven o'clock in the Cathedral. It is of Koa wood, and beautifully wrought.

The Rev. Robert H. Challinor assisted the Bishop at this service of consecration.

Armed Forces Division Head Visits Pacific Area

As a guest of the Chief of Chaplains, Major General Charles I. Carpenter, USAF, Bishop Henry I. Louttit, D.D., Chairman of the Armed Forces Division of our National Council, left Washington, D.C., on September 10th, in a Special Missions Military Air Transport C-54 to visit the Far East. He stopped in Okinawa and visited with our missionaries there. He had some confirmations for the Rev. Canon William Heffner, for Bishop Kennedy. The itinerary included only Air Force Bases. He stopped in Honolulu for a very brief time before returning to the mainland, conferring with Bishop Kennedy and visiting our Army and Navy Center.

The Rev. Paul Kim

Arrives to Take Over Work at St. Luke's Mission

The Rev. Paul Kim arrived on Sunday, October 3rd, to assume his duties as Vicar of St. Luke's Korean Mission, Honolulu. He comes to us from Chongno Ku, Seoul, Korea.

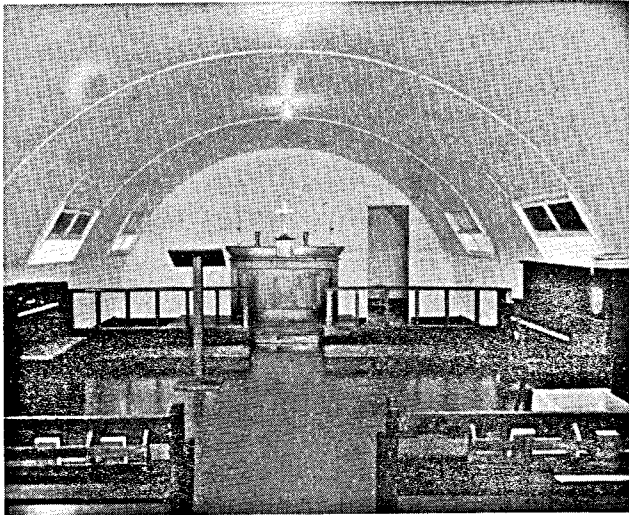

The Rev. Mr. Kim is a graduate from St. Stephen's House, Oxford, England. He was ordained to the Diaconate at the Church of the Holy Redeemer, London, England, in 1931, and Priest at the Cathedral of St. Mary and St. Nicolas, Seoul, Korea, in 1932. He has served in parishes in Seoul and Chung, Chong Pukdo, Korea. From 1945-1948 he was an advisor to the United States Military Government. From 1948 to the present time he has been Principal of the Chongju Commercial College, Congju, Chung Chong Pukdo.

He is married and has two children. They were left homeless by the Red Army and suffered many of the ravages of war at its hands. His family has not been able to come with him at this time, but will do so as soon as possible.

We welcome him to Hawaii and know that he will mean much to the people of St. Luke' Church, as well as to the Diocese.

Welcome New Son

The Rev. and Mrs. Samuel N. McCain, Christ Memorial Church, Kilauea, Kauai, welcomed their fourth child, Samuel Mark, on September 20th. We congratulate parents and son.

Newly renovated Quonset Hut being used by our congregation in the Pearl Harbor Area for their services. The people of this congregation have worked hard to make it attractive for their services.

ALOHA!

Days pass much too quickly when you know that friends are leaving — friends you may not see again for some time. That is the way we feel about the Rev. and Mrs. Manu Bennett, who will depart for New Zealand on the Orion, Sunday, October 17th, at 12 midnight.

The Bennetts have been with us for a year. They have made a tremendous contribution to the work of our Church during this time. They came on a goodwill venture. The Bishop of Wellington could not have sent us a more able priest for this mission. And his wife, Kathleen, has made her great contribution, as well. They will be taking back much of Hawaii with them, when they sail from our shores, because they will have the affectionate Aloha of all who know them.

On the same ship with them will be the Rt. Rev. and Mrs. Stanley Kempthorne, Bishop of Fiji. They, too, have many devoted friends in Hawaii. We regret that their stay in Honolulu, on their return from the Anglican Congress, will be for only one day, but rejoice that we will have an opportunity for a short visit at least.

To be Convocation Guest

The Very Reverend Paul Roberts, Dean of St. John's Cathedral, will be our guest for Convocation, February 11-15th. Dean Roberts was in Honolulu two years ago and conducted a Clergy Conference at Mokuleia. He is a dynamic speaker and will give the people of our Church a real stimulus in spiritual thought. We are delighted he has accepted our invitation to come during this time, and shall welcome him with a very warm Aloha.

Maui County Clericus Holds First Meeting

The Rev. Messrs. Norman C. Ault, E. Lani Hanchett, and Edwin Bonsey and Archdeacon Claude F. Du Teil met as a clericus the first Tuesday in September and planned to hold similar meetings each month. They used their meeting as a kind of clearing house to share ideas and insights on everything from Every Member Canvasses to Sunday School pictures. They projected plans for inter-church programs for training teachers, choristers, and lay-readers. The clergy wives got together at the same hour, meeting in the Wailuku rectory. Young Mrs. Bonsey, popular secretary at Camp Mokuleia last summer, flew over from Molokai for the day along with her husband, with the clericus as a whole sharing in the expense of bringing them over.

Maui No Ka Oi at Aina Haina

The clergy families of Maui and Molokai couldn't be present for the dedication services at the Church of the Holy Nativity, so they shared the cost of sending one of the famous Maui carnation leis to Mrs. John J. Morrett, wife of the Vicar. The Maui clergy wives protested the leis are better suited, in size, for a Kentucky Derby winner, but their husbands would have nothing less . . . for as Shakespeare said: "Maui No Ka Oi."

Distinguished Visitors Coming

The Rt. Rev. John Stoward Moyes, D.D. Bishop of Armidale, N.S.W. Australia, will arrive in Honolulu for the day on October 9th. He will be the luncheon guest of our clergy and will speak to them. He is returning from the Anglican Congress, where he was one of the guest speakers. It will be a privilege for our clergy to meet with him.

The Rev. Bryan Green will arrive on Ash Wednesday, February 23rd, to conduct Lenten meditations for the Honolulu Council of Churches. We know his ability as a preacher and will rejoice in the opportunity to hear him during his stay in Honolulu.

News from Formosa

The Rev. Theodore Yeh is diligently searching for property where we can establish our own Church so that the work may grow more rapidly. This can happen only when we have a place of our own for meetings for the women, men, and young people.

The Rev. Mr. Yeh wrote of being awakened in the night by the anti-aircraft planes that flew over Kinmen. It is disquieting to have the threat of war so near, but the Rev. Mr. Yeh seems to be taking it quite in his stride.

Stewardship

The English artist, George Frederick Watts, once painted a picture of a knight in armor, lying in death. The epitaph below the painting reads,

"What I kept, I lost; what I spent, I had; what I gave, I have."

This reminds us of the words of Jesus in the Fourth Gospel: "The glory Thou has given Me, I have given them." What we have is not something to be possessed, hoarded. It is something that must be given away, transm'ted to others, shared. The Gospel is essentially Good News. It is a joyous message to be relayed to spiritual wayfarers.

The Christian way of life is built upon this principle of sharing. If we are loyal followers of Jesus, loyalty means no less than this. One indicts his own spiritual experience if he attempts to reserve for his own special use what belongs to all men, everywhere.

All that we ask in this Every Member Canvass is the privilege of claiming new areas for the Lord Christ, to offer Christian nurture as this Church has learned the same from the rich leaf-mould of long and sacred tradition. The world is full of beleaguered and harassed souls seeking the assurance of pardon, seeking the benediction of peace. Christ speaks to these souls through us, Christ seeks them through us.

Sharing means our acceptance of the office stewards. It is a distortion of the truth to imagine that Christianity does not involve sacrifice. Where the Lordship of the Christ is acknowledged there follows the dedication of our goods and of ourselves for the upbuilding of His Kingdom.

It is futile to try to argue anyone into sacrificial giving or dedication. We can only appeal, as did the Master, "Launch out into the deep."

If we believe that we are undertaking something which is dear to God, and that we have His assistance, His support, His cooperation (if we may use that word) as yoke-fellow of Christ, nothing is impossible.

The whole matter is summed up in the story that is told of the artist who had painted a likeness of Christ, and who was standing before where it hung upon the wall of a gallery in Munich. A woman approached him and exclaimed rapturously upon the spirituality and insight and technical genius which had enabled him to produce so penetrating and beautiful a likeness of the Master. His rejoinder is luminous. "I could have painted Him better, if I had loved Him more."

The Rt. Rev. Karl Morgan Block

There will be fewer incorrigible children when we have more disciplined parents.

The Rev. Stephen E. T. Kim, St. John's Mission, Nago, Okinawa, and his family pose before the altar in their home. Church services for their people are held in their home until their new Church building is completed. The Rev. Mr. Kim and family will be in Honolulu in early December for a short stay.

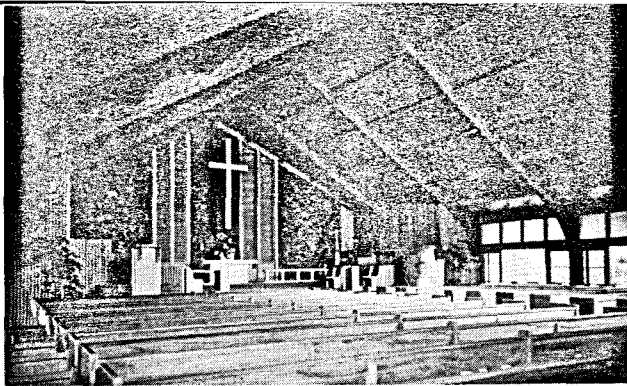

Fair Election Practices

Six national religious leaders in the U.S. joined recently in urging the national Republican and Democratic parties to adopt a "Fair Elections Practices Declaration," eliminating racial and religious prejudices from the 1954 congressional campaign and to set up machinery for policing violations.

Both the Republican national chairman, Leonard W. Hall, and the Democratic national chairman, Stephen P. Mitchell, were asked also to transmit the elections statement to their respective state chairmen so that they, too, could indicate publicly their approval of its contents.

The leaders asking adoption of the Declaration are: The Rt. Rev. Henry Knox Sherrill, Presiding Bishop PECUSA; the Most Rev. Edwin V. O'Hara, Bishop of the Roman Catholic Diocese of Kansas City, Mo.; Dr. Julius Mark, Rabbi of the Temple Emanu-El, New York City; Dr. George N. Shuster, President of Hunter College (a Roman Catholic layman) New York City; Mrs. Douglas Horton (Mildred McAfee Horton) President, National Social Welfare Assembly, Congregationalist; and Irving M. Engel, president of the American Jewish Committee.

The anti-prejudice declaration calls for organizing non-partisan, non-sectarian committees in every community in the U.S. "to keep a watchful eye on campaign activities and to call to the attention of political leaders any instances of appeal based on religious or racial prejudice."

Interior of Holy Nativity Church, Aina Haina, Honolulu. The beauty of this new church, recently dedicated, cannot be seen from this picture. The chancel is the width of the Church, and is beautifully carpeted in soft green. The altar is of white marble, as is the suspended cross above it. The wall is of coral rock. We are proud, indeed, of this new addition to our Diocesan property.

Leadership Training Program

Monday, September 27th, at 6:30 p.m., over two hundred people met in Davies Hall, St. Andrew's Cathedral, for the opening meeting of the Leadership Training Program, planned by the Department of Christian Education for the Diocese, of which the Rev. Burton L. Linscott is chairman. The Bishop was the main speaker, giving a review of the plans thus far for General Convention, and presenting the picture of what lies before us in preparation for the 58th General Convention of our Church.

With the coming of General Convention, emphasis is to be placed upon the study of all phases of this, in the opening sessions of the October 4 — November 1st Meetings. The Rev. Paul R. Savanack, the Rev. John J. Morrett, the Rev. Canon Frederick A. McDonald, and Mrs. George Goss will present different phases of the Convention.

The following program will be given:

October 4th —

The Episcopal Church, The Rev. Burton L. Linscott

Source Materials, The Rev. Evans Scroggie and the Rev. Robert H. Challionor

Youth Basketball League

The Episcopal Y.P.F. basketball league, consisting of nine teams, concluded its schedule on June 27, 1954, with the Hawaiian Congregation Association winning the championship with a record of eight wins and no losses. Good Samaritan Mission took second place with six wins and two losses. Tied for third were Epiphany and Hawaiian Congregation, each having won five games while losing three.

The champions also dominated the team statistics scoring 428 points in eight games for an average of 53.5 points a game to become the leading offensive team, and holding their opponents to 271 points or 33.88 points a game to become the leading defensive team. Good Samaritan Mission was the second highest scoring team with 371 points or 46.38 points a game, while St. Elizabeth was the second best defensive team allowing only 244 points in seven games or 34.86 points a game.

George Nishihara of the Hawaiian Congregation Association won the individual scoring championship with 187 points or an average of 23.38 points per game. Patrick Tanibe of St. Marks was second with 129 points or 18.42 points a game, while Charles Fujioka of Good Samaritan scored 123 points, averaging 15.38 points a game, to win third place.

AT LAYMEN'S CONFERENCE—Men representing the three Episcopal congregations on Maui and the Episcopal Mission on Molokai are pictured above discussing the "buzz session" reports on motives for lay support of the church's program at the Laymen's conference held at the Good Shepherd Episcopal Church. The conference began at 9:30 a.m. and continued until 9 p.m. In photo above are: Karl Manke (extreme left), conference leader, of Wahiawa, Oahu; Andres Libed, Arthur Baldwin, James Tozer, Richard Hanchett, Edwin Bowmer, Richard Thomas, Stanley Raymond, Edwin Lindsey, William Neilson, the Rev. Edwin Bonsey, Fred Van Voast, the Rev. Lani Hanchett, Robert Asato, Adolph Leong, the Rev. Norman Ault, August Markham, Edwin Bonsey Sr., Norman Weight, James Greig, Assistant Conference Leader John Harding, and the Ven. Claude Du Teil. Missing from picture are conference members Ralph Baldwin and John Wilmington, III.

Appreciation to our Laymen

We wish to commend Mr. Karl Manke, of St. Stephen's Church, Wahiawa, Oahu, and Mr. Jack Harding, of St. Clement's Church, Honolulu, for the very splendid work they are doing in training laymen for the approaching Every Member Canvasses of our churches.

They led a conference on the Island of Oahu, having a splendid response from our men, in an all-day Conference on September 11th. On September 18th they went to Maui for a Conference. The picture of the clergy and laymen attending this is in this issue of the Chronicle. Mr. F. V. Van Vorst, of the Church of the Good Shepherd Maui, wrote a wonderful article on this for the Maui News. He stated: "The spirit of Christian fellowship was never more prevalent than at the Laymen's Conference last Saturday. Laymen from all the Episcopal Churches on Maui were present . . . We want to thank Karl Manke and Jack Harding for coming to Maui to lead us in this conference."

On the weekend of the 25th September they went to Kauai. From this Island wonderful reports have come of the good that came from their leadership.

The Bishop and Diocese wish to thank them for the tremendous contribution they are making in instructing laymen to know more about their Church. When busy men like these can give time and effort for the furthering of the Kingdom, it means much.

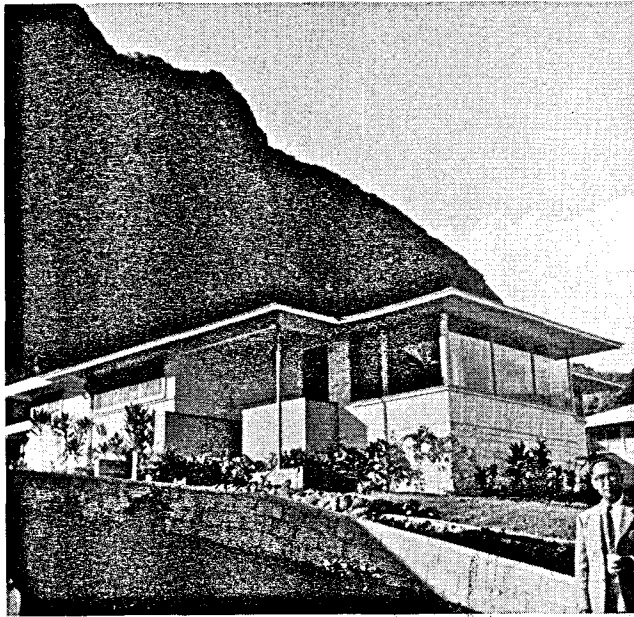

The Every Member Canvass

That time of year again? Yes — that time — when you can have an opportunity to give thanks for the gifts and blessings that have come to you by giving generously to the work of the Church.

It is only through sacrificial giving that we can make the Church strong in the work that lies before us. We fall so short in so many ways because we expect the Church to give to us — not that we give to the Church.

The theme of the Every Member Canvass, as given to us by National Council, is "As the Lord Has Blessed You . . . Give for His Work." God knows our abilities to give. He also knows our weaknesses in thinking of ourselves and not what we can do to further the Kingdom. He knows it, because the world today is facing a crisis due to men who have considered more the Almighty Dollar than Almighty God. He knows it because Christianity is fighting against a force that proclaims the equal privileges of all, yet saps from them their freedom to think, to worship and to live as free men. He knows it because we are too busy with other things than His work. He knows it because we do not take the opportunities to give thanks for "All things come of Thee" and return in full measure "And of Thine Own Have We Given Thee."

Tithing or giving of at least 5% of our income to the work of the Church is in keeping with Christian practice.

New St. Andrew's Cathedral Hawaiian Congregation rectory at 3333 Keahi Street Honolulu.

Rectory Blessed

The rectory of the Hawaiian Congregation of St. Andrew's Cathedral was blessed by the Bishop on Sunday, September 26th. The new rectory is most attractive and a very fine addition to the Diocesan Church property. We are delighted that the Rev. and Mrs. Robert H. Challinor and young son are so happily situated in their new home. The Iolani Guild of the Congregation served refreshments for the reception that followed.

Welcome New Daughter

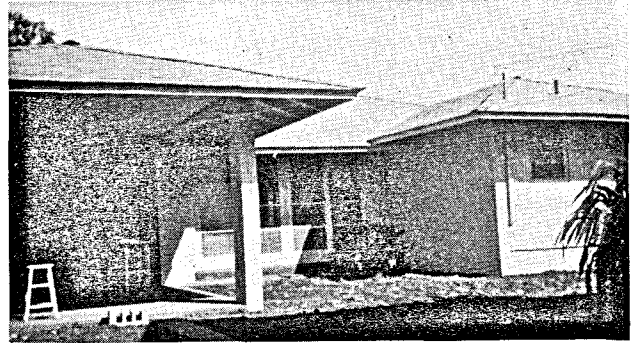

The Rev. Anson P. Stokes, Jr., Bishop Coadjutor-elect of Massachusetts, and Mrs. Stokes welcomed a second daughter recently. Dr. Stokes was the former rector of St. Andrew's Cathedral. We rejoice in their young daughter's arrival. They have a daughter, Carol, seven years of age.

Dr. Stokes will be consecrated Bishop Coadjutor of Massachusetts in early December. He and Mrs. Stokes plan to attend General Convention next year, so we will welcome them with a very warm Aloha.

New Pavilion to be Dedicated

Sunday, October 10th, at 4 p.m., the Bishop will dedicate the new Canterbury Club Pavilion, in back of Canterbury House. The work at the University of Hawaii, with Episcopal students, has grown so under the leadership of the Rev. Keith Kreitner that it has been necessary for a larger place to hold Holy Communion services, etc. They are going to place an altar in the Pavilion for this purpose.

We hope that many of our people will share in this dedication service with the Canterbury Club members.

New rectory, St. Mark's Church, Honolulu.

Hawaii Episcopal Academy Renovated

Many improvements have been made to the buildings at the Hawaii Episcopal Academy, through the efforts of Mr. and Mrs. Hartwell Carter and members of the Board of Governors. Mr. Carter is Chairman of the Board. The buildings have been painted to match the color of the Mission. One classroom has been entirely re-built. We are grateful, indeed, for these many improvements.

bring General Convention to Hawaii. Anglican Bishops from the Far Pacific, passing through Honolulu to and from the Anglican Congress, have been most enthusiastic in their commendation of this decision, because they feel that the focus of all eyes is upon the Asiatic world, and this will bring a broader vision of the Church at work and make firmer the Brotherhood of Man. It is their firm conviction that our Presiding Bishop has a vision that will go down in Church History as a turning point in missionary understanding and endeavor.

General Convention in Boston appropriated $25,000 for the host city of the 58th General Convention. We will do everything possible to not only keep within this amount, but to use even less. Since our Iolani School will be used for the meeting places, we will have no expenditure for the rental of meeting places, offices, office furniture, etc. We will, of course, have necessary expenses.

To offset the extra cost of travel from the west coast to Honolulu we will have rooms available, free of charge, at Iolani School, St. Andrew's Priory, the Diocesan buildings, and University of Hawaii dormitories to take care of those desiring this hospitality. Many private homes will also be available to delegates for free hospitality.

Our committees are arranging for transportation and sightseeing. Noon day meals will be served at Iolani School at a very minimum cost.

Our plan is to keep everything as simple as possible, but at the same time provide for the needs of General Convention and to show our guests the warmth of Hawaiian hospitality. Certainly the Presiding Bishop could not have selected a more ideal location for showing the whole Church that men of all races and cultures can gather together in work, play, worship and fellowship. We pray that our Church members will go back from General Convention filled with a new concept of the meaning of what our Lord meant when He said, "Go preach — into all the corners of the world."

FOUR INSURANCE QUESTIONS

You believe in Insurance, of course. We don't have to sell you on its value.

Four questions are of the utmost importance in planning your insurance program.

1. How much can you afford?
2. Is it the kind you ought to have?
3. Are the companies in which your policies are held substantial and dependable?
4. Are the general agents representing these companies experienced and reliable?

We will be glad to help you answer Questions 1 and 2. Questions 3 and 4 will answer themselves.
