EPISCOPAL CHURCH IN HAWAII

NOVEMBER • 1960

HAWAIIAN

The intriguing facts in science hold these Lalani School boys fascinated. Lalani School for boys, Honolulu, has an enrollment of 1001 students.

On his way to the meeting of the House of Bishops, the Bishop stopped for a visit with our seminarians at The Church Divinity School of the Pacific. They dined together the night he was there. Shown in the first picture, left side of the table, front to back, are: John Maxson, Thomas Kunichika, Mrs. Maxson, Victor Krulak, Darrow Aiona, the Bishop, David Auyong, Fred Minuth, John Liu. Right of the table are: Edmund Der, Mrs. Piltz, Guy Piltz, Thomas Yoshida, Paul Kennedy, Helen Tashiro, Mrs. Minuth, David Kennedy, Mrs. David Kennedy.

Episcopal Centennial Advance Program

As a diocesan family we are looking forward to the celebration of the Centennial of the founding of the Episcopal Church in the Hawaiian Islands. This celebration will occur in 1962 and will be marked by many memorable experiences now in the making. Perhaps the most memorable of these experiences will occur in the coming year, 1961, about ten months before the opening of the Centennial: namely, the Episcopal Centennial Advance Program.

As the result of the action of two successive Convocations of the diocese a committee was appointed to look into the possibility of developing a program of advance in the Church in Hawaii which could give meaning and strength to our Centennial celebration. The Convocation suggested that this could be in the form of a corporate gift from all members of the Church. The committee made its final report to the Board of Directors in September of this year, whereupon the Board acted upon its authorization by Convocation and approved a 1961 campaign for capital funds in an amount necessary to carry forward the work of the diocese in accordance with a proposal of the committee for the Episcopal Centennial Advance Program.

The purposes and objectives of our Episcopal Centennial Advance Program would justify an amount many times over the minimum goal approved by the Board of Directors, which amounts to $350,000.00, but this approved goal will meet the needs of the present and set our Church far forward in the great work we have established here in the past century. The goal of $350,000.00 will be distributed as follows:

Diocesan Endowment	$150,000.00
1. Diocesan Office and Bishop's Salary
2. Training of Theological Students
3. Church Program at East-West Center
Church Divinity School of the Pacific	$ 50,000.00
Island Wide Advance	$ 45,000.00
Development of our conference centers at Mokuleia, Oahu; Pecusa, Maui; Ha-nalei, Kauai; Kamuela, Hawaii.
Diocesan Expansion	$105,000.00
1. Maunawili Mission (A New Church)
2. Waimanalo (Expansion of Property)
3. Hawaii-Kai (Land for Church)

Every communicant and every congregation will want to do their part to bring this undertaking to a glorious fulfillment. It is the greatest single effort the Church in Hawaii has ever made as a diocese and it is a call for Christian statesmanship and the finest churchmanship of which each of us is capable. Every one of us will be called; let us answer with ready faith and good purpose, knowing that we are engaged in God's work. There is no higher purpose than that.

In T. S. Elliot's famous Canterbury play, the Archbishop, Thomas A-Becket has a hard decision to make. He has to decide whether to do what the King wants him to do, or be killed. And as he tries to make up his mind, he is torn by a number of temptations, and the last temptation is the most insidious of all. It is the temptation to do the right thing for the wrong reason. What we are about to do in the Episcopal Centennial Advance Program is the right thing, now let us rise to its challenge and answer with the love of God and His Church that lies sometimes sleeping but never dead in the hearts of all of us, and meet the nobleness of a great call with our own.

The Right Reverend T. Sherwood Jones, retired Bishop of Hulme, Manchester, England, was the guest of Bishop and Mrs. Kennedy while he stopped in Honolulu for a few days, enroute to Auckland, where he participated in the consecration of his son-in-law, Archdeacon Eric A. Gowing as Bishop of Auckland, on November 1st. He is 89 years young—with a great zest for life. He brought greetings to St. Andrew's Cathedral the Sunday he was in Honolulu.

Guam's Growing Pains

The Church of St. John the Divine on Guam is starting its first permanent structure in erecting a parish hall. We are pleased that they are able to start this much needed project.

The Reverend Grosvenor M. Needham, in charge of the work on Guam, is going to Chi Chi Jima to see how we can best minister to the people there. They have requested the services of a priest, so he will plan to make regular trips to them, through the aid of the navy air force, since they are the only ones who can go into the island.

The Reverend Robert Sheeran conducts a chapel service in the St. Andrew's Priory Close during the time when a new organ was being installed in St. Andrew's Cathedral, so services could not be held there. The Reverend Mr. Sheeran is Chaplain of the school for girls, with an enrollment of 617.

Parish Hall Dedicated

The Charles Hookano Memorial Hall, St. John's-by-the-Sea, Kahaluu, Oahu, was dedicated on Saturday night, November 15th, by the Reverend Roger M. Melrose, Vicar. The parish hall was made possible by a gift of $8,000 from the United Thank Offering of the women of our National Church. It is a most attractive and necessary addition to the Church property.

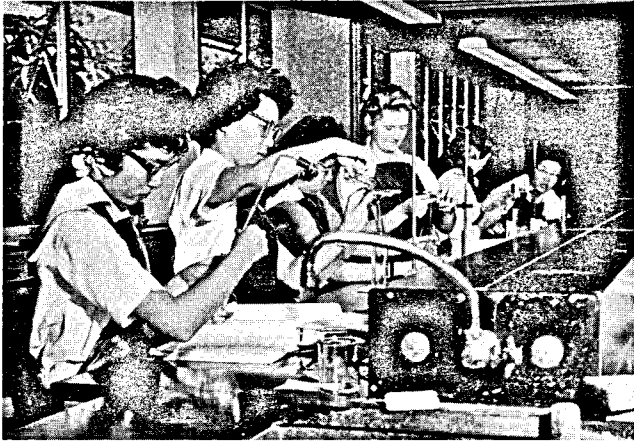

A chicken dinner, sponsored by the women of the Mission, was held following the dedication. Charles Hookano was a dedicated and devout lay reader of St. John's for many years.

To General Convention

Both Okinawa and Taiwan will have booths at the General Convention in Detroit next year. They will display their work so that the Church may know about what they are doing in these mission fields.

New Seminarians

The Church Divinity School of the Pacific has the following new seminarians from Hawaii: Darrow Aiona, Victor Krulak, Guy Piltz, Fred Minuth and David and Paul Kennedy. This makes twelve men from the Islands studying at CDSP.

St. Andrew's Priory students enjoy their science laboratory work.

Attends Conference

Deanna Tyau, St. Andrew's Priory '61, was Hawaii's first delegate to the International Girls Friendly Society Conference. The GFS Conference was held in Asilomar, California, July 17 through 22.

Deanna boarded the UAL jet flight to San Francisco on July 14. Her first time away from home, Deanna thought that the plane felt just like an elevator. "The fog was so thick when we came in," she said, "that I couldn't see the water or even the landing field."

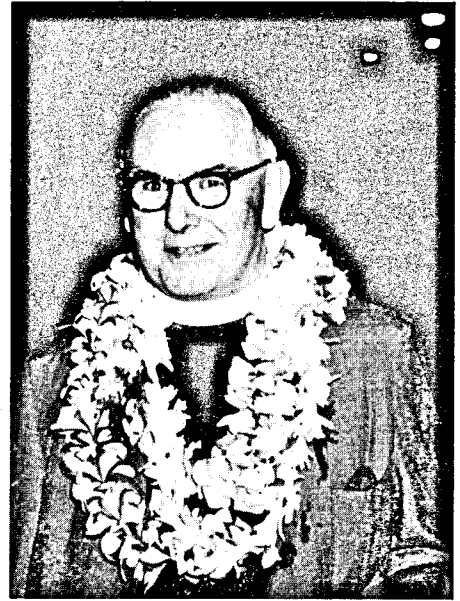

In San Francisco, Deanna toured with a former Iolani teacher, Miss Mary Whitten. She also met the International GFS president, Mrs. Simm, who is from Ireland. Deanna described her as a brisk and energetic woman with rosy cheeks unmarred by make-up.

Attends Hi-Y Congress

Caroline Ward, a St. Andrew's Priory senior, and daughter of the Reverend and Mrs. Arthur Ward, of Iolani School, was a member of the Hawaii delegation to the ninth National Hi-Y Congress at Miami University, Oxford, Ohio. 850 high school students met at this Congress from June 25th to the 30th. These young people represented various Y.M.C.A. associations across the nation. The purposes of this assembly were to make recommendations to the Hi-Y Council and to elect officers.

Full Salary Paid

Epiphany Church, Honolulu, is to be congratulated on assuming the full salary of the Vicar, the Reverend Burton L. Linscott. This is a great step forward toward self-support, and we are deeply grateful to them.

The Reverend Canon Max Warren, general secretary of the Church Missionary Society in the Church of England, who with Mrs. Warren stopped in Honolulu enroute from a mainland speaking tour. He spoke to our clergy, giving them a magnificent insight into world conditions.

Advent Corporate Communion

Sunday, November 27th the men and boys of the Episcopal Church will join in a corporate Communion service in every mission and parish in the Church. This annual service is one our men and boys look forward to. Most churches have a breakfast following the service, as a time for fellowship.

Cathedral Thanksgiving Market

The Annual Thanksgiving Market of St. Andrew's Cathedral will be held on Tuesday, November 22nd. This is always a very outstanding affair each year. It is a time when much shopping can be done for Christmas and good food can be secured to keep you out of the kitchen on Thanksgiving Day. Be sure and support it.

Welcome Son

Though a Chaplain and Master at St. Paul's Boy's School, Concord, New Hampshire, the Reverend Richard L. Aiken is still canonically resident in this District. We congratulate him and his wife, Carole, on the arrival of Andrew Mitchell, on October 1. They have a daughter Allison, three years of age.

The new lower dormitory at the Hawaii Preparatory Academy, Kamuela, Hawaii, a boarding school for boys.

The student's rooms in the new dormitory at the Hawaii Preparatory Academy have ample natural lighting, and sufficient room for the usual two occupants. Rooms on the mountain side of the dorms offer a panoramic view of the major mountains of Hawaii and the Pacific.

Women, Are You Among Those Present?

Monthly island-wide meetings of the Episcopal Churchwomen on Oahu have been most interesting as to the programs arranged by Mrs. Thomas Broadhead. The next meeting will be held on November 17th, starting with Holy Communion at 10 a.m. at St. Barnabas Church, Ewa. The speaker will be Captain Rolland Sagum, of the Police Department, who has worked with Juvenile Delinquency and now heads the Department of Crime Prevention. He will have as his topic: Are you an Adult Delinquent?

The date for the December meeting has not been set, but it will be in Parke Memorial Chapel at St. Andrew's Cathedral for a Quiet Day, to be led by Dr. Shelton H. Bishop, from 9:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m.

The Bishop feels that island-wide meetings provide a wonderful opportunity for our women to share in worship, education and fellowship, and to know our churches in action. Are you being counted among those present? We hope so.

Extend Sympathy

The entire Diocese extends deep sympathy to Mrs. Carl Pischell, who has been a devout member of the Executive Committee of the Episcopal Churchwomen of Hawaii for many years, and to Miss Evelyn Pischell, a teacher at St. Andrew's Priory, in the death of their husband and father. Funeral services were held at Holy Nativity Church Monday, October 17th, the Reverend John J. Morrett officiating.

Tokyo Bishop to Visit Okinawa

The Anglican Bishop of Tokyo, the Right Reverend David M. Goto, D.D., was scheduled to arrive on Okinawa on November 8th, for a ten day visit, at the invitation of the Bishop, for whom he will take confirmations. He will have a retreat for the clergy at All Souls' Church, Machinato. On November 15th he will unite in marriage the Reverend Peter Shinjo, of St. Michael's Church, Nanseien leper colony in Miyako, and Miss Simiko Higa, at St. St. Peter's and St. Paul's Church, Naha.

Prior to Bishop Goto's elevation to the episcopate in 1959, he was Chaplain of St. Paul's University, and Professor of Christian Ethics and Church History. In June the Virginia Theological Seminary, where he was a graduate in 1937, conferred an honorary degree of Doctor of Divinity upon him. He hopes some day to build a great cathedral in Tokyo as a visible symbol of the presence of God in the largest city in the world.

World Relief

Although the World Refugee Year proclaimed by the President to run until the end of June 1960 is over many of us know more about the millions of refugee men, women, and children whose existence has become one of the most serious problems facing the free world today. We should be concerned over the future of these people not only because of our Christian faith, but even more so because of the future of our civilization and its institutions, our churches, and our homes. The unsolved and neglected refugee problem constitutes an ever present threat to the structure of our Christian way of life. We must agree that this problem cannot be solved with one proclamation or resolution, but through continuing prayer and action.

In Honolulu we have undertaken the resettlement of refugees of Dutch nationality from Indonesia. The Wolff family has been sponsored by Calvary Church, and other missions have expressed an active interest in being a part of the solution.

On Hallowe'en the children have solicited funds from the neighborhood for the Share Our Surplus (S.O.S.) and United Nations International Children's Education Fund (UNICEF). Our attention is now called to the annual Presiding Bishop's Fund for World Relief. This offering is usually received on Thanksgiving Day or a Sunday near this day when special prayers will be offered for refugees and other homeless people. This "Fund" will:

1—Help World Council of Churches to resettle refugees in the countries which can receive them, or integrate them in the economy where they are now staying.

2—Provide better care for refugee children in the orphanages, and the old people in old people's homes.

3—Provide for recreation summer camp experiences for refugee children.

4—Buy surplus government food for overseas distribution.

Interior of our Episcopal Gift Shop.

Episcopal Gift Shop

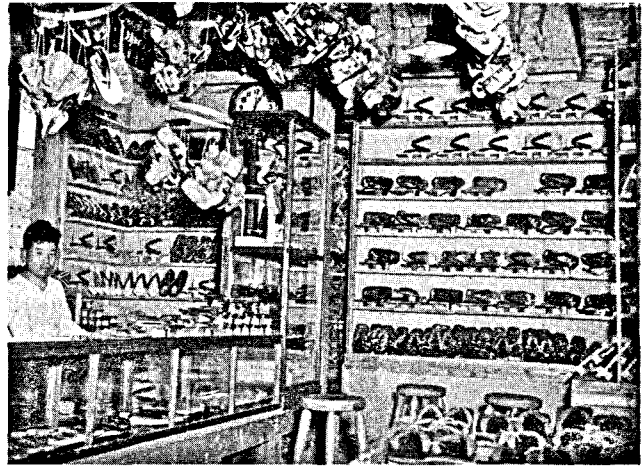

Christmas is just around the corner, and gifts of a very attractive nature can be found in the Gift Shop close to St. Andrew's Cathedral, in the Diocesan House garden. Many attractive and unusual gifts may be found here, gifts anyone would look upon with envy. Carved Madonnas and figurines from the Philippines, attractive gifts from Taiwan and Okinawa. It is well worth your time to drop in any day except Saturday, from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m.

To Build a New Parish Hall

St. Luke's Korean Church, Honolulu, hopes soon to start work on a new and sorely needed parish hall. These people have worked very hard to get enough funds gathered together to start their project. We hope they may soon realize a dream of many years.

UTO to the Front Again

The Vicarage of Grace Church, Molokai, boasts of two new bedrooms and a bathroom due to the thoughtful gift of our United Thank Offering. We are deeply indebted to our National Churchwomen for a grant of $2,640 to complete this project.

Okinawan shoe store. In rural areas when you hear "cloppety, cloppety, clop" it is probably one of the ladies in the neighborhood hurrying along in her geta—wooden clogs with heels like stilts of varying heights.

New Vicarage For Kohala

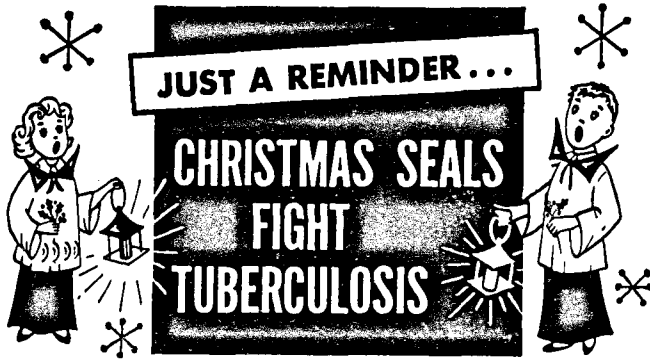

Unless one has made the actual acquaintance of a termite he does not know the damage that can be wrought by the busy little "beasts." St. Augustine's Vicarage, Kohala, Hawaii, has fallen to its foe! It is now necessary to take the old vicarage, demolish it and start anew. Much of the work is to be done by the men of the mission. We hope the Reverend Masao Fujita will soon be able to occupy a much needed residence.

Diocesan Historian Hard At Work

The Reverend C. Fletcher Howe, Diocesan Registrar, is working on a history of the Church in Hawaii and hopes to have it ready for the 100th Anniversary. He has been doing much research in this direction and deserves great commendation for all he has accomplished.

Laboring Laymen

The Lay Readers of Holy Innocents Church, Lahaina, Maui, under the direction of the Venerable J. William Anderson, are guiding the work of the mission in the interim without a Vicar, and doing it admirably. Mr. J. R. McConkey is in charge, assisted by the Messrs: Robert Asato, Edwin S. Bowmer, Albert J. Collins, and Adolph Leong.

How Will You Will?

To own material things and possess wealth—in great or small amounts—is not only a privilege but also a great responsibility. With our substance we must provide well for the needs of life for our loved ones, our church, charitable organizations and civic programs. We do this to the best of our ability in this life.

BUT WHAT OF THE FUTURE?

Most people delay the very thought of making their Last Will and Testament. This is associated with death, so they put it off from time to time. It is wrong to neglect this responsibility.

Some aspects of the making of your Will require no difficult decisions. The welfare of your loved ones will be uppermost in your mind and you will wish to provide for their security. Consider the stake you have in the future and your act of gratitude for all that has been provided in the past. What direction will your philanthropy take? What organizations and institutions shall you consider; how best can you leave your "living memorial" so that it will do the most good?

As a Christian, you have a primary obligation to your Church—at home and in the District, nationally and abroad. The Church, directly or indirectly, has guided and molded your life. It has established the foundations of society in which you live in peace and security. It has made possible a restfulness of spirit amid all the turmoil and tension of the busy world.

As the Church has provided for us in the past, so it is our responsibility to see that it continues, in strength and influence, in the future.

Each can help to assure this continual growth and power by providing in his Last Will and Testament a bequest for the Church.

The Missionary District of Honolulu is now presenting such an opportunity and is asking you to consider making a bequest to some branch of the Church's life in Hawaii in your will. A booklet, "LIVING STONES" has been prepared by the Committee on Wills, whose chairman is The Reverend Robert Sheeran, Chaplain of St. Andrew's Priory. The following form has been approved by the Chancellor of the District for use in your will:

I give, devise and bequeath of THE PROTESTANT EPISCOPAL CHURCH IN THE HAWAIIAN ISLANDS,

to be held, invested and managed, and the income and/or principal thereof to be applied by the Board of Directors of the said Church, to or for

Must We Be Asked?

We are rapidly approaching that time of year when it is customary for the officials of the Church to go to the people of the Church for financial support of the Church's work for the year ahead.

It is a very unfortunate thing that any Church should have to seek financial support for its work. Everyone knows that if the Church is to continue the building must be kept in repair, salaries must be paid, materials and equipment must be purchased for the music of the church services, the Sunday School, public relations, etc. And if one thinks about it as a Christian he knows that the work of the Church at home and abroad must also be supported.

The ideal situation would be something like this—every Christian as a good steward of what God has given him would joyfully and without any urging make a regular weekly, monthly or annual contribution to the work of his Church at home and abroad.

—The Reverend Percy F. Rex
