St. Stephen's Church Consecrated

Friday, December 8th, at 7:30 p.m., the Bishop consecrated St. Stephen's Church, Wahiawa. This was an important event in the lives of the congregation of this church and for the diocese. The Bishop was assisted by the Reverend W. Edwin Bonsey, Jr., Vicar of the Church. We congratulate this congregation for erasing the debt on the church.

Massing of the Colors

A service of "Massing of the Colors" was held in St. Andrew's Cathedral on November 11th at 10:30 a.m. Rear Admiral Roy S. Benson, Commander of the Pacific Fleet Submarine Force was the main speaker. He said, "There is indeed something worse than fighting for our beliefs—and that is to lose without the effort."

"We have an obligation to turn over to our children and grandchildren a world as good as that turned over to us by our parents. If sleeping, peaceful democracies had stirred earlier they might have changed the course of history and prevented recent wars."

He concluded that while the United States has inadequacies, all of the evils of this world are not our fault. At least we do what we can to help our fellow man, rather than to make his situation worse. We do not impose ourselves on others. We have reason to be proud of our restraint. The world well knows that we can be trusted with power."

The custom of decorating a tree on Christmas Eve has its origin in the old tradition that trees put forth blossoms and bore fruit on the night of Jesus' birth.

Rescuing Christmas

(Advance Notes for Thoughtful Christmas)

by the REVEREND GEORGE F. TITTMANN

A. Basic principles

(1) Face it—a modern Christmas is fast becoming a Burden, a Frenzy and a Bore.

(2) Convinced Christians are never afraid to be different.

(3) It's the birth anniversary of the Redeemer of the universe—and should also be a grand holiday time for all.

(4) Don't blur up Christmas with Advent and Epiphany.

(5) Let gratitude for Christmas—as the prologue to Good Friday—be contagious in attitude and act.

B. Gimmicks and reforms

(1) Make Christmas cards religious—leave Scotty dogs, Santa, snow scenes and holly for the pagans and unawakened; family news quite proper of course.

(2) Wise Men belong at Epiphany, NOT Christmas; different story, different season, different theme.

(3) Honor Advent as preparatory time; do not decorate for Christmas until the last minute possible; use the Advent wreath at home, and/or four candles on the table, burning the number appropriate for the Advent Sunday.

(4) Put up a manger scene in the home; have special prayers Christmas eve; everyone in church Christmas day or eve.

The Reverend Mr. Tittmann is rector of the Church of the Holy Spirit, Lake Forest, Ill. The feature is reprinted from the parish's bulletin.

Head of Annie Wright School Visiting In Islands

Dr. Ruth Jenkins, who formerly taught at St. Andrew's Priory and now Headmistress of the Annie Wright Seminary (Episcopal), Tacoma, Washington, is visiting her brothers, John P. and William P. Jenkins, in Kailua. Planning to be in Hawaii until the middle of January, Dr. Jenkins expects to see alumnae, patrons of the Seminary and families interested in the school for their daughters.

Hawaii To Be Honored At Washington Cathedral

WASHINGTON, D. C., December — The state of Hawaii will be honored in the medieval atmosphere of the great Gothic Washington Cathedral on Sunday, December 24, Mrs. James H. Tabor, Honolulu, regional chairman of the NCA in Hawaii, announced today. Special prayers will be offered for the work and welfare of the state and its citizens.

In the colorful ceremony the Hawaii state flag and the United States flag will be carried in the procession of choir and clergy down the aisle of the 104-foot-high nave to a place of honor at the top of the chancel steps. A Hawaii state flag was presented to the Cathedral in 1956 by the Right Reverend Harry S. Kennedy, D. D., Bishop of Honolulu. It replaced one in use more than twenty years which was given by the Honorable William R. Castle, Jr.

Citizens of Hawaii now serving their government in Washington have been invited to attend the service which will be the third since Hawaii was admitted to statehood.

Open House

Members of the congregation of Good Samaritan Church, Honolulu, honored their new Vicar, the Reverend George F. Hayashi at a tea on Sunday, November 26th. They have completely renovated the rectory and purchased new furniture for it. It is a most attractive home.

Miss Jane Yamada, a member of the congregation and a graduate of St. Andrew's Priory, graced the occasion and welcomed the guests. She had the distinction of being the 1961 Cherry Blossom Queen of Hawaii.

A Shopping Tour Recommended

"ONE OF THESE DAYS I must go shopping. I am completely out of self-respect. I want to exchange the self-righteousness I picked up the other day for some humility which they say is less expensive and wears longer. I want to look at some tolerance which is being used this season. Someone showed me some pretty samples of peace. We are a little low on that and one can never have too much of it. And I must try to match some patience that my neighbor wears. It is very becoming and I think it might look well on me. I might also try on that little garment of long-suffering they are displaying. I never thought I wanted to wear it but I feel myself coming to it. I must not forget to have my sense of appreciation mended and look around for some inexpensive everyday goodness. It is surprising how quickly one's stock of goodness is depleted."

Christmas

ON CHRISTMAS DAY we celebrate the greatest event in the history of the world—the Incarnation. We can say this without fear of contradiction. It is the spiritual dateline for the Christian world, and calls for praise and exultation.

Christmas has drawn customs from every race to which the Gospel has come. It was an old Roman custom to give presents at this time of the year. This was taken over by the Christians in recognition of God's great Gift of His Son. From Germany came the Christmas Tree. The Scandinavians had an old custom of bringing in a huge log which would burn for several days in a fireplace. It was called the "Yule Log" and became associated with Christmas. Candles are lighted; a light is always a symbol of Christ as the Light of the World.

And then there is Santa Claus. It is a curious fact that the original of Santa Claus was an ancient Bishop of the Church named St. Nicholas. He became Bishop of Myra. He was noted for his generosity and was the patron saint of children, so naturally fitted into the Christmas scene. The Dutch changed the name to Santa Claus.

Called By Death

The Right Reverend Theodore Russell Ludlow, D.D., Retired Suffragan Bishop of Newark, died on November 13th, at Wareham, Massachusetts, after an illness of three months. Before retiring in 1953, Bishop Ludlow served for seventeen years as Suffragan Bishop, making a real name for himself in the life of the Church and community.

Bishop Ludlow endeared himself to this Diocese when he served in St. Clement's Church for a season to substitute for the rector. His brother-in-law, the Reverend C. Fletcher Howe, retired, of St. Clement's Church, Honolulu, has written the following tribute to him in the St. Clement's Kalendar:

Theodore Russell Ludlow

husband - father - friend - lawyer - teacher - priest - bishop and what words can best express the manner by which he filled so admirably, and yet so humbly, the one or the other of the treasured contacts he came to make with those who knew him.

It is not convenient here to tell much of the facets of his life in the home, schoolroom, court, missionary field, parish, or as Suffragan Bishop of the Diocese of Newark. Rather, it is of the some seven years ago, and after his retirement from active service when he came to St. Clement's for a season to substitute for the rector, that is in our minds now.

Then it was that those who still are of this parish came to feel the Divine love shining out through him not only as he stood at the altar and in his works of spiritual direction and admonition from the pulpit, but also in their homes and elsewhere, as he served them as their pastor, and as a friend.

"May he rest in peace; and may Light perpetual shine upon him."

Our deep sympathy is extended to his wife and his three sons, two of whom are clergymen, and his sister, Mrs. Howe.

In Memoriam

A devout member of St. Clement's Church, Honolulu, and well known in the Diocese for her good works, was Jane Colburn Hemenway. The tribute of her rector, the Reverend Paul M. Wheeler, is so beautifully expressive of how those who knew her felt, that we print it here. It was in the December 3rd St. Clement's Kalendar;

Mrs. Charles Hemenway entered life eternal Thanksgiving night following major surgery Wednesday. Burial services were held Monday, Nov. 27 in St. Clement's with internment following at Oahu Cemetery. Her sudden death has come to us all as a great shock. For many it is still hard to believe the familiar sight of her around St. Clement's will no longer be; however, her spirit will persevere for years to come whenever we assemble in worship or fellowship. Jane Hemenway lived among us as one of the Saints of God. To your rector, she was an inspiration as co-worker, friend and a living witness of the Christian Church member. She has left us a goodly heritage that with God's help we can continue to show forth through our own lives as we carry on the work of Christ in the witness to the community of the Parish of St. Clement's.

Christmas

There's a song in the air!
There's a star in the sky!
There's a mother's deep prayer
And a baby's low cry;
And the star rains its fire while the beautiful sing
For the manger of Bethlehem cradles a King!
