Chaplain Leaves Islands

Chaplain (Major) John C. Francis left Honolulu in July for new duties on the Mainland. He was stationed at Ft. Shafter while in the Islands. He, his wife and son were a very happy part of our Diocesan Family while here and we regret their departure.

Before leaving the Bishop presented him with a gold seal of the Diocese in recognition of the contribution he made toward our work in Hawaii. He was always most willing to help in any way possible, especially with patients in Tripler Hospital, who were service personnel.

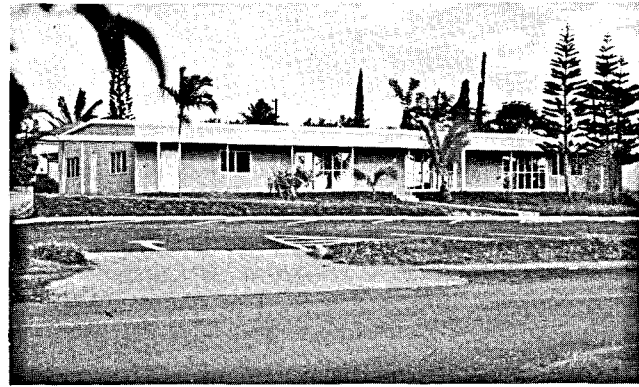

Chaplain (Capt.) Alister C. Anderson arrived on July 23rd to replace him. He is a graduate of the United States Naval Academy, is married and has four children. We welcome this family in our midst.

Episcopal Young Churchmen

July and August were a time of fun for the young churchmen on Oahu. During July they had a volleyball tournament each Sunday afternoon, using the St. Andrew's Priory courts for the events.

On Sunday, August 9th, they enjoyed their annual summer picnic at the Bishop's home, from 2:00 to 7:00 p.m.

August 19th to the 25th the conference for this group was held at Camp PECUSA, on Maui. Over 100 were in attendance. The Reverend E. Lani Hanchett, Diocesan Chairman of Youth, was in charge of arrangements for the conference. Leader was the Reverend Guy H. Piltz, Vicar of St. Matthew's Church, Waimanalo. He was assisted by the Reverend David K. Kennedy, Vicar of St. Barnabas' Church, Ewa Beach, and the Reverend Howard B. Kishpaugh, Vicar of St. Stephen's Church, Wahiawa.

Parish Hall Dedicated

The beautiful new parish hall of St. Stephen's Church, Wahiawa, was dedicated on Sunday, July 12th, following a service of Holy Communion in the Church at 10 a.m., by the Bishop.

The new parish house has 11 classrooms, two bathrooms, a nursery, kitchen and parish hall. It was built by Rothwell Construction Company at a cost of $57,000.

Participating in the dedication ceremony was the Reverend Howard Kishpaugh, Vicar of the Church, the Bishop's Committee and members of the parish.

We rejoice that this building, so badly needed, has been completed, since it will fill a great need not only for this congregation, but for the community.

Archdeacon Loweth Leaves

It is with sadness that we lose from our Missionary District the Venerable Gerald P. Loweth, his wife, and children Douglas, Katherine, Elizabeth and Jennifer.

Archdeacon Loweth has been in the District since 1956 as Vicar of Holy Apostles Church, Hilo, Hawaii, and Archdeacon of Hawaii.

The Loweths plan to spend the next year in Toronto, Canada, where he will be taking graduate work at the University of Toronto. We are grateful to the Loweths for the contribution they have made to the life and work of the Church since they have been in Hawaii and sincerely regret seeing them leave the Islands.

The Reverend Jacinto Tabili, in charge of the Philippine Independent Church's work on Hawaii and Maui, was married on July 16th to Maria R. Impang, by Father Andres Albano, of Paoay. We wish them every blessing in their life together.

The Reverend Charles H. Smith, Vicar of Holy Innocents Church, Lahaina, Maui, with his wife, daughter Laura, son Charles and baby, Charles Stewart.

The Reverend Stanley M. Adams, his daughter Linda, son Timothy and wife Jane. He is Vicar of St. Alban's Chapel and the Waikiki Chapel.

Honored At Reception

The Reverend Roger M. Melrose, Headmaster of Seabury Hall, which will open at Makawao, Maui in September, Mrs. Melrose, Mr. Spencer Kennard, Director of Studies, and Mrs. Kennard, were honored at a reception, given by the Board of Directors of the Diocese and Board of Trustees of the school, on Tuesday, July 21st, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. Lester Marks. It was an occasion for those in the education field, interested parents and friends to become acquainted with the heads of the school.

We are deeply indebted to Mr. and Mrs. Marks for extending the invitation to have the reception in their beautiful home.

Announces Engagement

The Venerable William A. Hio, missionary in charge of our work on Okinawa, has announced his engagement to Miss Miriam Akemi Yamakawa, a woman missionary in Okinawa. They will be married on September 26th in Honolulu, by the Bishop, before going to General Convention. She will be a delegate to the Triennial Meeting of the Episcopal Churchwomen.

Our people in Hawaii will remember Miss Yamakawa as a speaker from Okinawa, when General Convention was held in Honolulu in 1955. She received her Master's Degree at Cornell University in 1961 and attended the General Convention in Detroit, following her study at Cornell.

The Reverend Stanley M. Adams, who is a graduate of The Church Divinity School of the Pacific, has been assigned Vicar in charge of St. Alban's congregation which meets in the Iolani School Chapel each Sunday.

He will also be in charge of a chapel being established in Waikiki at the Reef Tower Hotel, to be known as the Episcopal Church Chapel in Waikiki. Communion services will be held each Sunday to provide an opportunity for many island visitors to make their communions.

This space for the Chapel has been made possible by Mr. Roy Kelley, owner of the Reef Tower Hotel.

Return To Taiwan

The Reverend and Mrs. Patric Hutton and their two children returned to Taiwan after some months on the Mainland, where he has fulfilled many speaking engagements.

The Reverend Mr. Hutton is Vicar of St. Paul's Church, Kaohsiung, where he has just completed a new church building and has started a fine medical clinic.

Calls For Support

The Right Reverend Arthur Lichtenberger, our Presiding Bishop, has called upon the nation's Episcopalians to actively support the civil rights legislation recently enacted by Congress. He has said, "The gravity of the present situation in American race relations demands far more than the silence of passive compliance. We must commit ourselves without reservations to the full support of civil rights." He termed the passage of the bill "a major step in advancing the equal application of rights guaranteed citizens by the Constitution."

Groundbreaking for the new classroom building at Church of the Good Shepherd, Wailuku, Maui. The Reverend Roger M. Melrose, and Mr. Ernest Halford, Senior Warden, watch the Bishop turn the first spade of dirt.

New Building for Good Shepherd Church

Monday, July 13th, at 4:30 p.m., the Bishop assisted the Reverend Roger M. Melrose in the ground-breaking service for the construction of new $27,000 classrooms on the church grounds, which will include ten classrooms, an apartment for the caretaker, and new lavatory facilities.

Six old buildings on the property were removed in order to make way for this much needed building.

Devoted Layman Called By Death

Mr. Sung-tao Lee, who has been Administrative Assistant for the Church's work in Taiwan, and recently in full charge of the work, after the departure of Bishop Gilson to Okinawa, was called by death on August 7th, in Taipei, Taiwan, following a heart attack.

It is with real grief that we have received this news. He had been instrumental through the years in establishing our work on Taiwan and had played a tremendous part in forwarding the work there, serving as a devoted lay reader in the Church.

Mr. Lee was one of the most outstanding citizens of Taiwan as well as a real servant of our Lord.

Our deep sympathy is extended to his wife Mary, his sons and grandson.

Remember this thy servant, O Lord according to the favor thou bearest to all thy people, and grant that increasing in the knowledge and love of thee he may go from strength to strength in the life of perfect service in thy heavenly kingdom; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

Married On Kauai

The Reverend Thomas K. Yoshida and Miss Winona Tasaki were married by the Bishop on Saturday, August 8th, in All Saints Church, Kapaa, at 5 p.m. Mr. Yoshida is Assistant Rector of All Saints Church and Vicar of Christ Church, Kilauea and St. Thomas' Church, Hanalei.

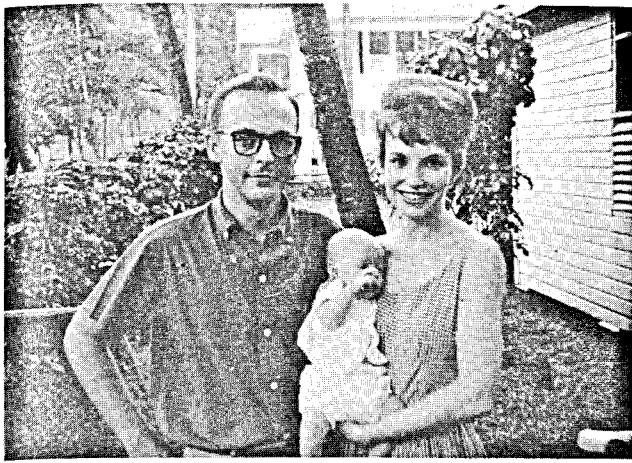

It was a very beautiful service and was followed by a large banquet in the Gymnasium. We wish them every blessing in their married life together. We know that their ministry together will be a happy and devoted one.

To Succeed Bishop Bayne

The Right Reverend Ralph S. Dean, Anglican Bishop of Cariboo (British Columbia), will succeed the Right Reverend Stephen F. Bayne, Jr., as Executive Officer of the worldwide Anglican Communion. The appointment was made by the Communion's 18 archbishops and metropolitans. It will become effective when Bishop Bayne returns to the United States to direct the work of the Overseas Department of the Episcopal Church's National Council.

Bishop Dean, 51, will be the second to serve in this London-based post, one of the highest administrative positions within the 44-million member Anglican Communion. The office was established in 1958 by the Anglican Congress. Bishop Bayne, then Episcopal Bishop of Olympia, was named first Anglican Executive Officer.

With the birth of a document called "Mutual Responsibility and Interdependence in the Body of Christ," the brain-child of the Anglican Communion's 18 national church leaders, the Anglican Church's missionary emphasis has shifted from autonomous to cooperative church development. The task of implementing the "mutual responsibility" document to further Christianity throughout the world encompasses Bishop Dean's philosophy.

Jeffery David White, son of Larry J. and Charlotte L. White of American Samoa, was baptized by the Bishop on June 21st.

New Site For St. Michael's Church, Lihue, Kauai

Through the leadership of the Venerable Charles T. Crane, Archdeacon of Kauai and Rector of All Saints Church, Kapaa, a congregation was started at Lihue, where they have been meeting in the public school.

Now, under his guidance, and the work of the men and women of the mission, a 57,536 sq. ft. site has been purchased at a cost of $38,000. They plan to erect a building on the new site in the not too distant future.

The St. John the Divine School, at Agana, Guam, has found it necessary to expand the classroom building to add the kindergarten and ninth grade. The leading school on Guam is now serving children with this expansion of grades, and doing a very fine work.

In Memoriam

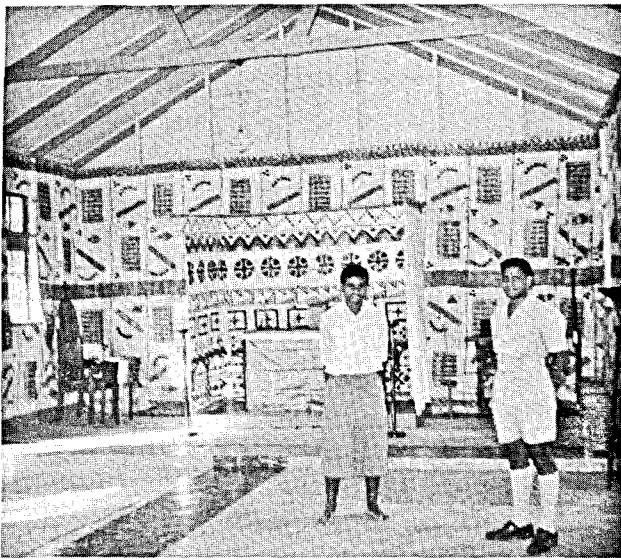

Colonel Thomas Roswell Aaron, retired Army officer, died on July 11th. He was the husband of our hostess at the Armed Forces Center and Diocesan House and was always a great help to her and to the men who frequent the Center.

He was a former commanding officer of Fort Armstrong and Sand Island and a long-time teacher at Kamehameha Schools, where he was a teacher of mathematics since 1951. He served with the 27th Wolfhound Regiment in Siberia during World War I. He was a graduate of West Point Military Academy.

He married Margaret LaMothe, daughter of the late John D. LaMothe, Episcopal Bishop of Hawaii in 1922.

The Aarons have lived at the Armed Forces Center since 1954.

In addition to his wife, he is survived by two daughters, Margaret and Mrs. Jack F. (Jean) Tittle and a grandson James Houston. We extend our deepest sympathy to them, and share in their sorrow. He was a devout member of St. Andrew's Cathedral. Full military honors were accorded him in the National Memorial Cemetery, where the Bishop and the Very Reverend John J. Morrett had the service.

Leads Mutual Responsibility Discussions

The Reverend Canon Charles Howard Perry, Canon to the Ordinary of Northern California, was in Honolulu with his wife and two daughters from August 14th to the 31st, to conduct conferences with clergy and laity on "Mutual Responsibility," which will be the main topic of discussion at the General Convention in Detroit, October 11-23, 1964.

What are the implications of "Mutual Responsibility?" A primary and major objective in the Mutual Responsibility document's intentions is the overcoming of parochialism and clericalism, those ecclesiastical sins which produce lay apathy and introversion in the Body of Christ.

The Diocese of Delaware has given some very clear instructions for the clergy and laity to bring about a greater understanding of what our role as Christians should be. The Vestry and mission committee should accept their role as the spiritual leaders of the parish, giving emphasis to our part as stewards, church attendance and the application of Christian principles to social problems of our day. This obviously implies that the vicar or rector must set the first example by making his own convictions and practices clear and encouraging vestrymen to follow his leadership, for example, in the matter of tithing.

The ministry of lay leaders should be broadened by further training at the hands of clergy to include pastoral calling and the education of other lay people. We should lose no opportunity to work toward the achievement of the clearly stated diocesan goal of giving away as much money as we spend on ourselves.

As one of the principal responsibilities, the clergy should constantly devote themselves to the training of lay Christians for their ministries beyond the eternal life of the Church, principally in and through their regular occupations, but also through the many voluntary agencies that exist for social service in every community.

We are indebted to the Reverend Claude F. Du Teil, Rector of St. Christopher's Church, Kailua, Oahu, who as Chairman for the Diocesan Program of Mutual Responsibility, has done such a splendid work in organizing the conferences for Canon Perry on all islands.

The Hostel has had a steady stream of visitors during the summer. The Reverend Frank Terry and his bride stopped four days in Honolulu before returning to his post in the Philippines. Mr. Geoffrey Evans, who was at one time stationed on Christmas Island with the Royal Air Force, and for the past two years has been secretary to the Bishop of Polynesia, stopped for a vacation in Hawaii, helping us do many things toward getting the chapel in Waikiki started.

We are pleased to have them join our Diocesan Family and know that they will be a happy addition to the work in Hawaii.

Presiding Bishop's Fund for World Relief

As diocesan secretary for World Relief it gives me pleasure to report to the diocese that our giving to the Presiding Bishop's Fund for World Relief for the first six months of 1964 was $2,704.39 compared to $709.00 for the same period of 1963. This is excellent progress and it is greatly appreciated by our Presiding Bishop. I urge you to keep giving generously to this fund as in the past, in order that increased demands upon it may be met.

The Reverend Joseph H. Pummill

Can a man of common sense
Think ham and eggs give God offence?
Or that a herring has the charm
The Almighty's anger to disarm?
Wrapped in His Majesty Divine
D'you think he cares on what we dine?

The girls will attend the Hawaii Preparatory Academy. John is employed at the First National Bank of Hawaii, in Honolulu.

Your Minister Has Problems

In the average church or synagogue today one man is many things to his congregation. He is administrator of a large and, in some ways, businesslike enterprise. He is organizer and director. He is a preacher who must give contemporary meaning to old truths. He is a teacher and a teacher of teachers. He is a pastor, caring for the needs of his flock, a counselor helping people find worthwhile goals and values. He is an agent through whom people seek professional help for personal problems. He is a crusader for just causes. Too often he is a fund raiser, a public relations man and janitor.

The greatest problem facing a good minister today is the strain of trying to be too many men at once, of getting lost in the welter and realizing too late that he has spent his energies on things other than the religious. In the midst of a major religious revival, when clergymen of all faiths are in short supply, he is underpaid, overworked and inadequately prepared for the increasing demands made upon him by his congregation.

He's also the first to admit that he wouldn't change jobs with anyone else in the world.

Changing Times

Confirmation Class, St. Barnabas' Church, Ewa Beach, presented by the Reverend David K. Kennedy.

In Appreciation

We wish to acknowledge with gratitude the many hours of work that the Reverend Norman C. Ault, Vicar of Holy Trinity Church, has given in making the altar, reredos and other appointments for the chapel at Wailuku.

We are also grateful to Mrs. Raymond K. (Wilma) Hoefener for the week in the Bishop's office in the absence of the Bishop's Secretary while she was on vacation. She is always most gracious to help.
