Katherine Morton Retires

Miss Katherine Morton, secretary to Bishop Kennedy, is retiring after 30 years devoted service to the Episcopal Church. The last 23 years were spent in Hawaii in the Diocesan Office as Diocesan Secretary.

Former Coloradoan and School Supervisor

Miss Morton was born and raised in Colorado Springs, Colorado. She graduated from Colorado College with an A.B. degree and was a member there of the Delta Gamma Sorority. She has been an active member of the P.E.O. Sisterhood for many years. Upon graduation from college she taught English at Trinidad High School, Colorado, before becoming Supervisor of County High Schools in El Paso County, Colorado. She held this position for 11 years, until 1937, when she accepted a position as secretary to Bishop Kennedy, then rector of Grace Church, Colorado Springs. She came to Hawaii during World War II to be Secretary to the Bishop. In 1954 she received the Diocesan Distinguished Service Cross.

More Than a Secretary

During her 23 years in the Diocesan Office she never spared herself in her service to the Church. Aside from her secretarial duties, which often called for service 7 days a week, she often gave her services by cleaning, painting and furnishing rectories in preparation for the arrival of new clergy. Many clergy and their families, unknowingly, are indebted to her for the concern she had and the labor she put into providing for their care, especially during war days, and the years following when materials were scarce, money short, and labor not available. Many of our Church Schools felt the touch of her paint brush, broom and needlework. Thirteen new missions received dorsal curtains made by her. One could never count the number of meals she has served in her home to new arrivals and visitors.

Not a Clock Watcher

Never a clock watcher, she not only worked after hours and weekends, but took much work home to be done at nights. Many evenings she gave to making liturgical apparel for clergy, and in particular for the Bishop whose vestments she not only created but maintained and laundered over all these years. The Diocese having such a small staff—Bishop and Secretary, Treasurer and Secretary—she felt responsible for doing things far beyond the call of normal duty. This service extended beyond Hawaii, to Taiwan, Okinawa, Guam, Samoa and Kwajalein. There were times of illness in clergy and church families when she did her share of nursing and providing meals for the sick. Many a conference and Diocesan meeting found her doing the cooking, when other help failed or was not available.

"Mom" to Some

Over the years Katy has befriended many young people, servicemen lonely and away from home and youngsters from other islands who have come to Oahu for school. In particular she gave her love to three boys from Kauai, Sus Morita, Wally Tada, and Thomas Asao, who came to Honolulu to attend Business College. The three boys are now men with their own families, but to this day a close relationship still exists between the three and their other "mom."

Queen Emma Square Resident

Living on Queen Emma Square for 23 years she has been hostess to hundreds of visitors, doing the usual Honolulu greetings at piers and airports all hours of the day and night. Some of her experiences with robbers, bums, fires, police and detectives, concerning incidents in the "never-a-dull-moment" Emma Square, read like Alfred Hitchcock stories.

General Convention Worker

On two occasions she planned, developed and administered Hawaii Exhibition Booths at General Conventions. During the 1955 General Convention in Honolulu she was active in several committees, working for many months before convention, as well as 18 hours a day during the two-week period. She has made personal friends of many Church leaders and other dignitaries at General Convention and among those that have come to Hawaii from the Orient, Asia, Australia, Europe and the mainland. They all have shared her generous hospitality and many have kept in correspondence with her over the year.

She plans to visit the General Convention in Seattle in September, and then fly to Hartford, Connecticut to take up residence in the new apartments made available by the Diocese of Connecticut for retired women church workers. This assignment was made possible through the Bishop of Connecticut, her good friend, The Rt. Rev. Walter H. Gray.

Loved by All

Everyone in the Episcopal Church in Hawaii knows and loves Katy Morton and everyone will miss her, but they all rejoice that she will be relieved of many responsibilities, and can get a well earned rest. But knowing Katy Morton, we are willing to "bet" that the Churches and the Diocese of Connecticut will find her an able, active and willing worker. Katy's new address is 68 Wethersfield Ave., Hartford, Conn. 06114.

A Building Diocese

Summer in the Diocese of Honolulu saw a gymnasium-auditorium built at St. Andrew's Priory School, a church renovated and enlarged at Holy Innocents', Lahaina, and Maui's Camp PECUSA in part renewed.

The Gymnasium and Auditorium at St. Andrew's Priory (pictured here) is due for completion at the beginning of school on 6 September at a cost of about $130,000 and represents the special contribution of the various churches of the diocese to the successful Priory Expansion Fund. Shown here in the last stages of completion, the Gymnasium-Auditorium occupies the land between the former Diocesan Office and Washington Place. The offices formerly occupied by the diocesan treasurer and the bishop's secretary have become the class and equipment rooms for the Priory's physical education department. As of 30 June, a total of $494,250 had been pledged to the Priory Expansion Fund, of which $425,878 has been received.

At Lahaina the Church of the Holy Innocents has undergone extensive enlargement and refurbishing. A lengthened nave, a widened sanctuary, better ventilation, a new sacristy, and fresh paint are all part of the extensive renewal program which leaves the church every bit as charming as before.

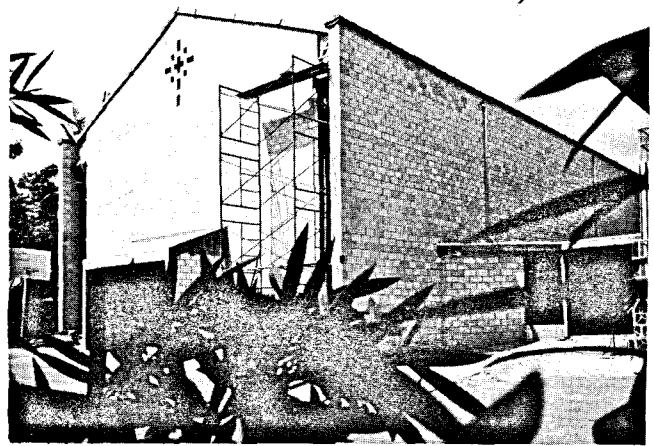

The repairs and renewal at Camp PECUSA at Olowalu, Maui, have meant a vastly enlarged and improved kitchen and dining facility, as well as added bunk and office space.

Two Good Books on Prayer and Praying

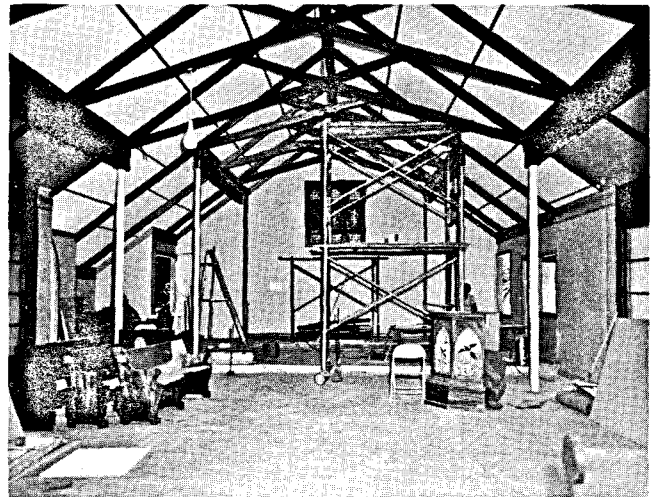

Prayer is to the Christian what water is to the fish or air to man: the vehicle of life. For those who would broaden and deepen their life in Christ through a better knowledge and practice of prayer, there are few sounder guides than Romano Guardini's Prayer in Practice (Image Books, 75¢) and William Barclay's The Plain Man Looks at the Lord's Prayer (Fontana, 2/6. Priced 50¢ to $1 locally).

Romano Guardini, a priest of the Roman Church, is a master of prayer, whose profound and simple teachings have earned him the respect of all denominations. He is wise, realistic, and helpful, as one sees particularly in the chapter "Prayer in Times of Incapacity," which treats of the difficulties in the life of prayer arising out of the ebb and flow of life itself and out of insufficient faith.

William Barclay, a Scots Protestant, beautifully clarifies the Lord's Prayer and places in our hands the wisdom of the Rabbis and Saints on praying. Two good paperbacks, indeed!

THE GYMNASIUM-AUDITORIUM of St. Andrew's Priory School, Honolulu, in process of completion. The building stands on church land between the Bishop's former office and the Governor's home, Washington Place. The Priory's Gymnasium-Auditorium represents the special contribution of the churches of the diocese to the Priory Expansion Fund.

A SAMOAN CONGREGATION

The people of St. Peter's, Honolulu, have extended their Aloha to a congregation of Samoan Christians of the London Missionary Society and received in return their Talofoa (aloha).

The Samoan Congregation numbers about 200 and worships in St. Peter's at 8 a.m. Sundays, led by the Rev. Pausa Nomaaea. Services are in Samoan according to the Congregational order of worship, and the joyful singing of this devout people all but raises St. Peter's already high roof.

A pilot project of a joint Sunday Church School is well underway.

ABOUT THE DIOCESE

Pink & Blue

The Rev. William Reeves, Jr., Director of Admissions at Iolani School, and his wife Jane welcomed their third child Martha Gardner, born at Queen's Hospital on 30 June and baptised at Waikiki Chapel on 30 July. Congratulations! . . . The Cathedral Organist and Choirmaster John McCreary and his wife Betsy are the proud parents of a son John Kendall born in Queen's Hospital on 31 July, weighing 8 lbs., 6 ozs. "Uncle John" becomes now for the first time "Daddy John" . . .

Out of Africa

Happy news, especially for the people of St. Christopher's, St. Philip's, Epiphany, and Holy Spirit—parishes in MRI relationship with Tanzania, is that Bishop Musa Kahurananga of Western Tanganyika will visit Hawaii next summer following the 1968 Lambeth Conference. In July, St. Christopher's provided the last money needed to complete the bishop's office. To date the four churches have sent or budgeted $5,100 to Bishop Musa for his office, evangelists' travel expenses, and development work in five towns . . . Mindful also that MRI begins at home, St. Christopher's supported the Hawaii Council of Churches with $300 in 1967, a fact omitted from our listing in the last Chronicle . . .

Ladies, Rejoice

Feminists and die-hard suffragettes will rejoice to know that it takes two men to replace one woman. The Rev. David Kennedy and The Rev. John Engelage succeed Miss Katherine Morton as Assistant Editors of the Chronicle with this issue . . . Miss Rosemary Even-son, 1963 graduate of the Priory and a June graduate of the UH School of Nursing, received that school's Leadership Award and also its Service Award, two of the four awards given annually. Rosemary, who also won the Priory's Service Award, continues her nursing studies in Cincinnati . . . Mrs. Kau Yau Yin celebrated her 97th birthday on Sunday, 6 August. A faithful communicant of St. Peter's, Popo Kau was in church, as usual, on Sunday, and she has recently returned from a happy holiday on the mainland. To a faithful Churchwoman, the wife and mother of faithful Christians who have well served and yet do serve their Lord and His Church, a happy birthday, thank you, and God's Blessing . . .

Bouquets

The Rev. Norman Alter, on behalf of the Bishop, awarded the Diocesan Seal to W. William Buttles of Christ Church, Kealakekua, on his retirement as organist for the congregation, having faithfully made for many years a joyful noise unto the Lord and helped others so to do . . . Many thanks and a special Mahalo to Mrs. Leonard Werner, who has retired from heading the Episcopal Gift Shop at Queen Emma Square after six years of grand service. The Square will miss her happy, gracious charm . . . Franklin Chun and his wife Norma return for his senior year at the Church Divinity School of the Pacific after a successful summer's work at St. Elizabeth's substituting for The Rev. Ed Bonsey during his furlough. Well done and God's speed . . .

The Bishop has awarded the Diocesan Distinguished Service Cross to Chaplain (Lt) Victor H. Krulak, Jr., together with the following citation:

In appreciation for meritorious services rendered to the Church through his ministry to our men in the United States First Division of the Marine Forces in Vietnam, and his dedication to the men whom he serves there. For his devotion to our Lord and His Church, we wish to recognize and commend him by the presentation of this Distinguished Service Cross from the Missionary Diocese of Honolulu.

Chaplain Krulak has returned to Vietnam for his second tour of duty. God's speed and our prayers for continued success.

Incidental Intelligence

St. Andrew's Cathedral, Parke Chapel, the Cathedral Offices and Davies Hall and all have a replacement value of $7 million. One might be able to find the money, but where would one find the stone-masons and glaziers? . . .

MRS. ALICE MAMIYA, who succeeds Miss Katherine M. Morton as Diocesan Secretary. Mrs. Mamiya is a communicant of St. Peter's.

THE REV. J. WALTER RIDDLE THOMAS, Chaplain to St. Andrew's Priory School, and his wife Beth on their arrival in Hawaii. Fr. Thomas will also serve as Priest-in-Charge, Holy Cross, Malaekahana. Welcome and Aloha!

THE REV. RICHARD EDWARD WINKLER, Archdeacon of Maui and Rector of the Church of the Good Shepherd, Wailuku, and his wife Dorothy. Archdeacon Winkler succeeds the Rev. William H. Aulenbach, Jr., who is now Minister of Youth at the Church of the Holy Nativity, Aina Haina, Honolulu.

NEW PRIORY CHAPLAIN

The Rev. J. Walter Riddle Thomas arrived in Honolulu on 4 August to take up his post as Chaplain to St. Andrew's Priory School. Fr. Thomas comes to Hawaii from St. Barnabas' Church, Tullahoma, in the Diocese of Tennessee, where he has served for the past five years as rector. Fr. Thomas has also been appointed Priest-in-Charge, Holy Cross, Malaekahana.

A graduate of the University of Chattanooga in music (1951), Fr. Thomas did his military service in the U.S. Army Signal Corps before obtaining his degree of Bachelor of Sacred Theology from the Philadelphia Divinity School (1960). In 1962 he married Elisabeth (Beth) Carleton Etter.

The Thomases will be living at 1309-C Queen Emma Street at Queen Emma Square. As Priory Chaplain and Priest-in-charge, Fr. Thomas succeeds the Rev. Thomas R. Heimann, who is assistant headmaster of the Preparatory School and assistant pastor at St. John the Divine, Agana, Guam.

New Archdeacon of Maui

The Rev. Richard Edward Winkler is to become Archdeacon of Maui and Rector of the Church of the Good Shepherd, Wailuku.

Rector of Trinity Church, Wheaton, Illinois, for the past fourteen years, Archdeacon Winkler is active in the healing ministry and served as chaplain to Episcopal students attending Wheaton College. He was graduated from the Illinois Institute of Technology with a Bachelor of Science degree (1937) and from Seabury-Western Theological Seminary with the degree of Bachelor of Divinity (1953).

Archdeacon and Mrs. (Dorothy) Winkler have three sons: Richard, 23 years of age, who is married and plans to enter seminary this fall; Paul, 20 years old, now serving a second tour of duty in Viet Nam; and Peter, 11 years old.

The Winklers are expected to arrive on Maui during the week of 10 September. We welcome them to Hawaii and rejoice that they are part of our Diocesan family.

THE CANONS . . .

The Canons, Constitutions, and Charter of the Episcopal Church in Hawaii, together with the Statutes of the Cathedral Church of St. Andrew are available in a new, 30 page, printed edition from the Diocesan Office . . .

General Convention 1967

The 62nd General Convention, the national legislature of the Episcopal Church, opens its ten-day session in Seattle on 17 September to consider the Church's past, ponder her present, and debate and legislate for her future.

The 900 delegates to the Seattle Convention will consider, among other issues of importance:

—The Standing Liturgical Commission's proposal for the trial use of a revised rite of Holy Communion. The proposed rite is available from your rector or vicar in Prayer Book Studies XVII.

—The advisability of revising and up-dating the Book of Common Prayer, which today spells music musick and soap sope (pp. 202, 232).

—The question of electing women as delegates to General Convention. Now only men are eligible.

—Consideration of the present status and direction of the Consultation on Church Union (COCU), formal ecumenical discussions presently not including the Roman Catholic and Orthodox churches.

—Confirmation of the Preamble passed at the 1964 General Convention permitting the title "The Episcopal Church," as an alternative to "The Protestant Episcopal Church."

—Review of various Church programs and institutions, such as MRI and the seminaries, for example.

—The budget for the 1968-1970 triennium, and —Various proposals for the renewal and restructuring of the Church, among them increasing the duties of the Presiding Bishop and limiting his term of office to 12 years.

The General Convention, the Church's Congress, consists of the House of Bishops (Senate) and the House of Deputies (Representatives). The House of Bishops consists of the bishops of the church, numbering about 200. The House of Deputies consists of 4 clerical and 4 lay deputies from each diocese, and 1 clerical and 1 lay deputy from each missionary district, totalling in all about 700.

Convention delegates from the Missionary District of Honolulu are the Bishop; the Rev. Claude Du Teil, D.D., of St. Christopher's, Kailua; and Mr. Hugh Shearer, Attorney at Law, the Diocesan Chancellor. Alternates to the clerical and lay delegates are the Ven. William Grosh of Holy Apostles', Hilo; and Richard C. Ching, an insurance executive.

The Seattle Center is the scene for this General Convention. The House of Bishops will meet in the Playhouse, a modern theater; the House of Deputies, in the Arena; the Women's Triennial, in the Opera House. The Coliseum, which seats about 15,000, will be the setting for the opening services, the U.T.O. service, and an ecumenical service on Sunday, 24 September, at which the Archbishop of Canterbury will preach.

THE REV. CLAUDE DU TEIL (left), Rector of St. Christopher's, Kailua, receives the degree of Doctor of Divinity from the Rt. Rev. Sumner F. D. Walters, D.D., S.T.D., Bishop of San Joaquin in California and President of the Board of Trustees of the Church Divinity School of the Pacific, Berkeley. Dr. Du Teil received his honorary degree at C.D.S.P.'s June commencement exercises.

The 1967 Triennial Meeting Of the Women of the Church

The 32nd Triennial Meeting of the Women of the Church will meet in Seattle concurrently with General Convention (but for a shorter period, 17 to 23 September inclusive) and has as its stated purpose the serious consideration of the following:

Mindful of the demands placed upon us as Christians is a world torn by hate, separateness, and the struggle for new life and meaning: What is "women's work"? What are our goals and objectives? What structures do we need?

In addition to discussion of these questions of vital importance, of particular interest will be the address of the Hon. Z. K. Matthews, ambassador from Botswana—Hawaii's antipode—to the United States and the United Nations; and the joint sessions with the General Convention on MRI, the Executive Council's report, and the report of the Program and Budget Committee.

The United Thank Offering, to many the peak of the Triennial Meeting, will be made at the Eucharist in the Coliseum on Wednesday evening, 20 September.

Hawaii's delegates to the 1967 Triennial are: Mrs. James Hanano (Kayoko), Kohala missions; Mrs. Richard T. Herkner (Ray-Elisabeth), St. Timothy's, Aiea; Mrs. Charles Loomis (Estelle), St. Barnabas', Ewa Beach; Mrs. Clifford Young (Laura), St. Peter's, Honolulu; and Mrs. Tim Chong Young (Juliet), St. Elizabeth's, Honolulu. The alternate is Mrs. Takeichi Higa (Ruth) of Kohala.

SISTER LAURA MARY TRANSFERRED TO TEXAS

Sister Laura Mary, C.T., Teacher of Religion and Supervisor of the Elementary School at St. Andrew's Priory, left Honolulu on 3 August to begin work among Mexican-Americans at the Pre-School and Kindergarten at the Church of the Holy Family, McKinney, Texas. There her knowledge of Spanish, her joyful personality, and her teaching ability insure her continued success.

Except for the two years 1962-1964 spent teaching the first and second grades at Bethany School, Glendale, Ohio, Sister Laura has taught at the Priory since her arrival in Honolulu in 1960. A graduate of Florida State (1955), Sister Laura expects to return to Honolulu next summer in order to complete her work for an M.A. in education at the University of Hawaii.

The parish of the Church of the Holy Family converted to the Episcopal Church from Rome. Its parochial school is a new undertaking of the Community of the Transfiguration, Glendale, Ohio. Together with Sister Laura, Sister Claire Marie from the Glendale convent and Sister Mary Evelyne from Puerto Rico have been assigned work in McKinney. Sister Ursula Elizabeth from the Glendale convent has been assigned to St. Andrew's Priory, arriving 15 August.

Sister Laura leaves many, many friends in Hawaii. Her new address is 506 Lincoln St., McKinney, Texas 75069. Aloha and God's speed.

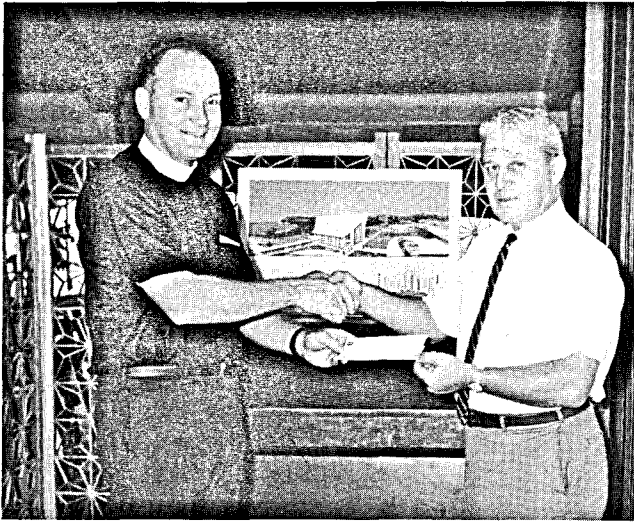

CHAPLAIN VICTOR H. KRULAK, JR., with the Distinguished Service Cross of the Missionary District of Honolulu awarded by Bishop Kennedy. Chaplain Krulak has returned to Viet-Nam for a second tour of duty.

FATHER NAKAMURA of Naha and Helen Sykes, formerly stationed in Okinawa, examine pictures and a map of Okinawa during his recent visit to St. Christopher's, Kailua. Fr. Nakamura returned to Okinawa in late August after a two months' MRI exchange which sent Fr. Hayashi of Good Samaritan to Okinawa.

MR. JIM BLOOM, Manager of Foremost Dairies, Guam Division, presents a check for $500 to the Rev. Jordan B. Peck, Jr., for the construction of a new church building which will also serve as the Chapel for St. John's Episcopal Preparatory School's 250 students. Foremost Dairies' contribution is typical of the support given by Guam's business community to St. John's in recognition of the great service the church renders to Guam through the provision of its fine school. Through the enthusiastic efforts of this small parish $69,200 has been raised from on- and off-island friends since Bishop Kennedy's visit to Guam in March initiating the drive.

DIOCESAN ALTAR GUILD: Fabrics, Fellowship, and Furnishings

Ladies who love to sew will find a happy place for their talents as members of the Diocesan Altar Guild, which meets each Tuesday in the Diocesan House at Queen Emma Square. There, from 9 a.m. to 12 noon, the good ladies of the Guild plan and make altar linens, church hangings, and vestments for the various churches of the diocese. In the past few months, twenty-two parishes have called upon the Guild's services. Moreover, Aldersgate Methodist and Central Union can now boast of the work of these Episcopal ladies.

"If any clergy are interested," reports Gertrude Miller, head of the Diocesan Altar Guild, "we have two lovely white linen chasubles with colored embroidery for sale." The Guild also has old brass candlesticks, as well as vases and crosses of various kinds, which some church may find quite usable. Come in and take a look.

At present the Guild is comprised of ladies from the Cathedral, St. Clement's, St. Mary's, Holy Trinity, St. Peter's, Waikiki Chapel, St. George's, Emmanuel, St. Barnabas', Calvary, and St. Stephen's. Is your parish represented? If not—and even if it is—why don't you join in the work of the Guild on Tuesdays at the Diocesan House?

Three Coming Events of Importance

John Kim of Holy Nativity, Diocesan Keyman, announced three important coming events of interest particularly to keymen and laymen throughout the diocese:

—the annual Barbecue sponsored by the laymen of the diocese, scheduled for 6:30, Saturday, 30 September at Holy Nativity's Youth Center. Program plans are still in progress.

—the Maui Visitation, Saturday and Sunday, 4 and 5 November, at Lahaina. J. R. McConkey and Richard C. Ching, in charge.

—the Bishop's Quiet Half-Day, Sunday, 3 December at St. Clement's Church. The Rev. W. F. Allison, Advent missionary at St. Clement's, will lead the Quiet Day.

Laymen will wish to mark 30 September, 4-5 November, and 3 December on their calendars now.

THE GETZ FAMILY LEAVING Lahaina after spending the month of July in the vicarage of Holy Innocents' Church. Left to right, Polly, Peter, Debbie, Mrs. Getz (M'Lou), Mrs. Emily Sanderson (M'Lou's mother), and the Rev. Henry B. Getz, rector of St. Luke's Church, San Antonio, Texas, and visiting priest at Lahaina during the furlough of the vicar the Rev. Charles Smith. The Getzes are, as always, a happy addition to the Diocesan family. Aloha and thank you.
