100TH ANNIVERSARY
AT ST. AUGUSTINE'S

It was a bright, clear Sunday morning in North Kohala, the Big Island of Hawaii, when over 200 parishioners and guests gathered at St. Augustine's in Kapaau.

The occasion was the 100th anniversary of an Episcopal Church which had its beginnings on February 10, 1884, when "our little church . . . was duly consecrated and dedicated to St. Augustine of Canterbury."

The present-day ceremony was held February 12, with Bishop Edmond L. Browning and Vicar John A. Fuller present at the maile ribbon cutting ceremony performed by Mrs. Ruth Higa, Senior Warden and Mr. Walter Rodenhurst, Sr., a long-time parishioner of St. Augustine's.

Bishop Browning delivered the sermon to the combined gathering with the congregation of nearby St. Paul's at Makapala, which was followed by the celebration of the Holy Eucharist.

After the service, a tree planting ceremony was held in front of the church, at which time a young red palm was blessed for a good life.

Taking part in this were the Misses Anne and Mary Wong, Mr. Joseph Mattos and Mr. and Mrs. Paul McHenry from Christ Church in Kealahou.

A sumptuous North Kohala luau followed the ceremonies at which Mrs. Shigeko Kurashige made certain that plates were kept full, while lovely music was played by Mrs. Louisa Matsu and her friends.

Adding to the beauty and historical meaning of the day were the beautiful flowers which Mrs. Kikue Yee had set out on each gravesite in the adjacent cemetery.

This wonderful centennial celebration was co-chaired by Mrs. Kayoko Hanano and Mr. Ikuo Hisaoka. For the occasion, Mrs. Elizabeth B. Bowman has prepared a 16-page 100th Anniversary booklet full of very interesting historical accounts. Our Historiographer of the Diocese, The Rev. Kenneth D. Perkins, was especially helpful with this project. Copies of this very interesting reading may be obtained for $2.00 from Mrs. E. Bowman, P.O. Box 388, Kapaau, HI 96755.

NEW DEAN

All congregations of the Diocese of Hawaii are invited to attend the installation of the Very Rev. Hollinshead T. Knight as Dean of St. Andrew's Cathedral.

The "Celebration of a New Ministry" will begin at 5 in the afternoon on Sunday, March 4.

The Rt. Rev. Edmond L. Brown, Bishop of Hawaii, will be the chief celebrant with retired Bishop Harry S. Kennedy as the con-celebrant.

The Master of Ceremonies for this special event is the Rev. Trevor A. Hoy of the Cathedral. Kevin Mahoe is arranging special Hawaiian music and hula dancing for the installation service which will be followed by a celebration of the Holy Eucharist.

In addition, the Hawaiian Choir from the Cathedral will sing. Mr. John McCreary, Organist and Choirmaster at St. Andrew's, will direct the musical portion of the service.

The Women of St. Andrew's (W.O.S.A.), under the leadership of Mrs. Edward K.S. Lee, are arranging for a reception which will follow the installation service.

In keeping with Dean Knight's desire that St. Andrew's serve the whole community, various government, business and religious dignitaries have been invited to the installation.

Dean Knight comes to St. Andrew's from St. Aidan's Episcopal Church in the Twin Peaks area of San Francisco where he served as Vicar and Rector for ten years. Prior to that, he was the Associate Rector at St. Luke's-San Francisco for nine years and spent two years at three missions in Southern Idaho.

The new dean graduated from the Episcopal Divinity School in Cambridge, Mass. in 1962 with a Master of Divinity degree, after receiving his Bachelor's Degree from Yale University at New Haven, Connecticut.

Dean Knight served in the U.S. Navy for three years. His duties included that of air intelligence officer aboard the aircraft carrier Bennington which visited Pearl Harbor in 1957. He also served aboard the carrier Oriskany.

Born in Philadelphia, the dean is married to the former Ann Bishop and they have five children of whom Jennifer is in the 11th grade at Iolani. Their other daughter is married and lives in San Francisco. Two sons are in college at Yale and New England College (New Hampshire); their third son is attending The Robert Louis Stevenson School at Pebble Beach, California.

Dean Knight expresses his hope that "the cathedral will become the religious and spiritual center for the entire Diocese. I would like St. Andrew's to be of more service to everyone," he said. "I hope more downtown men and women will become aware of our presence, especially our Wednesday noon-day meditations with music, followed by a very good $2.00 lunch. I feel many people will want to take advantage of the Lenten Programs that we will be offering on Wednesdays."

The Interim Editor's Corner

How exciting! . . . to again be a part of this Diocese of Hawaii!! From VIM, to IHS (Claude DuTeil's "Peanut Butter Hollow") to planning for Camp Mokuleia's future, to Dean Lin Knight's arrival at St. Andrew's, to St. Augustine's 100th Anniversary celebration (Kapaau, the Big Island). These are some of the exciting activities which Episcopalians in Hawaii are directing and supporting.

- The following actions were taken at the Diocesan Council on January 20th:
1. Mrs. Marilyn Kali, Mr. Delos Seeley, Mr. John Hawkins, Mr. Jack Brownrigg, and The Rev. Brian Grieves were approved as co-opt members of the Department of Camps and Conferences.
 2. Mr. "Keoki" Kellerman was approved as a co-op member of the Finance Department.
 3. Approved a one-year Lease Agreement between The Church of the Epiphany, on behalf of Epiphany School, and the Japan International Karate Center, Inc., for the use of one classroom.
 4. Approved the housing allowance designation for The Rev. Dorothy Nakatsuji, Director of the Diaconate Program.
 5. Approved the Final Recommendations for 1984 Mission Subsidies by the Mission Department, totalling $134,345.
 6. Approved the Final Recommendations for 1984 funding for Ministries to the Community by the Mission Department, totalling $61,250.
 7. Approved the recommendation of the Mission Department that the Episcopal Church in Hawaii accept the invitation of the Palama Inter-Church Council to become the sponsor of the Kalihi-Palama Immigrant Service Center, which would be under the auspices of the Mission Department of the Diocesan Council.
 8. Approved the First Quarter VIM Funds totalling $35,000, as recommended by the VIM Task Force and the Program Department, with $26,500 for Diocesan Projects and $8,500 for National and International Projects.
 9. Approved, at the recommendation of the VIM Task Force and the Program Department, the "Camp Mokuleia Planning Program" as a Diocesan VIM Project with funding for $17,250 which would be designated from Unallocated Funds in the Diocesan Future Mission Opportunities category.

I say "again" above, since it took us a sojourn of ten years to get back to Honolulu the spring of '82. Previous General Motors assignments overseas and in Hawaii in 1970-1972 culminated in a Detroit early "golden handshake". This gave my wife, Rita, and me the opportunity of returning to Hawaii sooner than expected. (Our son and daughter-27 and 25- are on their own in Germany and Connecticut.) I would hope that the Episcopal and Church of England experiences in the foreign and mainland locations where we have lived will be of value to me in this part-time, interim editorship which I have just assumed.

I have been asked what will be my editorial policy. As I said when I spoke at Holy Nativity a couple of Sundays ago, the 3rd Verse of Psalm 37, appointed for that Sunday, seemed most apt: "Put your trust in the Lord and do good".

"Doing good", I believe, means presenting news about people . . . what they are doing . . . how their actions affect others . . . and the future . . . for better or worse.

We encourage all of you . . . laity and clergy . . . to keep us informed of what has happened in your area and what will be happening in the future.

The best news submission medium for us is, of course, double-spaced, typewritten copy and a photo or two, with appropriate left-to right names, etc. (black and white preferred). Your news items should be mailed to, or dropped off at, the Diocesan Office.

I will be maintaining morning office hours at the Diocese. Please stop by the 2nd floor library when you are at Queen Emma Square . . . I would like to meet you (524-2822, Ext. 9). Of course, you may phone me at home (395-5211).

We are interested in your concerns about our diocese and propose a "Letters to the Editor" section. Let us hear from you. All items received will be considered for inclusion in the Chronicle, space permitting.

You will note a new Editorial Board is shown on our masthead. This reflects a decision last year that the Communications Department of the Diocesan Council will be responsible for the Chronicle.

To those Episcopalians in the Diocese who I have already met . . . "Mahalo Pumehana" for the warm welcome. I hope to have the opportunity of meeting many, many more of you at your own mission, parish and school locations.

S.H.

A Word From the Bishop

My dear friends:

The strike has been averted and the well-being of this State has been placed as a high priority in the negotiations recently held. I know that I express the gratitude of many to the Governor and the Union leaders for their efforts in reaching an early decision. The final settlement obviously did not satisfy the expectations of all, but the compromise that has been agreed upon did recognize the needs of those within our community and hopefully has brought a sense of security to many. The right to advocate for the well-being of persons within our community is truly a privilege we all enjoy as citizens of this great Country of ours.

On another page of this issue of the Chronicle there is a report on a recent meeting which several of us had with the Governor. Those of us who met with him shared our deep concern that his supplemental budget presented to the Legislature eliminated some eight million dollars which had been previously assigned to human service agencies. If these funds are not restored, there will obviously be an even greater hardship placed upon those within our community who are in real need.

Without question, the managing of government is tremendously complex and difficult as it seeks to direct itself to the countless needs within the State. And yet, it is my hope that the budget that will be sent back to the Governor by the Legislature will carry the message that "those most in need" within our society have a high priority in our State's desire to assure the well-being of all. I wish to ask that as many of us within the Diocese as possible write to our respective representatives in the Legislature to encourage the restoration of these funds.

In conclusion, let me say that those of us who spoke with Governor Ariyoshi were very appreciative of the time he gave us and even more for his hope expressed that the funds would be restored. We expressed to him our desire to share with him in a planning process that would enable both government and the private sector to work together to insure the support of the agencies that work in human services. We wanted him to know that we did not believe, nor expect, that Government alone should support completely these agencies—that the religious bodies we represented were willing to continue, as well as to increase, our efforts to serve those in need within our community.

I would ask that we keep our Governor and his administration and this 12th Session of our State Legislature in our prayers. The tremendous challenge before them requires our prayers and support.

Faithfully yours,
Edmund L. Browning
The Rt. Rev. Edmund L. Browning
Bishop

PACER IS OFF TO A GALLOPING START

Elaine Funayama, new Chairman of Christian Education for the Diocese, and Alice Anne Bell recently returned from a meeting of Province VIII Christian Educators held in mid-January at the Church Divinity School of the Pacific. Educators from most of the Diocese in the Province were convened by Pat Paige of the CDSP faculty, with responsibilities for Christian Education and Continuing Education.

Sharing was the highlight of the first day of this congenial gathering and the like-minded enthusiasm of a room full of people who all share a deep commitment to Christian Education in our Church.

Sharing gave way to determination to work in concert for a better understanding of Christian Education for all in our Province and a desire to work together to up-grade the quality of Christian Education in the Province. And so... PACER was born... Province Associates for Christian Education Resources is the full name but PACER is the word to remember. PACER makes it possible for all Christian Educators in this Diocese to have easy access to advise, counsel, book titles, bright ideas and "how to" skills of all sorts. PACER is determinedly informal for the energies are to be spent making a real network so we can make real progress in quality

Christian Education.

No by-laws, no officers, but lots to GO and GROW on. PACER can help the teacher in the class room and the Christian Education administrator in the office. High hopes can be fulfilled as we all develop ways to use this new group.

For openers, PACER members will be present for their own meeting and to bring Christian Education resources to the delegates to the Provincial synod in Portland next September. Elaine and Alice Anne will join their fellow PACERS for this 4 day event at which educators will hope to provide a real educational presence at the Synod.

In conjunction with the PACER meeting we also were treated to a fabulous four hour course on the effect of the computer on the learning process and how it will change the students we teach and the way they think. Tremendous food for thought. This Computer Course an augmented version will be presented at CDSP this summer for more info or to hear more about what we learned, call either one of us at the numbers above.

Want to know more???? Call Elaine 623-3962 or Alice Anne 262-9391
KEEP PACE WITH THE PACERS!!

About the Diocese

Rev. Dr. Gerald G. Gifford, Kalfred Yee, Hazel Yee and Flora Wong at St. Elizabeth's recent chapel dedication ceremony.

A new chapel altar rail and sanctuary lamp have been installed and dedicated at ST. ELIZABETH'S CHURCH, N. King St., Honolulu.

The donors for this beautiful improvement are Mrs. Hazel Tyau Yee, Walter F.M. Tyau, Douglas S.Y. Tau and Mrs. Flora L. Wong.

We quote from a recent memo by THE REV. "RUDY" A. DUNCAN, Diocesan Treasurer:

"This note is being sent to all of our Parishes and Mission Churches to thank them for the great cooperation they have given to this office in paying the DIOCESAN ASSESSMENTS for the year 1983.

All assessments have been paid for the year 1983 and this has been the case for the past six years. Not many Dioceses have 100% performance year after year—Truly an enviable record. Thank you one and all!"

In the spirit of Christian joy, The REV. KAREN S. SWANSON and The REV. DAVID Y. OTA were united in Holy Matrimony on Saturday, February 4, at St. Mary the Virgin Episcopal Church in San Francisco.

After a reception at the Holiday Inn on Fisherman's Wharf, Karen and David honeymooned at Lake Tahoe and Disneyland.

Now back in Honolulu, Rev. Swanson is continuing her Christian Education teaching at St. Andrew's Priory, as well as serving as a Deacon at St. Andrew's Cathedral. Rev. Ota has returned to his responsibilities as Vicar at GOOD SAMARITAN in Honolulu and Priest-in-Charge of the Episcopal Campus Ministry at the University of Hawaii at Manoa.

The REV. NORMAN R. ALTER, age 87, born in Kirkwood, Missouri, died at his home following a long illness, on December 6, 1983. He received his B.A. from University of Northern Colorado, and his B.D. from St. John's Theological Seminary in 1927. He served as Priest-in-Charge of two churches in the Missionary District of Salina, and was rector of the Church of the Holy Cross, Paris, Texas, before coming to Hilo, Hawaii, in 1944.

Norman retired from the active ministry in 1966 after having served in this Diocese from 1944. He served as Vicar of Holy Apostles in Hilo from 1944-50 and then from 1950-59 he served as Vicar at All Saints', Kapaa. Before retiring, he was Vicar of Christ Church, Kealahou from 1959-66.

The Bishop's Distinguished Service Cross was presented to Father Alter in 1957 and 1965.

His funeral was held at All Saints', Kapaa, Kauai, with committal at their columbarium.

Norman is survived by his wife, Marjorie, two children, three grandchildren and one great grandchild. Mrs. Alter may be contacted at 78-7233 Puupee Road, Kailua-Kona, HI 96740.

A WAIANAE COAST FOOD BANK has been formed recently with St. Philip's contributing their support to this ecumenical group of 24 people.

MAY AND CLARENCE HOLOKAI OF ST. PHILIP'S and others from the mission church have assisted in the distribution of 400 pounds of food in December and 800 pounds in January. About 40 families are receiving emergency assistance.

Those who receive the food on a gratis basis agree to participate in an educational program which teaches nutrition, food management and the gardening of fresh vegetables on a farm in Makaha operated by the Sacred Hearts Catholic Parish.

Food is purchased under a special arrangement for 12¢ the pound. Contributions are vitally needed for this important program to continue in Waianae. Remittances may be made out to the St. Francis Mission, c/o The Rev. George Lee, St. Philip's Episcopal Church, Old John Road, Waianae, HI 96792.

The CAMP MOKULEIA MASTER PLANNING TASK FORCE has issued a 42-page missions and program descriptions document to all congregations, other Diocesan groups and various schools and community organizations.

All of these interested parties are urged to review and submit comments in writing by March 5 latest to:

The Rev. Brian J. Grieves
Camp Mokuleia Master Plan
68-729 Farrington Hwy.
Waialua, HI 96791

It was further announced that the TASK FORCE will meet March 19, at 7:30 PM in Davies Hall at St. Andrew's Cathedral. This will be an open meeting. All congregation are invited.

Copies of "COMMENTS AND CONCLUSIONS on the CREED, COMMANDMENTS AND CATECHISM" by the Rev. Charles T. Crane, Rector of Holy Nativity, Kalaniana'ole Highway, East Honolulu, are still available at the Queen Emma Bookstall.

Written and published for ten months in Holy Nativity's "Keeping Watch", that parish's weekly newsletter, the "COMMENTS" publication also includes Father Crane's "The Kalaniana'ole Katatechism" which was published in 1973.

The price is $5.00 and the Bookstall will accept telephone orders at 536-7776.

This excellent piece of work is commended by Bishop Browning.

Giving to the needy, sick, and homeless—the "street people" of Honolulu—has become a regular monthly event at St. Andrew's Cathedral.

Every third Sunday of the month a table is placed in the narthex of the Cathedral to accommodate the donations of food, toilet articles, towels, money, etc. by the congregation. An IHS (Institute for Human Services) volunteer is always on hand to accept the articles and to thank the donors.

This project has been highly successful and is a great help to Father Claude DuTeil and his staff of volunteers in their efforts to lead the "street people" to a more meaningful life.

A recent photograph by Robert Ehrhorn, Jr. gives some indication of the type of items donated. Among the more popular food items at IHS are coffee (served throughout the day), peanut butter, jelly, canned meats and vegetables, and pork and beans. Occasionally, some very sophisticated items (such as canned smoked oysters or seafood chowder) are donated.

However, these are reserved by IHS for special occasions, as they are never in sufficient quantity to feed the 150 to 300 persons who arrive at IHS daily.

IHS is very grateful to St. Andrew's for setting aside the third Sunday of every month for this humanitarian outreach program and to the many parishioners who, through their donations, have demonstrated their concern for their less fortunate fellow human beings.

IHS President Richard K. Peterson stands ready to receive donations at St. Andrew's.

NEWS FROM TORONTO

Note: Many people in the Diocese of Hawaii will remember Fr. John Park, Eugenia and Titus. You may write them at their house: 49-B, Oakwood Ave., Toronto, Ont., Canada M6H 2V7—Ed.

Every Sunday afternoon a group of people gather at St. Martin-in-the-Fields (Anglican Church) to celebrate the Eucharist. They are men, women and children whose roots are Korean. The congregation of St. Martin's happily share their facilities with their fellow Christians with their origin as a sign, written in Korean is standing outside.

On Saturday, November 19th, Bishop Parke-Taylor came to induct Father John Park as pastor of the Korean congregation. In a colourful and happy service in both Korean and English, a large crowd of people welcomed Father Park and his family.

Brother William, an Anglican monk of the Order of the Holy Cross, said in his sermon that their presence in Toronto would enrich us all and make us more aware of the variety and the unity in diversity of the Christian Family.

A magnificent reception followed the service with the tables groaning under the weight of Korean and Canadian food.

A VIEW OF ST. MARTIN IN-THE-FIELDS

At the height of the storm over the shooting down of the Korean airliner with the loss of 269 lives of innocent people, caught in the middle of international politics. I decided to look up the church for Koreans living in Toronto. What I discovered was a Toronto Anglican Korean congregation with roots going back a number of years whose homes had been in several locations, but who had now settled down in a church in the west end of Toronto, although not having a name. A query to Anglican headquarters in downtown Toronto simply brought the answer the group was known by the Korean congregation.

When I looked into the situation the local Koreans had just received a new pastor, Reverend John Park. He and his wife Eugenia and four year old Titus, named after the saint of his birthdate, had recently arrived from their Honolulu home to settle in Toronto. Having been fortunate enough to have spent considerable time earlier this year in that part of the world. . . I had much to reminisce about with them and I recognized immediately the world famed Hawaiian trademark of friendliness in this happy family. Later, when I met the various members of the Korean congregation, that happiness and friendliness was multiplied. It was easy to see the union of the local Koreans and their Korean-born pastor coming by way of Hawaii was a happy and meaningful union.

The Koreans I met told me of their deep sense of gratitude to Archbishop Lewis Garnsworthy for his kindness and insight in bringing Father Park into their midst and for the diocesan financial support towards his ministry among them.

The Korean congregation meets Sundays at 2 p.m., at St. Martin-in-the-Fields on Glenlake Ave.

BISHOP ALLIN SENDS TEAM TO CENTRAL AMERICA

NEW YORK — Following a first-hand look at the situation in Central America, Presiding Bishop John M. Allin has appointed a team of Episcopal Church Center staff officers to make a pastoral and evaluation visit to that tension-filled region.

The team is charged with making pastoral visits with clergy and laity, seeking out a cross-section of the population and exploring possible new initiatives in ministry. They will share their results with a Central American Task Force when they return.

The Presiding Bishop was in Panama, Honduras and Nicaragua for ten days in late January during which time he was chief consecrator for the new bishops of Panama (the Rt. Rev. James Ottley) and Honduras, (the Rt. Rev. Leo Frade). He used the trip to seek out church and political leaders in all three countries, observe the conditions, and inquire about the Church's role in meeting the needs of the region.

Although the U.S. State Department has begun pressing the government of El Salvador to act against the right-wing death squads — and many observers feel that those tensions have abated, at least — there is growing evidence that food supplies are being misdirected and increasing despair over the state of the Salvadoran army. That latter raises fears of ever-greater U.S. military involvement in the area.

Meanwhile, an election campaign in El Salvador has pitted leftist and rightist forces against one another strongly enough to raise fears of post-election disruptions. Finally, the new U.S. budget proposal would dramatically increase both military and non-military assistance to the region.

Throughout Central America, the Christian leaders are seen as identifying strongly with the poor and peasant classes and are often in conflict with the governments because of their legal assistance and land reform advocacy and their insistence on an open and unfettered ministry. Because the Roman Catholic and Episcopal Churches are the only religious bodies with work in all parts of the region, their clergy, religious and laity have borne the brunt of repression.

That repression has fallen most heavily on Roman Catholics who have seen an archbishop, four American Maryknoll sisters, and countless clergy and laity murdered in El Salvador. In Nicaragua, while a Roman Catholic priest serves in the cabinet, another was forced to flee recently when the Miskito Indians among whom he ministered came under heavy government attack.

In the Episcopal Church, Dr. Rosa Cisneros, a lawyer and social activist, was murdered in El Salvador, apparently in death squad retaliation for her work with a Church-run legal assistance program, her work in family planning, and her advocacy for women. Seven peasants, whose only crime appears to have been living on a Church-run model farm, were brutally murdered and mutilated. Hundreds fled the farm.

In Nicaragua, four Episcopalians — clergy and laity — have been arrested and later released. All minister in the Atlantic coast area where the Miskito Indians have been accused of "separatist" tendencies by the Sandinista regime.

The civil wars spread disorder throughout the area. A recent tour of Belize by the Anglican Council of North America and the Caribbean also had pointed to severe refugee problems in that tiny country with few resources. The Council, the synod of Province IX and the Executive Council of the Episcopal Church agreed in November that new steps were needed to address both the refugee crisis and the events which caused it.

The work Allin set in motion after his visit is partly in response to that, but also reflects a frustration of the Church that its ministry is being taken too lightly by all the concerned governments.

Since 1980, Allin, the primates of Canada and the Church of England and the House of Bishops have pressed repeatedly through diplomatic and humanitarian channels for concrete action against the violence in Central America.

The team that will visit Central America in March consists of: The Rev. Patrick Mauney, overseas ministries coordinator; Marion Dawson, assistant director for migration affairs; Sonia J. Francis, director, radio, tv and audio visuals; The Rev. Herbert Arrunategui, staff officer for Hispanic ministries; and The Rev. Charles A. Cesaretti, public issues staff officer. They will be joined by the Rev. Sergio Carranza, provincial secretary and the Rev. Ricardo Potter, provincial Executive Council member.

BISHOP CLEARED, FREED; MINISTERED IN JAIL

MEXICO CITY — After 73 days in a state prison in Acapulco, the Rt. Rev. Jose G. Saucedo, bishop of the Episcopal Diocese of Central and South Mexico, was released by the judge in charge of the case.

In a brief note, the judge ordered "the immediate and absolute freedom" of the bishop in a ruling that appears to exonerate him completely of any wrongdoing.

Saucedo was accused by John P. Black, a deposed American priest, of holding property which Black claimed as his own. In fact, the property was purchased with a church loan which was paid off by the income of the parish.

The bishop was arrested on Sept. 20 in front of his home in Mexico City and taken to Acapulco where the suit was filed. He was released on Dec. 2, three days before his 59th birthday. "The fellowship I enjoyed was such that I wanted to stay one day longer to say goodbye to all my new prison companions who have become real friends," Saucedo said, "but the law required that I leave immediately."

Commenting on his time in prison, he said that it was "very positive" and it "will be recorded in my heart for the rest of my life."

He arrived at the penitentiary in clerical dress which soon was changed to a uniform. "I observed all the internal rules and regulations. I got up at 5 a.m., swept floors, I cut grass and did all the things that inmates were supposed to do," said Saucedo with a sense of pride.

He claims his ministry in prison was the most "rewarding" experience of the whole ordeal. "I celebrated the Holy Eucharist regularly, I gave a great number of talks and spent many, many hours in counseling," the Bishop recalled.

He says that the fellowship in prison is something that must be experienced in order to be understood. "When I first arrived, my companions provided me with a toiletries and even an old blanket for my cement bed," he reports.

"On Thursday and Sundays many members of the Church and family came to see me. That was always a source of strength. I am most grateful to all the people around the world who sent letters, cards and telegrams. I felt very much part of the whole Anglican Communion," he said.

"I had no privileges and I believe that this was an important factor in gaining the respect and esteem of my new acquired friends," he said. He reported that at night during prayer meetings many family concerns were brought up. The prayers for prisoners and captives in the Prayer Book were repeated in unison. "I never thought much of that prayer until now," he said.

With a sense of humor, Saucedo recalled that he lost two of his acolytes when they were set free.

Saucedo is married to the former Juanita Ray Griffith, an American whom he met while studying at Virginia Theological Seminary in Alexandria, Va. They have four children.

Saucedo was consecrated Bishop of Mexico in 1959. In 1972 the country was divided into three dioceses. One of his brothers, Melchor, has just retired as Bishop of the western diocese.

In summing up Saucedo said: "I can say one thing: that my faith has become stronger, my ministry has been strengthened, my friends have proven to be loyal, and I have received more than I have given. I have seen Christ in a very real way. To my brothers and sisters of the Church my eternal gratitude, to my prison mates God's blessings."

CHURCHES PROTEST PLAN

Efforts by the South African government to force about 2,000 blacks of the Bakwena tribe to leave a community where their people have lived for many years has prompted vigorous church protest.

The Rt. Rev. Desmond Tutu, general secretary of the South African Council of Churches, and representatives from most of South Africa's other mainline churches, led prayer vigils in Magopa, a community about 125 kilometers west of Johannesburg.

The government wants the Magopa blacks to go to Pachsdraai, about 100 kilometers away, an area which is to be incorporated into one of the black "homelands," which South Africa has declared, or expects to declare, independent. The government's plan allots 13 percent of the country's land to 21 million blacks, with the remainder reserved for five million whites and 3.5 million people classified as Asian or mixed race.

In a message to Bishop Tutu, World Council of Churches general secretary Philip Potter said, "We have learned with deep dismay of the plan to evict 300 families. . . and resettle them in one of the so-called 'homelands'. . . If carried out, this move will not only entail great hardships for innocent people, but will further demonstrate the continued disregard by the South African authorities for human dignity, justice, and peace in the region. . ."

The Magopa people have built houses, schools, roads, and dams. At Pachsdraai, there are tin huts to live in and no taps or land cleared for farming.

HAWAII'S RELIGIOUS LEADERS PRESENT URGENT HUMAN SERVICES APPEAL TO GOVERNOR AND LEGISLATURE

The leaders of ten major religious groups in Hawaii have issued a statement urging the Ariyoshi administration and the Legislature to restore $8 million to the 1984-85 budget for badly needed human services assistance.

Both Christian and non-Christian faiths are represented in this joint statement. The fact that this is one of the few times that Hawaii's religious leaders have joined together in one statement attests to the importance of this "pastoral" appeal for the survival and delivery of human services in Hawaii.

The statement, citing the importance of public support for the needy through private, non-profit agencies, reads as follows:

"Recognizing that many of the social agencies offering services to needy persons in Hawaii were begun under religious auspices, we reaffirm the responsibility of the religious community to express its faith through service to all people but especially to those most in need. And, at the same time that we recommit ourselves to serving those in need, we contend that human services are a public responsibility and that it is government's role to assure that this public responsibility is carried out.

"We are aware that the State of Hawaii is the major provider of human services, directly and through contracts with private non-profit organizations, and have been informed that because of limited State revenues and constitutional requirements for a balanced budget many items may not be funded. However, essential human services to those most in need in our State should be the highest priority of our community and the State budget must reflect this priority. Agencies serving the elderly, mentally ill, families and children at risk, victims of violence, handicapped and immigrants have already experienced Federal and State cuts. Private non-profit human service organizations and the people they serve cannot survive any further cuts in funding.

"We urge the Administration and the Legislature to continue the funding of these services through grants-in-aid in the short term. In the long term in order to integrate these services within the total budgetary process and assure services will be provided to all in need, we urge setting up a process whereby public and voluntary service organizations work together to prioritize, plan and coordinate responsibilities.

"This potential crisis among Hawaii's poor and needy must be averted at all costs, and those of us who have been charged with religious leadership roles commit ourselves to work toward a better understanding of the importance of this issue."

The statement is signed by The Rt. Rev. Edmond Browning, Bishop, Episcopal Church in Hawaii; The Rt. Rev. Joseph A. Ferrario, Bishop, Catholic Diocese of Honolulu; The Rev. David Harada, District Superintendent, United Methodist Church in Hawaii; The Rev. Teruo Kawata, Conference Minister, Hawaii Conference, United Church of Christ; The Rev. Dan Kong, Executive Director, Hawaii Baptist Convention; The Rev. Herbert Schaan, President, Lutheran Council of Hawaii; Major Mervyn Morelock, Divisional Commander, Salvation Army in Hawaii; Bishop Yoshiaki Fujitani, Honpa Hongwanji Mission; Rabbi Arnold Magid, Temple Emanu-El; Elder Shigenobu Arakaki, Hawaiian Mission, Seventh Day Adventists; and Patricia Mumford, Acting Director, Hawaii Council of Churches.

Subsequent to issuing the statement, several of the signatories met with Governor Ariyoshi to formally discuss this appeal from the standpoint of the Governor's supplemental budget.

PROGRAMS FOR LENT

The usual Wednesday 10 AM Healing Eucharist and the 12:30 soup and salad lunch ($2.00) will continue. In addition, Canon Hoy's Lenten classes will be held (see separate article).

Dean Knight expressed his intended desire that the cathedral reach out to more Episcopalians and all others who work downtown. He hopes that many will wish to partake of the excellent Christian messages that will be available.

The Rev. Trevor Hoy, Pastoral Assistant, will lead two series of six weekly sessions during Lent on the subject of death and dying.

Entitled "Where death is your power to hurt?" (I Cor. 15:55), the course will draw on Canon Hoy's work over the past 7 years with the Hospice Movement.

Open to members of all congregations, the course will explore effective care of the dying, redemptive preparation for death and the victorious Gospel of Holy Week.

The Sunday series begins March 11th in the Dean's Office and will be held from 11:30 A.M. to 12:30 P.M. The Wednesday sessions (which repeat the Sunday curriculum) begin March 14th in the Von Holt room at the Cathedral and will be held from 10:45 A.M. to noon.

Further details are outlined below:

FACING OUR OWN DYING

This course will draw on Canon Hoy's work with the Hospice of Marin, as its Chaplain and Training Coordinator. It is hoped that, as much as possible, participants will attend regularly. Handouts will be provided and, when appropriate, video-tapes shown. Members of other congregations are cordially invited.

The Flynnns have a 3 bedroom, 2 bath, 2 car home with pool, patio, bar-b-que, TV and stereo, microwave in the kitchen and full laundry. Their pets will be fed by neighbors.

The Flynn family is made up of The Reverend, his wife, Sue, and three sons, ages 8, 15 and 17.

Burbank is very close to many of the Olympic events. The Flynnns may also be contacted by telephone at home at 818/848-0622.

Hoa Koku Hospice Volunteers is one of the several beneficiaries of our Episcopal Venture In Mission (VIM) activity and is also funded by individual churches and memorial gifts. Prospective donors are urged to contact the Hoa Koku office at 845-1727.

A summary of major achievements for 1983 were also announced by Mrs. Ward.

At the beginning of the year there were 34 volunteers caring for 8 patients. By the end of 1983, there were 99 volunteers assisting 31 patients and their families. 20 of these trained volunteers are young adults. 46 patients and their families received assistance in 1983, by the volunteers who contributed in excess of 5,277 hours.

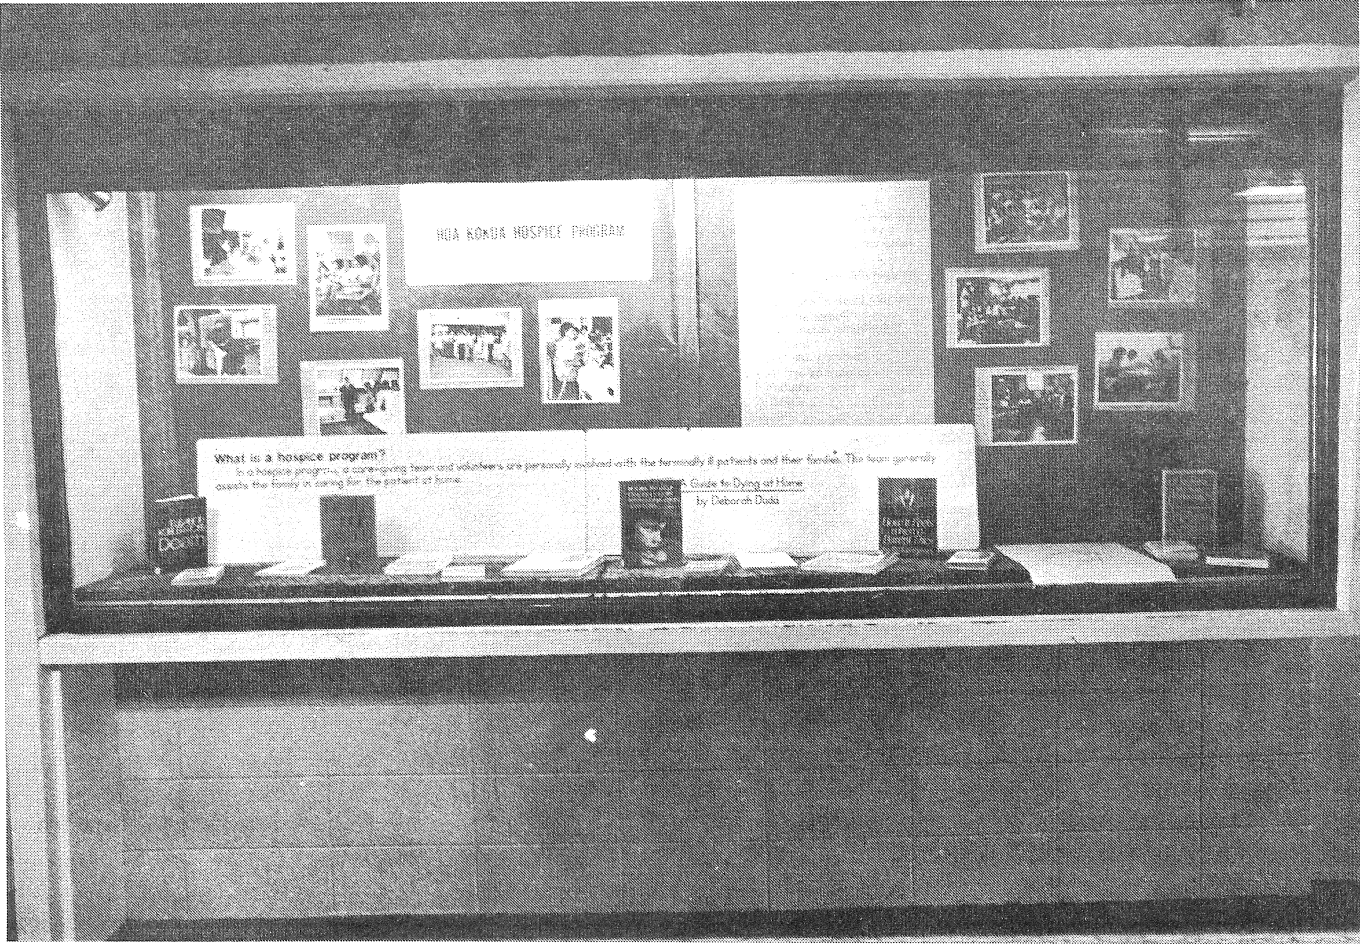

The officers, directors and Mrs. Ward (wife of Rev. Richard P. Ward—St. Andrew's) hope that many Hawaii citizens will take advantage of these excellent up-coming training programs.
